

BITTER BATTLE FORECAST ON BOULDER DAM

Hiram Johnson Will Lead Fight for Measure at Congress Opening.

BY RUTH FINNEY
Times Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Lines are formed for the last great battle for the swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson, arriving from California, definitely has put to rest rumors that his health would not permit him to conduct a vigorous fight. He recovered recently from an attack of grip and is in excellent health.

He has not announced a definite plan of strategy for the opening attack, but says he will exert every effort to have the bill passed as soon as possible. His opponents are equally silent as to what they will do.

The Boulder dam bill will come before the senate the day congress opens. It has a preferred position on the calendar of business. Its best chance of success lies in the opening days of congress and in all probability a strong effort will be made to pass it before the Christmas holidays.

Want to Escape Jam

Only in this way can the bill escape being caught in the legislative jam that always characterizes a short session. Appropriation bills will be laid before the senate within a week or so of the opening, and they have priority over other measures, and occupy a great deal of time.

So far as its contents have been made public, the special engineering report on the project just made to President Coolidge has improved the bill's prospects for passage, it is believed here.

Although an attempt undoubtedly will be made to capitalize the suggestion that the cost will be forty million dollars greater than the estimate of the reclamation bureau, the charge that the dam was not feasible or not safe has been disposed of, and that was the major point of attack last spring.

Has Passed House

The Swing-Johnson bill, somewhat amended, already has passed the house, and may be substituted for the senate bill to expedite passage. If it can be passed in the senate without important modification, the bill might be sent to the President within two months.
It is probable, however, that an he would establish another clinic.

LIGHT ON NEW CANAL

Hoover's Trip to Hasten Nicaragua Project, Says Senator.

By Times Special
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Herbert Hoover's visit to pan-American countries is expected to bring the proposed Nicaraguan canal into the limelight and hasten its approval by congress, according to the view of Senator Tyson of Tennessee and others.

Tyson's colleague, Senator McKel-lar, is author of a bill now pending which provides for the construction of the canal. Another bill by Senator Edge, New Jersey, provides for a survey of the Nicaraguan canal zone.

"I believe that the time has come to give serious thought to the Nicaraguan canal," Senator Tyson said recently.

attempt to defeat the bill by filibustering will begin the day congress convenes. No settlement of differences between the Colorado river states as to water allocations has taken place during the recess of congress.

The bill, too, will meet again the relentless opposition of the power industry.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY MEETS IN DECEMBER

Sidener and Keach Among Speakers at Convention

Merle Sidener, president of Sidener, Van Riper & Keeling, Inc., and L. J. Keach, local wholesale produce dealer, are among speakers who will address the Indiana Horticultural Society at the Lincoln Dec. 6 and 7.
"Getting More Money Out of Apples" will be Sidener's topic. He recently made a tour of the northwest and will deal with a national advertising project for apple-growers. Keach will discuss his experiences in selling the Indiana fruit.

Other speakers will include Professor J. H. Courley, chief of horticulture, Wooster, O.; Leslie Pierce, senior scientific aid, United States bureau of plant industry; Dr. Max Gardner, Professor J. J. Davis and Professor O. G. Anderson of Purdue, and others.
