

PLAY SAFE ON TARIFF ISSUE, URGES HOOVER

Stresses Prosperity Under G. O. P. Rule in Talk at Pueblo, Colo.

By Times Special

PUEBLO, Colo., Nov. 5.—Tariffs and placing their care in proper hands—the Republican party formed the apex of the ten-minute address of Herbert Hoover in this city Saturday night, while on his way to his home in Palo Alto, Calif., to cast his ballot.

Before a crowd of fellow townsmen of Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, Hoover cautioned Coloradans to entrust tariffs to the stabilizing influence of the Republican party and not depend on the erratic efforts of the Democrats.

He termed candidates for congress on the Democratic ticket as pledged to a "competitive" tariff against the "protective" banner under which their Republican opponents are banded.

CITIES PROSPERITY ARGUMENT

He recalled the Underwood tariff of the last Democratic administration and alleged that it aided in crippling Colorado industries as well as others of the nation.

Hoover cited the numerous industries of Colorado and their need for a protective tariff.

From an outline of tariff needs for the nation's products the candidate slipped into a discussion of war and the G. O. P.'s proposal to outlaw strife.

He reminded the enthusiastic crowd that employment had been bettered since the "hunger" days of 1921.

Reduction of the national debt $6,000,000,000 and the dedication of the Republican party to eras of progress and industrial activity were cited by Hoover.

Sends Thanks to Coolidge

During his trip through Kansas the nominee urged every citizen to go to the polls Tuesday.

At Hosiington, Kan., he sent a telegram to President Coolidge thanking him for his message of approbation upon his campaign.

In his address at Hosiington he admitted that every time he opened his mouth his hearers expected him to say "something new," and "I simply haven't got a new speech on my mind."

BAD MOTOR SENDS FLIERS TO DEATH

Collyer and Tucker Killed in Cross-Country Record Attempt.

By United Press

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Motor trouble, which caused the swift monoplane Yankee Doodle to falter while over a rugged section of Arizona Saturday night on an attempt to break the coast-to-coast speed record, was blamed today for the crash which killed Captain C. B. Collyer, round-the-world flier, and Harry Tucker, sportsman and capitalist, who owned the plane.

As it approached Prescott at dusk its motor was sputtering.

Residents of the district near Venerie, fifteen miles to the south, next heard the roar of the Yankee Doodle's engines. Still functioning imperfectly. There was a sudden sound of a terrific impact, then an explosion that echoed up and down the adjacent valleys.

At dawn Sunday searchers found the splintered wreckage of the Yankee Doodle and the shattered bodies of its occupants.

The gasoline tank had exploded, showering portions of the plane over an area 1,000 feet square.

The plane had struck the side of a hill at an altitude of more than 7,500 feet. It had skidded through a growth of trees from the force of the landing and the effect of the explosion.

Open parachutes were attached to the bodies of the two men, indicating they had attempted to jump when they realized their plane would crash. The fact that landing flares had been released showed they had been searching for a landing place.

Monroe-Lawrence County Mills to Be Affected.

By Times Special

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 5.—Steps are being taken for a huge stone mill merger in Monroe and Lawrence counties to include sixteen companies now operating independently. Four companies have already been optioned for the deal, according to reports current here, and engineers are making appraisals desired for the combine.

It is said Lawrence Whiting & Co., Chicago, which effected the $40,000,000 Indiana Limestone Company merger, first major operation of its kind in the two-county field, is arranging for the new combine, which on completion, would place practically every stone mill in the field in a merged company.

Another $40,000,000 combine, completed this year was that of companies known now as the Johnson Stone Company, which has headquarters here.

ATTACKS POWER STANDS

Socialist Speaker Says Parties Are for Capitalists.

Although the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, one of the leading wet organizations, has sent a questionnaire to all congressional candidates, no information on replies will be given until after election.

The Anti-Saloon league is equally silent about making any predictions, although it is known to list 437 of the house candidates as dry and 306 as wet.

According to wet organizations, the majority of those expressing preference for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment or modification of the Volstead act are running as socialists or farm-labor candidates.

The wet and dry fight revolving about Herbert Hoover and Smith is extending into congressional races and is being fought with more than usual intensity, it is said.
