

Notre Dame Pointed for Clash With Carnegie Tech Eleven at South Bend

Hard Battle Expected by Purdue Team

Phelan Grooms Boiler makers for Tilt With Little Giants.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 14.—Jimmy Phelan's Boiler makers are expecting a hard battle with the Little Giants of Wabash college here Saturday and Purdue gridmen are wasting little time in preparing for the conflict with the Crawfordville eleven.

Woerner, Mackey, Miller and Caraway were bruised in the Northwest-ern game, but are expected to see action in the Saturday battle.

"WABASH ALWAYS FIGHTS!"

Scarlet Determined to Give Purdue Stiff Battle Saturday.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 14.—"Wabash always fights!" The old Little Giant slogan was aired on the campus here today as Pete Vaughan put his Wabash grid squad through another hard workout in preparation for Saturday's game with Purdue at Lafayette.

The Scarlet warriors are determined to put up a battle against the strong Purdue outfit and heavy scrimmage drills are the main portion of this week's work.

ELKHART IS STRONG

Six Games Won and One Tie—Play Michigan City.

ELKHART, Ind., Nov. 14.—With six games won and one tie, the strong Elkhart high school football squad goes to Michigan City Saturday to meet the highly touted eleven of that town.

Royden Kelley, star local center, will be back in action Saturday. He had been on the sidelines two weeks with a broken nose.

'Football, Baseball Do Not Mix'

BY BILLY EVANS

FOOTBALL and baseball do not mix. The legs and arms, most essential to success on the diamond, are forced to undergo the acid test in football and it is a decided exception when a football performer, after two or three years of college play, emerges from his experience without leg or arm injuries.

My advice to the college baseball star with big league ambitions is to confine his athletic activities to baseball. Shun the football field even though you are a most efficient gridiron performer if you expect to make the big league grade.

Actual Examples

Within the past year, as the head of the Cleveland club, there has come under my observation several happenings that have convinced me firmly that football and baseball have nothing in common. These cases had to do with the Cleveland club directly.

For several years Cleveland has been interested in a player from one of the smaller southern institutions. Cleveland scouts felt he had the makings of a sure enough big leaguer. This particular player had a remarkable throwing arm.

Killed His Chances

One year ago, about this time, he suffered a football injury to his shoulder but the old college spirit kept him in the game when he realized should have been on the sidelines.

During the past summer, playing on a team representing one of the big cotton mills of the south, he had his troubles winning a regular berth and before the season was over was forced to quit the game.

As a result, the Cleveland club has lost interest in the player and his chance for a big league trial has seemingly vanished.

Another Accident

Another player suffered a knee injury. He was a most promising pitcher but the ailing knee kept him from striding properly and robbed him of much of his speed. Last season he was just an ordinary performer in the college ranks due to the injury.

If you play college baseball merely for the fun of it, then combining it with football means nothing in your young life.

However, any collegian who has designs on major league baseball should put the soft pedal on his football activities. At least that is my advice and I speak from long observation.

Irish, in Good Shape, Set to Smear Grid Title Hopes.

S. R. O. SIGN GOES UP

Large Crowd to Witness Saturday Battle.

By Times Special

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 14.—Head Coach Knute K. Rockne is sending his University of Notre Dame grid squad through stiff workouts here against Carnegie Tech plays as exhibited by the freshman squad.

One of the largest crowds in South Bend history will witness the Carnegie-Irish fray here Saturday. Every available ticket has been sold and standing room will be at a premium.

The Irish are determined to upset Tech's hopes for national championship laurels in payment for the surprise 19-10 defeat of 1926.

Notre Dame came out of the hard Army game in good shape, and with the exception of Jack Chevigny, the squad is in tiptop form.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 14.—Shades of Red Grange and that Illinois-Michigan game a few years ago when Grange went on that famous touchdown rampage!

In a game here recently between freshmen of Citadel and Presbyterian college, "Red" Whittington, a Citadel back, handled the ball ten times and gained 420 yards, eight of his attempts going for touchdowns. He is from Savannah, Ga.

The first touchdown of the game was the result of a pass and fifty-five-yard run by Whittington.

His other nine plays of the game resulted like this:

Second, touchdown after sixty-five-yard run from scrimmage.

Third, touchdown after seventy-yard run from scrimmage.

Fourth, touchdown after thirty-yard run after catching a pass.

Fifth, touchdown after thirty-five-yard run from scrimmage.

Sixth, touchdown after forty-yard run after catching a pass.

Seventh, touchdown after fifty-yard run from scrimmage.

Eighth, touchdown after forty-five-yard run from scrimmage.

Ninth, fifteen yards.

Tenth, fifteen yards.

Butler Gets in Trim for Quaker Fray

Bulldog Mentors Fear Passing Attack of Speedy Earlham Eleven.

Head Coach George (Potsy) Clark is succeeding in knocking some of the overconfidence out of his Butler Bulldogs, who are preparing for their tilt with Earlham here Saturday at the Blue bowl.

Earlham plays, used by the freshman squad Tuesday, worked havoc with the Bulldog line and Clark settled down to perfect a defense to stop the fast-moving Quaker squad.

The Quakers' best ground-gaining attack is an overhead barrage and the Bulldogs are lining up a stiff secondary defense to prevent the Richmond team from "running wild" with passes.

CLUB TO HEAR EXPERT

Aviation Will Be Discussed at Meeting of Shrine Caravan.

H. Weir Cook, aviation experts, will speak on "Recent Developments in Aviation" at the Thursday noon luncheon of the Murat Shrine Caravan Club at the Murat Temple.

The session will start promptly at noon because of the lengthy program, according to Dr. C. E. Cox, president.

Vincent Hays, a Butler university student, will sing several numbers, and a local orchestra will play.

NEW APARTMENT O. K. D

Start Work on $200,000 Structure Jan. 1.

Permission to erect a forty-eight-apartment building at 1040 North Meridian street, was granted today to F. R. Buck, by the city plan commission.

Work on the $200,000 structure will begin about Jan. 1.

Buck said the building will include twenty-four three-room apartments and the same number of efficiency apartments with kitchenette and dining alcove.

ARREST EIGHT IN RAIDS

Hold Three Men On Liquor Charges; Nab Four Women.

Three men are held on blind tiger charges and one man and four women on statutory charges as the result of police raids early today and Tuesday night.

Those arrested on blind tiger charges are Ernest LaMarr, 54, of 835 1/2 E. Wayne avenue, where police said they seized a bushel basket of beer; George Cravens, 41, of 205 South Holmes avenue, and Seymour Jones, 57, 436 South Alabama street.

Mrs. Bessie Davis, 409 West Ohio street, was charged with operating a resort and three other women and a man were arrested in a raid at the Ohio street address.
