

TALKING IT OVER WITH JOE WILLIAMS

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—There was an exhibition of the many art up at the St. Nick's rink the other night. Sid Terris, the ghost of the Ghetto met Babs Herman, the California cyclone. Terris was an odds-on favorite with the speculators.

For five rounds Terris pirouetted, gyrated and revolved about Herman with great speed and fury. When the chimes tinkled to start the next round, Terris stepped out with fixed smile on his bony face and went once more to the business of waving leather in front of the sluggish vision of Herman.

AND THEN WITH STARTLING SWIFTNESS THE WHOLE COURSE OF THE ACTION WAS CHANGED. THERE WAS A SKIRMISH IN MIDDLES, A LUMP OF CLOVER, A FLOPPING SOUND AS HERMAN'S FOLIAGE WEAVING THROUGH THE AIR TO LAND ON TERRIS' CHIN, AND THE REFEREE HURRIED OVER TO THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BATTER TO TOLL OFF THE KNOCKOUT.

THESE are the physical facts of the exhibition of the many art that was held up at the St. Nick's the other night. There appears to be more to the story. Much more. The boxing commission held up Terris' purse. This is an unusual procedure in circumstances where an exponent of the many art is knocked loose from his eyebrows.

This is not the first time Terris has been tacked to the carpet but it appears to be the first time anything of this untoward and unhappy nature has happened to him in spite of certain precautions presumably agreed upon in advance.

THE KNOCKOUT OF TERRIS OF COURSE WAS NOT A PART OF THE ROUTINE. IT SEEMS THAT WHEN HERMAN MADE THAT WILD, IMPETUOUS SWING HE IGNORED THE ORIGINAL LINES OF THE SCRIPT AND WAS IN EFFECT EXTEMPOORIZING.

TERRIS was not supposed to be knocked out. Nor was Herman. Sid was to win quite handily, as he figured to, and this was to mark the beginning of another attempt to build him up as a lightweight challenger. From what your correspondent can learn of the extraordinary incident it was not so much Herman's fault as it was Terris' that the proposition failed to materialize in its desired form.

Babe was simply in there swinging away with no more violence in his heart than exists in a newborn babe and fiddling along with the aimless boredom of a factory hand doing piece work at so much per round when all of a sudden Terris awkwardly shovled his lisp-glass chin in the path of a wounding punch and went out.

HERMAN IS A SQUARE SHOOTER, ACCORDING TO HIS LIGHTS, EVEN WHEN THEY ARE BURNING CLOSE TO THE WICK, AND AS LONG AS GOOD CORRESPONDENT HAS KNOWN OF HIM HE HAS NEVER HEARD OF BABE PUTTING THE DOUBLE-CROSS ON A FRIEND.

THERE is no finer human quality than loyalty and if Herman is not supposed to knock a guy out all the king's horses and all the king's men supplemented by a couple of Brooklyn cops aren't going to make him do it.

Of course accidents will happen, it may even be that Terris knocked himself out.

Local Bowling Gossip

BY LEFTY LEE

Tonight at midnight the deadline for entries for the American Bowling Congress meet at Chicago will be reached. The event, which is creating a new record entry each year, will award the bowlers of the country more than $100,000 in prizes. Six and possibly seven weeks of continuous play will be required to permit the entrants to roll their different events. About 12,000 persons will participate during the play, and every possible effort will be made to have the thrill you will get when you roll your first ball will repay the time and money invested.

Two-line wins were in order in the Link-Belt League at the Illinois alleys Thursday, the Castings, Casings, Auto-Engines, Grinders, Care Room and Production.
