

BIG MEASURES ARE FED INTO SENATE HOPPER

Workmen's Compensation Law, Building and Loan Act Are Highlights.

Twenty-five minutes sufficed for state senators, returned from the week-end, to transact the senate business of Monday afternoon. After the short session, when nine bills were introduced and a resolution permitting Purdue university to accept federal aid approved, the members of the upper house hurried away to committee meetings where the real business of the day was transacted.

Important measures in the nine-bill quota was one clarifying and making more favorable to workmen the workmen's compensation law, a bill a separate building and loan department, one providing reorganization of the state probate commission and another putting change of venue in civil cases at the discretion of the court.

Senators William H. Hill, Vincennes; C. Oliver Holmes, Gary, and Carl M. Gray, Petersburg, joined in introducing the compensation amendment bill. It is backed by the Indiana Federation of Labor.

Compensation Outlined
Under provisions of the measure a 12.5 per cent compensation penalty will be added to compensation not paid within twenty-five days from the date of injury.

A 300-week compensation must be paid heirs in case of fatality, in addition to the disability preceding death.

A 5 per cent charge can be added to the original compensation by the appellate court when it decides that there has been "frivolous, dilatory and useless appeals" taken from the state industrial board.

"Permanent impairment" during time spent in bed, is collectable as well as permanent disability.

In case of an autopsy, relatives and the industrial board must be notified twenty-four hours in advance.

President T. N. Taylor of this state federation announced that the increase of maximum compensation from $16.50 to $18 a week will not be asked, as at first decided, but his organization will back the present measure which he predicts will pass as a clarifying of the present law.

Building and Loan Bill

Senator Holmes also introduced the bill putting the building and loan business under a separate department. It is now under the state banking commission. The building and loan commissioner would be appointed by the Governor at a salary of $3,600 and have three field examiners and as many clerks as needed. He would be empowered to fix fees for his department's functioning.

Reorganization of the probate department, also a Holmes measure, follows the recommendations of the state board of charities and the committee on delinquency. It would put the director of probate under the commission, rather than have it a Governor's appointment, as at present, and provide for adult as well as juvenile probate. The present commission is called the juvenile advisory commission on probation.

Senator Earl Rowley, La Porte, introduced the measure to put change of venue in civil cases at the discretion of the court. This is the law in the majority of other states, he said.
