

CITY TEAMS TO RESUME BRIDGE TOURNAMENT PLAY

Colby-Stevens Duo Lead in Interclub Duplicate Auction League.

Play in the inter-club duplicate auction bridge tournament will get under way again Monday, Nov. 26, at the University Club. At that time W. W. Colby and C. C. Stevens, highest pair, with 176 points of a possible 288, will try further to outwit their nearest competitors, Mrs. A. R. Coffin and Mrs. E. Ittenbach, who are only three points behind.

Colby and Stevens represent the Hoosier Athletic Club, while Mrs. Coffin and Mrs. Ittenbach represent the Auction Bridge Studio. W. P. Cleary and M. N. King from the Columbia Club are the third highest pair with 158 points. J. V. Tobin and L. Sagolowsky, also from the Columbia Club, are fourth highest, with 155 points, only three behind Cleary and King.

Started Three Years Ago

Duplicate auction bridge tournaments came into popularity in Indiana three years ago, when, under auspices of the Indiana Whist Association, fourteen teams battled at the Hotel Severn. The following year the Indianapolis Athletic club held an invitational meet for all clubs, to determine the national champions.

Last year the Inter-Club Duplicate Auction Bridge League was organized to determine the champions of Indianapolis. The tournament was won by the Indianapolis Athletic club.

This year nine teams are entered in the tournament, representing the Indianapolis Medical Association, the Auction Bridge Studio, the University Club, Hoosier Athletic Club, Indianapolis Country Club, and two each from the Columbia Club and the Indianapolis Athletic Club. Four games have been played so far and games are on the schedule every two weeks until the twelve games of the present schedule are completed.

Milk Malady Attacks Three

CLINTON, Ind., Nov. 17.—William Brewer and his sons, William and Thomas, have been attacked with milk sickness, a rare malady, according to a local physician. Brewer owns a cow and pastures it near his home. An investigation to determine what the cow had eaten to result in the illness of the family will be made.

BENIAMINO GIGLI, Italian tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who stars in the Atwater Kant radio hour, Sunday night, will sing to his largest audience in his fateful month of November. It was in November that Gigli reached the Italian pinnacle of operatic success, the Scala of Milan, singing "Faust" in "Mefistofele."

In the same role on Nov. 26, 1920, Gigli made his American debut at the Metropolitan. In his broadcast he will sing from opera, "Pure as a Flower," from "Mignon," "Like a Dream," from "Martha," "A Futurist Tear," from "Elisir of Love." Other songs by the great tenor will be "Plaisir d'Amour," "Rimpianto," "La Violette," and a group in English, "Come Love With Me," "If I Gave You a Rose" and "Lullaby."

The Atwater Kant orchestra will open the program with "Coronation March," from "The Prophet." The interlude includes "Minuetto all'Antico," by G. Kargaranoff, and "Chaminade 'Arlequine.'" Closing number will be Grainger's "Country Gardens."

The Oola Kahn Grotto band at WLW in an hour program Saturday morning, Fillmore, celebrated Cincinnati band conductor, will direct night at 7 o'clock. Cincinnati's finest band musicians are included in the Oola Kahn band. Fillmore is considered one of the greatest band masters of his day. He also is the composer of many well-known and often-played marches.

Vice-President Charles G. Dawes, Dr. Henry Baldwin Ward, president of the Isaac Walton League of America, and other nationally known figures will be heard during the broadcast of the Isaac Walton League banquet from the Palmer House, Chicago, through the NBC system, Saturday night at 7 o'clock.

Tschakowsky's suite "Internationale," which includes songs and dances from eight countries, will conclude an interesting program to be presented in the "Come to the Fair" through stations of the Columbia broadcasting system Sunday night at 9:30.

HIGH SPOTS OF SATURDAY NIGHT'S OFFERINGS

8:00—NBC-WJZ Network—Philo hour.

9:00—NBC-WJZ Network—Lucky Strike orchestra.

"Mile. Modiste," a comic opera in two acts, by Victor Herbert, will be produced as the Philco hour feature, with Jessica Dragonette and Colin O'More in the leading roles, through the NBC system, Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

An all-Schubert program in honor of the centennial of the famous composer will be presented Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock through stations of the Columbia broadcasting system. This day marks one hundred years since the death of Schubert, and it is fitting that the symphonic hour pay tribute to a world-famous composer who was not properly recognized during his lifetime.

A selection from Ruggiero Leoncavallo's opera, "Pagliacci," will be played as the opening of the hour of Slumber music to be broadcast through WJZ of the NBC system, Saturday night at 10 o'clock.

Prominent Catholic laymen will speak through station WLW, Sunday night at 9:15 when the Crosley station picks up the National Council of Catholic Men at Music Hall here. William D. Cunningham, New York city, former judge of the United States court of appeals, will be the principal speaker.

Dial Twisters

With this week's release, all stations should be broadcasting on the new allocations assigned them by the federal commission. We have made all changes with the last information sent us, although many stations still are sending in their copy with the old wave lengths and still are following the old schedules. Others broadcasting on the same wave have sent in programs for the same times, while other have failed to send in any copy at all.

These are just some of the difficulties we have had in coming up with this week's release, and we hope that if you discover any errors (which we have tried very hard to avoid), you will overlook them as we think most of the stations will have their troubles straightened out by next week, sufficiently to send in correct information.
