

Kiep, during a press interview, was asked by the United Press whether the Graf Zeppelin was carrying any liquor.

"Such supplies as were available on board the airship," he replied, "will presumably have been consumed during the flight owing to the warm weather."

Sends Congratulations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Coolidge sent the following congratulatory message to President Von Hindenberg at Berlin on the flight of the Graf Zeppelin:

"I wish to congratulate you upon the splendid achievement of your compatriots in accomplishing the voyage from Germany to the United States on the Graf Zeppelin."

"This flight has filled the American people with admiration and has marked another step in the progress of the development of air communication."

Coolidge received the following radio message today from Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin:

"At the moment of reaching the American coast I am on this diversified and very interesting detail of the crossing of the Atlantic ocean by airship with passengers and mail from Germany to America, in which we have had as comrade and experienced friend, Lieutenant-Commander Rosenthal of the United States navy, the commander and crew of the Graf Zeppelin beg to extend to the President of the United States their most respectful greetings."

Replying President Coolidge said:

"It gives me great pleasure to congratulate you upon the success of your voyage from Germany and to assure you that your arrival is welcomed as a symbol of the advance in air transportation which has been so ably furthered by your own efforts and those of your compatriots. I wish also to thank you for the message of greeting from you and the crew of the Graf Zeppelin upon crossing the coast line of the United States in this first trip by airship with passengers and mail from Germany to this country."

TONG WARS FEARED AFTER CHINESE KILLINGS

TRUCE OF 18 MONTHS BROKEN OVER COUNTRY

One Dead, Two Injured in Chicago; Couple Killed in Washington.

TROUBLE IN PITTSBURGH

New York Keeps Careful Watch Over Oriental Section of City.

By United Press

Careful watch was kept at various Chinese centers throughout the nation today against tong outbreaks following murders in four cities and disturbances in others.

Chatham Square, the center of the New York Chinese district, was patrolled by special squads, while Doyers street—the traditional lane for the Hip Sing and On Leong tongmen—was quiet and deserted.

One Chinaman was shot in New York. Wong Chun, a Hip Sing, was killed by a man whom police claim they know. Wong Chun was shot dead, police said, while playing Mah Jongg in a Chinese restaurant.

But rumors of tong difficulties in other cities led to the belief that more than gambling was behind the shooting.

In Chicago, one Chinaman was dead, another was shot through the neck, and two other persons were slightly hurt here today.

Slayings in Chicago

Within a few hours after reports reached Chicago on warfare between the two Tongs in eastern cities, guns began to blaze in Chicago's south side Chinatown.

The first victim was Sax Pax, believed to be a member of the Tip Sing Tong.

Pax was leaving a new Chinese opera house, in the center of the Chinese district, when three Chinese opened fire on him from a taxicab. He died shortly after being taken to a hospital.

Early today and only two hours after the Pax killing, the second outbreak occurred. Willie Cook, believed to be a member of the On Leong Tong, was shot through the neck by two Chinese who entered the kitchen of a restaurant owned by Cook and "Chinese Lee."

With Cook in the kitchen were Vernon Yew, a Negro chef, and Bernice Osborn, a Negro waitress.

One of the eight shots fired into the kitchen struck the waitress in the arm. Another grazed the arm of the chef.

Two Chinese are dead and two are wounded in Washington as the result of renewed Tong warfare.

Peace of 18 Months

Twelve Chinese were in a store three blocks from the capitol preparing to partake of evening rice when four men pushed guns through windows and doors and began firing.

Lee Gan Yee, 43, was killed instantly; Lee Sue, 35, was so badly wounded he died a few hours later in a hospital. The wounded are Leo Yew, 53, and Lee Fung, 52.

The dead and wounded were members of the Hip Sing tong, police said. The tongs have been at peace here for eighteen months.

Pittsburgh police maintained particular vigilance after tong difficulties were reported there.

One Chinese was killed in Philadelphia.

JURY, REMY CONFER ON CRIME INQUIRY

Developments Expected Soon in Probe of Store Blast.

Developments in the Marion county grand jury's investigation of the blast that wrecked the Edward Traugott Company store Aug. 26, and the robbery at the Broadmoor Country Club, May 30, were awaited today at the courthouse.

The jury was in conference during the morning with Prosecutor William H. Remy and Deputy Prosecutor William H. Sheaffer.

Remy interviewed several police men in connection with the general crime situation that has been brought to light since the investigation of the store explosion was started.

Steve Looks Well

Gilliom fired his questions from the end of a long table in a barred room in the administration building. Stephenson came in carrying his cap in hand and warmly greeted those about the table.

He was looking well. Silver-rimmed spectacles framed his eyes. Throughout the questioning he munched bananas, plums and apples given him by newspaper men. He failed to display any of his old-time obstinacy and talked freely.

Stephenson traced his connection with the Klan from the time he joined it at Evansville in September, 1921, until his "resignation," Sept. 28, 1923.

Wealth for Wizard

"The Klan," Stephenson said, "has taken about twenty million dollars out of Pennsylvania to my knowledge and half of everything collected went to Evansville."

He owns the Klan, hires the officers and appoints the grand dragons and they in turn elect him," Stephenson said.

Stephenson charged Evans with plotting the murder of Captain William S. Coburn, state fire marshal, as special investigator, at best of Withrow and his brother, Park county sheriff.

Hearns, Says Gilliom

Gilliom commented, "that would be hearsay," when Stephenson said the information came to him from sources he thought were reliable.

Stephenson said that Joseph Hulington, now Klan grand dragon, and a police officer were responsible for acts of violence in Evansville in 1922.

The session adjourned at 11:45 and reconvened at 1:30 p. m.

Although it was the prison lunch hour, Stephenson said he had eaten so much fruit during the morning that he didn't care for the prison lunch, and remained in the questioning room.

BLAINE BACKS SMITH; TAKES RAP AT HOOVER

Democratic Nominee Fearless, G. O. P. Senator of Wisconsin Says.

By United Press

BOSCOBEL, Wis., Oct. 15.—Unqualified support of Governor Alfred E. Smith for President was announced here today by United States Senator John J. Blaine, a member of the La Follette Progressive wing of the Republican party in Wisconsin.

Senator Blaine, who was a delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention in Kansas City, where his colleague, Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr., presented a minority platform, had intimated during his campaign for election as delegate that he might support the New York Governor if the Republican choice was not to his liking.

Blaine asserted the Democratic nominee has spoken plainly, fearlessly and courageously during his western trip, has challenged corruption in high places, has defied privileges in any form and has thrown to the winds every consideration of political expediency.

Bandit Gang Is Hunted Near Niagara Falls

By United Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 15.—An intensive search was being carried on today along the international border line for four bandits who last midnight shot a city policeman and three men guarding a shipment of first-class mail being transferred by taxicab from the Lackawanna depot to the New York Central Railroad station here.

An investigation today by police revealed that the eight sacks taken by the bandits contained first class mail only. It was first believed to be registered mail.

The bandits attacked the guards with machine guns while they were transferring the shipment between depots. The value of the eight sacks seized has not been determined.

Authorities believed the loss slight. The men shot were Vincent Connors, 27, motorcycle policeman, who received five wounds; Ward McCartney, 32, of Elkhart, Ind., mail clerk; Francis Bilber, 25, Buffalo, mail porter, and Charles Kavanaugh, railroad detective.

Arnold J. Kohl, driver of the taxicab which was transporting the mail, escaped.

A traffic stop light halted the cab. The bandit machine drew abreast and fired a volley of machine gun bullets. Connors, who was in the vicinity, heard the shooting and approached. He fell, wounded, and the gunmen fired on him as he lay prostrate.

GUARD BALLOT WAR WITNESSES AS TRIAL OPENS

Sixteen Face Chicago Judge for Violence at Polls in Last Primary.

By United Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Scores of prosecution witnesses were under heavy guard here today as the trial of sixteen men charged with causing election day violence opened.

The sixteen men, all henchmen of Morris Eller and his son, Judge Emanuel Eller, bosses of the Twentieth ward, are charged with intimidating voters on primary day last spring.

The Ellers also are under indictment on the same charges, but have secured separate trials.

Morris Eller was a candidate for nomination as ward committeeman in the primary last spring. His opponent was Octavius Granady, a Negro.

On primary day Granady was murdered, election workers were beaten, several other men were shot, and the ward was the scene of one election fight after another through the day.

Frank J. Loesch, special attorney, whose investigation of election crimes resulted in the indictment of the Ellers and their followers, said Sunday that it has been necessary to maintain a heavy guard over all prosecution witnesses for months.

"Today several of the most important witnesses were brought back to Chicago and placed in seclusion," Loesch said. "We were forced to take them 500, 600 and 700 hundred miles from Chicago to keep them under constant guard."

"Those witnesses had been threatened with murder if they testified."

"Every conceivable means of intimidation was used to frighten those witnesses. We had to spend a considerable sum of money in protecting them."
