SALE OF MUSIC IS SPURRED BY RADIO ADVENT

Millions Spent in Nation in Year; Even Little Towns
Benefit.

A nation-wide census by government experts shows a big increase in musical interest throughout the country. More than $15,000,000 was spent last year for sheet music and books of music alone. This musical awakening has been attributed largely to radio. The official statement, just issued by the United States census bureau, shows a 10 per cent increase in the sale of sheet music in two years, the public purchases having increased last year $1,322,464 over 1925. Even the number of music publishing houses increased 9 per cent.

Prominent among those who predicted a musical renaissance in America as a result of radio was Reinhard Werrenrath, baritone, who shortly after inaugurating the Atwater Kent series of Sunday night radio concerts, three years ago, declared the musical leadership of the world would pass from Europe to America within the next generation, largely because of radio.

"The Americans people are very appreciative of music," said Frances Alda, soprano of the Metropolitan opera and another introduced to the radio audience in the Sunday night series. "What is more to the point, they have been educated by radio to be satisfied only with the best."

Mabel Garrison, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, also credits radio with increased interest in music. "It is a joy to see how musical appreciation and understanding have grown all over the country," she said, "and what attentive audiences are found in small places where, perhaps, they had never had a song recital before the advent of radio."

"Never before has a nation made such strides in bringing music to the people," declared Edward Johnson, one of the leading tenors with the Metropolitan Opera, "and never before has there been such an imperative desire for the fine things that older civilization and culture have given."

The government report shows that more than a fourth of the music publishing houses are in New York; in Illinois, 18 per cent; Massachusetts, 8 per cent; Pennsylvania, 7 per cent; Missouri, 5 per cent; Ohio, 5 per cent; California, 4 per cent; New Jersey, 2 per cent; Texas, 2 per cent; Connecticut, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan and Nebraska, a fraction less than 1 per cent.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps Her So Much

"I was just completely run-down and I could not eat. I was losing in weight. I read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what a good medicine it is, that I started taking it. I have taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and about the same in tablet form. This is one medicine a woman should have in the house all the time. I am improving every day and I sure am able to eat. I am willing to answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. Ellen Richards, 21 Chautauqua St., N. S. AL SMITH WILL GIVE HIS LAST
RADIO MESSAGE

Nature of Address Kept Secret; Expected to Plead Harmony.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Governor Alfred E. Smith, whose voice became known to millions of radio listeners in the presidential campaign, will go before the microphone again tonight to deliver a parting "message to the American people."

What the "Happy Warrior" will say, now that the political battle of 1928 has passed into history, has been a closely guarded secret. Governor Smith would make no comment beyond the remark that the speech will be extemporaneous. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was equally reticent.

There were rumors, however, that Governor Smith wanted to soften the hard feelings left by the campaign, that he would appeal to the people to forgive and forget the resentments stirred by the religious issue, and that he would make his adieu to the political scene with a wish of "best luck" to President-elect Herbert Hoover in solving the problems of the next four years.

A formal abdication of his leadership of the Democratic party and a plea for party harmony and reorganization all will be part of the speech, it was believed.

The Governor will speak from 8 to 8:30 p. m. eastern time, over the WEAF network, which will include the following stations: East WEAF, WWSH, WGY, WEEL, WTAG, WFI, WRC, WCAY, WTIC, WJAR, WGR; central west, WOW, WEBC, KSD, WWJ, KYW, WCGO, WHAF; south and southwest WHAS, WBT, KPRC, WRVA, WJAX, KKVOO, WFAA, WOAI, WSM, WMC; far west and pacific coast, KSL, KGO, KPO, KFI, KGW, KOMO, KHO.

Governor Smith will leave for an unnamed destination, "somewhere in the south," tomorrow for a vacation of several weeks.

"I am trying to get away from politics," he said. "I've had a lot of it in four months."

Mrs. Smith and other members of his family will remain in New York.

Man Shows Police How He Was Robbed, Sprains Ankle.

Abe Krish should have let well enough alone, police said today.

While showing officers Monday night how a burglar stole Mrs. Krish's purse from a bed post by poking a clothes prop through a window of their apartment, No. 2, at 3035 Rockle street, Krish slipped and sprained his ankle so severely that he was taken to city hospital. The purse contained $14. It was found, empty, in an alley.

COMET EXPERT DIES

Photographer of Planets Succumbs

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—Francis P. Leavenworth, professor emeritus at the University of Minnesota and of the leading astronomers of the country, died here after a lingering illness. Professor Leavenworth was noted for his work in the photography of comets.

William V. Rooker, school board attorney, argued that the tax board is not vested with administrative powers, that while it may tell the school board how much money the school board may have, it can not tell the school board how to spend that money.

Rooker also attacked constitutionality of the act passed in 1919, defining a school corporation as a municipal corporation.
