

Three Big Mid-Western Games in Spotlight

Notre Dame Intent on Wrecking Carnegie's Title Hopes.

PITT PLAYS NEBRASKA

Hawkeyes Battle for Conference Crown.

BY DIXON STEWART
United Press Staff Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Three undefeated and untied football teams will meet strenuous opposition on middlewestern gridirons Saturday in games which may destroy their national championship aspirations.

Iowa, the only Big Ten conference team which has a clean slate, meets the undefeated Wisconsin team, at Iowa City, in a game which probably will decide the 1928 western conference championship. The Badgers, although undefeated, were tied by Purdue.

Corn Huskers Favored
Nebraska, Big Six leader, is a strong favorite to defeat Pittsburgh in the intersectional clash, at Lincoln. The Corn Huskers defeated all of their western foes and by winning from Pittsburgh, Syracuse and the Army in the final three games of their schedule can establish a strong claim to national honors.

Carnegie Tech, rated as one of the east's best elevens, will play Notre Dame at Cartier field. Rockne's team got away to a bad start this season, but apparently hit its stride last week against the Army, and is conceded a good chance of beating Carnegie.

Home Field Angle
The "home field" angle may have much to do with the Notre Dame and Nebraska games. Notre Dame has not been defeated on Cartier field in many seasons. In addition to defending Cartier field tradition, Notre Dame will be seeking revenge for a beating handed them by Carnegie in 1926, which robbed the Irish of a national champion ship.

Iowa has no home field tradition to uphold in its game with Wisconsin, but by winning can assure it self of at least a tie for Big Ten honors. The Hawkeyes are fighting for their first conference championship since 1922, and the Badgers have visions of their first title since 1912.

INDIANA, NORTHWESTERN
END DRILL FOR BATTLE

Last Home Tilt for Crimson Is Big Ten Clash and Dads' Day Feature; Struggle Promised.

By Times Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 16.—Two Big Ten football teams, Indiana and Northwestern, topped off a week of heavy drill here this afternoon in preparation for the game Saturday in Memorial stadium. Coaches Dick Hanley, Northwestern, and Pat Page, Indiana, sent their squads through a light drill today.

The sensational play of Brubaker, recruit Indiana quarter back, against Minnesota, has continued in daily workouts and he appears certain of the signal calling position Saturday. Bennett will start as one of the half backs.

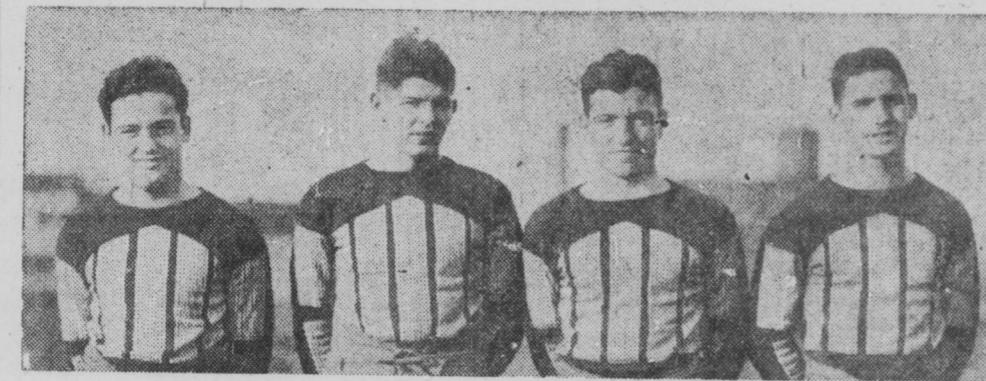

The other half back is uncertain. Baylay may be used, with Hughes at full back. Page might shift Baylay back to full back, where he played last fall, with Ross or Faunce working at half back.

Northwestern's 125-piece band, accompanied by 500 students, are expected to arrive in Bloomington Saturday morning. A special train will bring the crowd.

Saturday will be "Dads' day" at Indiana, and several hundred fathers are expected to attend the contest. The game also has been designated as "Public School day," and grade and high school students are to be admitted on a special rate of 50 cents. They will occupy a special section.

The game will start at 2 o'clock and will mark the final appearance of the Scrapping Hoosier in Memorial stadium this season. Bennett, Briner, Matthew, Moss, Butts, Weaver and Baker will play their last games before a home crowd, while Randolph and Harrel, one of the leading punters in the Big Ten,

To Oppose Cathedral at Ball Park

S. XAVIER high school eleven of Louisville coached by Joe Harmon, former Cathedral and Notre Dame gridirer, will come to Indianapolis Saturday to battle Joe Sexton's blue and gold squad at Washington park. Kick-off time is 2 o'clock.

The Xavier boys are said to have a fine all-round team and Cathedral has put in heavy drills all week. Keen rivalry exists between the teams owing to the fact they have met often in the past and also because Coaches Harmon and Sexton were team mates in high school and college.
