

SLAYS FIANCEE 'FOR LOVE'; NEAR DEATH IN JAIL

Youth Who Delivered Body of Girl to Police After Stabbing May Die.

By United Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 11.—A youth who stabbed his fiancée to death "because he loved her," Wednesday, made a spectacular attempt to join her in death by dashing his head on a tile floor in the police station, and today his condition was reported as dangerous.

Glenn Jenkins, 20, was the $30 a month waiter who took the life of Miss Marie Young, 21, because of his intense love for her and probably because of his disappointment at not being financially able to marry her. The two had planned to marry Aug. 15, but the nuptials were postponed because of lack of funds.

Expected to Die

Doctors held little hope for Jenkins as he had fractured his skull in leaping from a second tier of cells, eighteen feet to a tile floor below. This was his second attempt at suicide for just prior to entering the police station Wednesday to tell them the dead body of his sweetheart was in his automobile, he swallowed some iodine. But the poison was not effective.

Before his second attempt at suicide, police officers gathered part of the story of the tragedy from Jenkins.

Jenkins told of making a date with Marie, whom he had known for more than a year. Then he went to a dime store and purchased a "butcher" knife with which he planned to stab her to death. On his way to see Marie the night before he bought iodine and a half pint of corn whiskey.

"Whisky always makes me crazy and I wanted to be crazy when I saw Marie," Jenkins said.

Planned Death Scenes

Half drunk, he met her and they went for the fatal ride. After driving for some distance, he plunged the knife into her abdomen. She cried out, urging him to take her to a doctor and asking him why he did not kill himself also. He stabbed her several times, the last time just above the heart as he neared the police station where he gave himself up.

In questioning the youth today, police learned the two had rehearsed murder scenes, which were suggested by the girl.

"She always wanted me to kill her and then kill myself," the love-slayer said. "About two months ago we saw a movie in which a girl died of poison. Marie said she would not want to die that way. She said she would rather be choked to death, and at times we would play around the house and I would choke her, just in fun and she would tell me she would not mind that way."

GIRL DREAMS BURGLAR; POLICE RUSH TO HELP

"Victim" Seized by Foot; Search
Reveals Nothing.

Police Lieut. Ralph Dean is going to buy a book on the psychology of dreams.

For in the course of other police duties Wednesday night, Lieutenant Dean was called upon to rout a dream burglar.

The dream burglar entered the room of Miss Clarice Overstreet, 3301 E. Twenty-fifth St. He seized her foot. She screamed. Others in the house awoke and rushed to her aid. They called police.

Lieutenant Dean and his emergency squad sped to the scene. With drawn revolvers they posted themselves to seize the desperate criminal.

"Where's the burglar?" asked Dean.

"Why he was here," said Miss Overstreet.

The windows in the room were closed. There was no way anyone might have entered. Dean realized he needed a dream book.

"Yes, it must have been a dream," admitted Miss Overstreet.

LESLIE DUMPS 'DEADWEIGHTS'

Blames Both Parties for
'Stephensonism.'

By Times Special
HUNTINGTON, Ind., Oct. 11.—Continuing his effort to unload deadweights which have impeded his candidacy, Harry C. Leslie, Republican nominee for Governor, in an address here Wednesday night, blamed Democrats as well as Republicans for the "bipartisan Stephensonism" which showed itself in the 1925 general assembly.

"It was back of the Board of Education bill which I refused to hand down for passage in 1927," he said. "It was behind the attack on the State highway department and sought to put that department into politics. It was the thing I denounced as speaker in 1925 when I drove its agents out of the House of Representatives."

It was D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku-Klux Klan, who went to Dayton, O., rounded up the fifteen Democratic State senators whose departure stopped the legislature and blocked important legislation and induced them to return, Leslie declared.

The Republican nominee's speech boded ill for Stephenson's chances of obtaining release from Indiana State prison by pardon, if Leslie is elected.

"If I have anything to say about it," Leslie declared, "and I believe I will, Stephenson will stay where he now is for the duration of his sentence."

The pamphlets, which Mrs. Tripp estimated reached a total of 50,000 high school students in the two States, were written by Norwood W. Brockett, publicity man for the Puget Sound Power and Light Company of Seattle, Mrs. Tripp admitted, though she was given as author on the cover of the pamphlet.

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

By JANICE RANDALL

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 11.—A grave in Six-Mile cemetery near here today holds the body of a man believed to be Herman Steele, Newport, Ky., who, with Dewey Colvin, also a Kentuckian, was slain on the National Rd. a short distance from here a week ago by Newman Guy, former Sullivan County sheriff.

The double slaying resulted when the men slain and another who fled tried to steal Guy's auto and force him to accompany them in transporting alcohol. A car the three had used was put out of commission when its gears were stripped. It is unclaimed in a local garage.

WORLD-WIDE CHURCH UNITY DRIVE URGED

Report to Episcopal Parley
Stresses Desirability of Union.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Renewed efforts toward world-wide unification of all Christian churches were urged in the Episcopal joint commission on faith and order report presented to the house of deputies at the general convention here, it was revealed today. The report urges that churches continue to operate as individual units but agree on a basic principle of general belief.

The report was sponsored by Bishop Brent of western New York, who presided at the Lausanne world conference a year ago.

The commission recommended the 100 different churches, which participated in the conference, be notified that the Episcopal church believes in the continuance of efforts to establish Christian unity and report police and Federal agents who did not have a search warrant. The raiders asserted they had seen the prohibition law violated, and Judge Pro Tem Charles Karabell ruled the search was legal.

Sara Richardson, an employee at the restaurant, also was fined $100.

Tennesseans Held at Muncie With Liquor
for Kinsman.

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 11.—Liquor from "down in Tennessee" being brought here by E. L. and Nelson Hammond as a gift to a brother they intended to visit has caused them trouble.

Patrolman Wiley West and State Policeman Sharp were standing on a corner at peace with the world when the Hammonds in an auto paid no attention to a traffic stop sign.

The officers approached to repudiate them, but the Hammonds sped away. Shots were fired to frighten them, but they only went faster. As they sped, they tried to empty a jar of what police say is "mountain dew," but an ounce of it remained when the officers finally caught the brothers in a traffic jam. They are awaiting trial on charges of violating the dry law.

HOPE TO SAVE HICKMAN GIVEN UP BY FATHER

Believes Son Will Hang, but Still Thinks Young Killer
Is Insane.

By United Press

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 11.—Thomas Hickman, father of William Edward Hickman, has abandoned hope that his son might be saved from execution for the murder of Marion Parker in Los Angeles and will make no appeal for clemency to Governor C. C. Young of California.

"I believe my son will hang," said Hickman today. "Any attempt I might make before Governor Young would be futile. Because of the political nature of his position and the nearing election he could not take action to commute the sentence."

Hickman, employed at the El Paso railroad yards, still believes his son is insane, as pleaded unsuccessfully at the youth's trial.

"It is just as great a sin for a State to snuff out a life as it is for a human being to kill another," he said. "California will be as much a murderer as my boy."
