Celebration Is Held on West Washington Street by Merchants.

More than 30,000 people visited the West Washington street business district and inspected the new six-story Old Trails Automobile Insurance Association building Thursday and a like number is expected today.

Officials of the company conducted the visitors, arriving during business hours, through the building.

Making construction of the new building a matter of celebration for the entire neighborhood, members of the West Washington Street Merchants Association have declared the occasion a gala one.

Thousands of souvenirs are given visitors to the section.

Twenty-five thousand slogans have been received in the merchants association contest for a fitting slogan for West Washington street. A Marmon automobile will be awarded the winner.

Because of the rain, the street carnival was held inside of the building. The Newboys' band gave a concert on the fourth floor; and the sixth floor Jack Tilson and his Trail Blazers broadcast a number of Indiana melodies through radio station WKBF.

Following a sales meeting in the afternoon, the agents and their families were guests of the company at dinner Thursday night at the Hotel Lincoln. F. N. Daniel, vice-president and general manager of the company, was toastmaster. Addresses were made by Samuel O. Dungan, president, and Mark V. Rinehart, chairman of the executive committee.

COP COPS BET AND MAN

Shoe Polish Delay Causes Arrest of Race Better.

GLASGOW, Nov. 2.—John Carmichael, wishing to make a bet on the fourth race, sent his 9-year-old daughter to place the bet with a "bookie." The girl offered the money to a policeman in plain clothes.

When Carmichael was brought to court, he said he would have placed the bet, but that he had to stay at home and wash the baby, who had rubbed shoe polish over its face. If he had waited until they baby was washed he would have been to late for the race.

HUGHES PAINTS SMITH AS PERIL TO PROSPERITY

Suspects Al Has 'Delusions of Grandeur,' He Tells Brooklyn Audience.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 2.—Governor Alfred E. Smith's plan for altering the prohibition law would "make matters much worse," Charles Evans Hughes told an audience at the Kismet temple Thursday night in continuing his speeches in behalf of the presidential candidacy of Herbert Hoover.

The former secretary of state said the election of Hoover would bring continued prosperity, while a Smith victory would place the financial career of every one in jeopardy.

"What we need," said Hughes, in discussing prohibition, "is a continued effort to enforce the prohibition law by an administration that accepts its policy."

Hughes devoted a considerable portion of his speech to discussing Hoover's stand on the water power issue and also touched upon the mud slinging in the campaign.

Hughes indicated that he suspected Governor Smith of having "delusions of grandeur."

"Does Governor Smith think that if he were elected he would be the entire government, congress and all?" Hughes said.

"Does he think he is the Democratic party?"
