

ASKS FACULTY PAY AT I. U. BE INCREASED

President Bryan Makes Plea for Budget of $2,630,172.

By Times Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 16.—Higher salaries must be paid faculty members at Indiana university in order to keep men of ability and to attract instructors of promise. This is the pronouncement of the university president, Dr. William Lowe Bryan, in submitting a $2,630,172 budget for consideration of the 1929 State Legislature.

After reciting the university's needs for payment of salaries, repairs and equipment, Dr. Bryan declares:

"But far more vital and the supreme essential is money to hold the best of our older and younger men and to bring other men into the institution. We are by no means proposing a wholesale and indiscriminate increase of salaries. Nothing of the kind. We are saying that the best in not too good for Indiana. We are saying that to get and hold the best we are in direct competition with surrounding states and like every other business, must pay the price against that competition. "We are prepared to show that in the number of distinguished men of science, Indiana is far behind other states of the northwest, though not in this respect down to the level of the less progressive states. It may be noted here that about one-half of these distinguished men of science in the state of Indiana are now at Indiana university, but only one of them is under fifty years of age. Unless the state of Indiana takes a great step forward, the time is not far away when this state will join the states whose humiliating distinction it is not to have within their borders a single scholar of national distinction."

APPEAL JUDGE'S EDICT

Seek Murdered Man's Insurance for His Child.

By Times Special
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Joseph Leonardo, counsel for Mrs. Josephine Brown, whose daughter, Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, died in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison for the murder of her husband, Albert Snyder, announced today that he would appeal the decision of Justice Mahoney of the supreme court, voiding the insurance policies of $95,000 on the life of Snyder.

Justice Mahoney outlawed the policies on the ground that Snyder had never known about them and was not a party to their issuance. Leonardo, in announcing his intention to appeal, said that Lorraine Snyder, daughter of the murdered man, was the beneficiary and that he believed the higher courts would uphold the child's right to the money.

'RECEIVER' MAY BE ASKED FOR REFORMATORY

Former Teacher Threatens to Seek Court Order
Ousting Present Warden.

Clarence N. Dugan, former teacher in Indiana state reformatory at Pendleton, today threatened to file a petition in Madison circuit court at Anderson for an order restraining Superintendent A. E. Miles and the present trustees of the prison from further exercising control.

Dugan also declared he intended to ask the court to direct Governor Ed Jackson to name a temporary superintendent and board to operate the institution, as a sort of receivership pending real investigation of his charges that Miles and the board have condoned brutal treatment of prisoners and employment of persons not of good moral character in posts of responsibility in the reformatory.

Charges Brutal Treatment

Dugan said the basis for his suit will be his charges of brutal treatment filed with the reformatory trustees and the fact that the trustees refused to give him a hearing thereon as, he says, is specifically provided by law.

The trustees in refusing to give Dugan a hearing and referring the matter to the state charities board, referred to him as "just a discharged employee," Dugan says. Dugan says he was ousted because he refused to be bullied by Captain T. C. Parkes, head of reformatory guards.

"They term me just a discharged employee and infer that I should not be listened to because of that," commented Dugan.

Out to Tell Whole Story

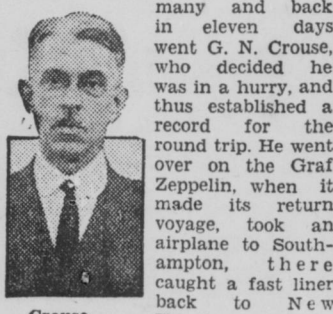

"I'd like to know what I would have been if I had made these charges while I still was an employee. Everyone knows I'd have been a discharged employee in a wink if I had told what I saw with my own eyes and heard with my own ears while I was still on the reformatory pay roll. "My summary dismissal discharged me from the natural loyalty I owed Miles as my superior officer. Now I'm out to tell the whole story and prove it to the first official body I can get to listen to it."

Homesickness, Bad Hotels Brought Embezzler Back

Mishawaka Boy, 17, Who Took $54,000, Didn't Like Havana, Cuba.

By Times Special
MISHAWAKA, Ind., Nov. 16.—Homesickness and the "not so good" hotels of Havana, Cuba, were factors in the return here of James Wennermark, 17-year-old embezzler of $54,000 in checks from the First National bank where he was employed as a messenger.

Wennermark, son of a local minister, has admitted his guilt, and in city court was bound over under $5,000 bond to await action of the St. Joseph county grand jury. He came back here five hours after the return of Albert J. Smith, 14, a neighbor boy he took with him when he fled with the money.

The boys, Wennermark told police, went from her to Cleveland, then to New York, Miami, Fla., and Havana, Cuba, staying in the latter city only a short time, when they returned to Miami and thence to Chicago. From there Wennermark sent the Smith boy home with all but $1,650 of the loot. Wennermark came back the same day.

In a statement to police, Wennermark said:

"I am sure I had never realized what a great mistake I had made until we reached Cuba. There I did not understand the language and the hotels were not so good. Then I began to come to the realization that I had left a good home, and then, too, I wanted to get the Smith boy home so he would not be branded."

The Smith boy has been turned over to juvenile authorities.

During the ten days they were in flight, the boys posed as brothers.

They bought some clothes, a traveling bag and a rifle, the rest of the $1,690 being spent for living and travel expenses.

The continued cackling and quacking of ducks and geese and other poultry is said to indicate rain.
