

RESCIND 59TH STREET PLAN; AIDS KESSLER

Park Board Acts on Plea of Democrat Who Owns Land.

Rescinding of resolutions adopted by a former board to improve East Fifty-Ninth street was ordered today by the park board as a preliminary step in the extension of Kessler boulevard from Keystone avenue to Millersville road.

The board acted on the plea of William L. Elder, Democratic real estate dealer, who owns a tract along Fifty-Ninth street.

The park board received the Kessler extension proposal following several conferences between Elder and Mayor L. E. Slack. Slack favors using Fifty-Ninth street, the original route proposed when Kessler boulevard was laid out.

Chairman J. E. Perry estimated it will cost $78,000 to build the boulevard from Keystone to Millersville Masonic temple.

Elder Favors Project

Perry said plans are prepared for the 1.17 miles improvement. The park board also contemplates widening the 1,200 foot strip between Belfontaine and Keystone which was built by Marion county. The eighteen-foot roadway will be widened to thirty feet if the project goes through.

The city owns a 100-foot right-of-way.

Perry said it will cost about $76,000 to construct a boulevard from 30th to 38th street, which will Millersville to the Fall Creek bridge link the boulevard system.

"I would like to see the project started again, right away," said Elder, as he reviewed the history of the boulevard program.

"Two former boards were favorable to the plan but the late administration was unfriendly to the project," Elder said.

It Was Mixed Up

Adolph G. Embardt, park board member, said "the first thing to do is for the board to determine whether we shall go ahead with the project."

"This board has not decided to make Fifty-ninth street a boulevard. We better talk about that instead of how wide it is to be," Embardt said.

John E. Milnor, park board president, favors the Fifty-ninth street route rather than the Sixty-third street plan.

"The thing was mixed up when I came on the board. You couldn't tell what the status was," Milnor declared.

When the board bucked on adopting an improvement resolution, Elder urged, that the former resolutions which have been on the minutes two years, be rescinded and Attorney Edward B. Rau Jr. be instructed to prepare new resolutions.

"I think the board wants to look over this territory before acting," said Michael E. Foley, board member.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT PROBES PROPAGANDA

Pittenger Named on Committee Investigating Textbooks.

L. A. Pittenger, president of the Ball Teachers' college, Muncie, has been appointed a member of the committee to investigate alleged utilities' propaganda in textbooks. The committee, consisting of ten members, was named at Washington by the National Educational Association.

Superintendent Edward C. Broome of the Philadelphia public schools was appointed committee chairman.

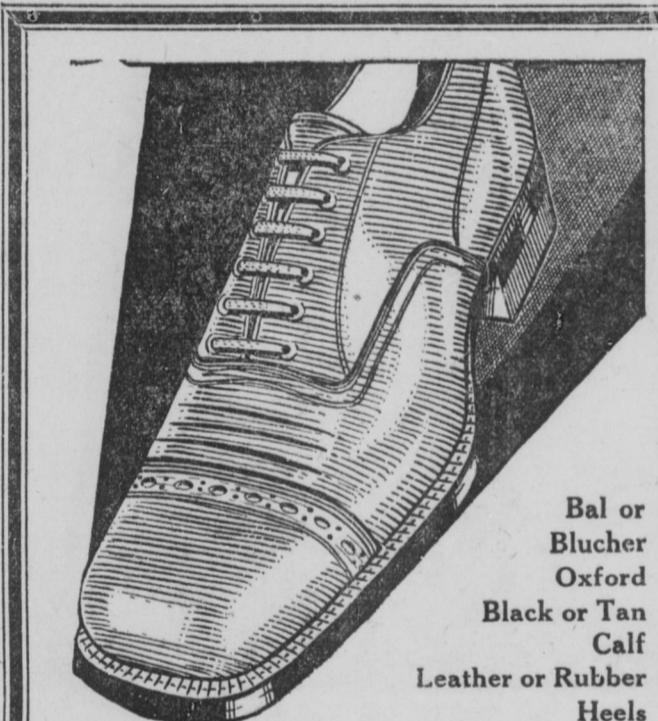

Pittenger, having served in the lower house of the Indiana legislature, may know something of utility propaganda schemes it was pointed out. The charge that textbooks were printing articles under guise was brought about by disclosures made by the federal trade commission investigating the propaganda business of the National Electric Light Association.

She Sniffs 'to Emote'

Movie "emoting" has abandoned the melancholy musical scales with such tear-wringers as "Hearts and Flowers" for the subtle odor of perfume to wrack their stars' faces with walls for departing husbands or lovers.

Phyllis Haver is Hollywood's supreme "emoter" through the seductive smell of violets or what have you to sniff. In screen scenes she uses a heady perfume, in tender parts it's light, sweet scents and for tragedy it's lilies of the valley or lavender.

TEST VALIDITY OF BOXING ACT

Legion Trustees to Sue for Their Money.

Validity of the new city council boxing commission ordinance will be tested by the American Legion safety fund trustees. The trustees promote boxing matches in the Indiana National Guard Armory.

This announcement was made today by Mark Hamer, fund president, who applied for a permit for Tuesday night's fight. Hamer expressed belief that the ordinance is void.

"We prefer to contest its validity, in an orderly manner, through the medium of litigation designed for that purpose rather than to violate its terms," Hamer declared.

Hamer said the match could not conveniently be cancelled and that the legion was liable to prosecution if it was staged without a permit. The license fee, of $10 and 5 per cent tax on gate receipts, will be paid under protest and an attempt made to recover in suit.

Fred W. Connell, safety board president, called an organization meeting of the commission tonight. The measure is effective Saturday.

NINEVEH RUINS TO BE DUG UP

Expeditions Will Study Ancient Cities.

By Science Service

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Ruins of Nineveh, Ur, Kish and other famous centers of Tigris-Euphrates civilization soon will be busy scenes of archeological activity. October weather starts off the archeological season in Iraq, and this year as many as nine expeditions will be digging and exploring in this region east of Palestine.

Ur, the Chaldeans, which last year gave up royal burials of starting pomp and ceremony, again will be visited by the joint expedition of the British museum and the museum of the University of Pennsylvania. This is the expedition's second season at Ur. Oxford university and the field museum also will start their seventh year's joint work at Kish.

Nineveh will be explored further, according to plans by Dr. R. Campbell Thompson, German archeologists will work at sites bordering the Tigris and at the site of Erech, mentioned in Genesis. French scientists will resume pre-war excavations at Tel-O. An expedition from the University of Michigan will seek the lost town of Opis, near Ctesiphon.

A search for oldest inhabitants of the region will be made by Miss Daisy Garrard, leading a joint expedition of the Percy Sladen memorial fund and the American school of prehistoric research. This group will explore deposits along the Iraqi-Persian border, seeking fossil bones of prehistoric men.
