QUESTION—I have a six-tube Fada set operated by a "B" eliminator and a storage "A" battery, using a 171 power tube and one loudspeaker. Can I use a 171 power tube from a 171 set, and a 171 storage battery from a 171 house current without any change in my set? (2) Would this give better tone and more volume without increasing the 180 volts of the "B" eliminator? (3) Would it increase or diminish static and tube noise? H. J. S.

ANSWER—Yes. (2) Yes. (3) The set itself and not the loud speaker is responsible for the interception of static and amplification of noises. There will be no more noise in reception when a dynamic speaker is used than when a cone is employed unless the set passes it on to the reproducer.

Vaughn de Leath's new song, "Ginger Bread Brigade," will be sung by the Seiberling Singers for the first time in their broadcast Thursday night at 7:30 under direction of Frank Black. The first of a series of talks on "Styles and Fashions" will be presented by Mrs. Helen Stevens Fisher, Montgomery Ward & Co.'s home adviser, in "Farm and Home Hour" Friday at 11 o'clock, from the Chicago studios of the National Broadcasting Company.

The Sonora hour for Thursday night again will feature Ruth Breton, internationally known violinist. Miss Breton, who has appeared as soloist with practically every symphony orchestra of note in the United States, is famed for the tempestuous power of her playing.

In two other numbers, Fritz Kreisler's "Liebesfrönd" and Sarasate's "Romanza Andalusa," she will be assisted by Walter Golde, pianist.

"La Sorella," a Spanish march by Boch, opens the weekly Halsey, Stuart hour to be broadcast through the NBC system Thursday night at 9 o'clock. "La Bitana," by Kreisler, will be heard as a violin solo. The program also includes George Gershwin's "Some One to Watch Over Me," Olcott's "My Wild Irish Rose."

All changes with the last information sent us, although many stations are still sending in their copy with the old wave lengths and still are following the old schedules. Others broadcasting on the same wave have sent in programs for the same times, while others have failed to send in any copy at all.
