

WHEAT SHOWS HEAVY TONE; TREND LOWER

Increasing Arrivals of New
Crop Sends Corn
Down.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Wheat resumed its heavy tone on the Board of Trade today when the Liverpool market showed considerable weakness. Increasing new crop arrivals sent corn lower. Cows were steady. At the opening wheat was $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ lower, corn was off $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ and oats were unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ up. Provisions gained a few cents.

The stubborn action of wheat makes bears cautious about selling short but does not inspire enough confidence to bring in much buying power. A large speculative long interest exists, however, which probably will be liquidated on the bulges. Many traders are out of the market, waiting developments in the news.

Good prices for cash corn have resulted in increased country offerings but there is little danger of volume marketings. Favorable weather is aiding the movement of new corn. Early arrivals are expected to fall largely on old contracts.
