

DRY LEAGUE IS DEALT BITTER DOSE IN HOUSE

Move to Get Huge Sum for Prohibition Smothered in Test Vote.

BY RAY TUCKER

Times Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Herbert Hoover apparently will have a free hand in attacking the prohibition problem when he becomes president, but he also will have a tremendous job in satisfying the drys.

As a result of the test vote in the house, leaders predicted today that the deficiency bill would go to the White House bare of senate amendments appropriating an additional $24,250,000 for prohibition investigation and enforcement.

Hoover and Coolidge forces, Anti-Saloon League spokesmen and Al Smith Democrats from New York stood solidly arrayed against the demand of southern Democrats and organized dry leaders for the immediate appropriation.

The vote on the previous question, which operated to shut off Democratic attempts to prolong the debate, was 240 to 141, showing the administration in control of its forces.

Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the appropriations committee; Cramton of Michigan, and Byrns of Tennessee, ranking Democratic member of appropriations, were named as conferees.

Disagreement Seen

The difference between house and senate bills still must be ironed out in conference, and a temporary disagreement is predicted. But the administration forces count on getting the senate to recede from its amendments designed to embarrass Coolidge, Secretary Mellon and Hoover.

It was said the house never would surrender. In the group that defended Mellon's position were men holding such diverse views as Cramton of Michigan, an Anti-Saloon League spokesman; Newton of Minnesota, a personal friend of Hoover; and Representative Black of New York, a follower of the recent Democratic presidential nominee.

Sitting in the gallery and taking notes on the debate, sallies and laughter at his expense, was Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

"I don't know who this doctor is," said one speaker, "but he has a lot of sick patients on his hands today."

McBride Gets Ha-Ha

A man sitting near the dry general laughed so uproariously at this taunt that he almost knocked Dr. McBride's black notebook out of his hands. But the league representative displayed no bitterness of emotion during the battle, devoting himself chiefly to making a record of how his drys acted.

McBride leaned forward with his chin cupped in his hand when such extreme prohibitions as Cramton and Hudson of Michigan voiced their determination to stand by Mellon.

But they quickly reassured him that his defiance of the league was only temporary. As between McBride and Hoover, they chose to stand by the latter, for the present. "If Mr. Hoover sends word that he wants $24,000,000 for prohibition enforcement," declared Hudson, "I will vote for it."

SEVERAL CASES OF RADIO GRIEF ARE REVEALED

Trouble Traced to Source by Interference Man of Times.

Fans around Maryland street and Traub avenue have been having plenty of radio grief for the last two weeks. The interference man made a check Wednesday at about 5 p.m. and all was clear, but as the street lights came on they made radio reception impossible.

The checking of the light company's lines will be made and this report given to the Indianapolis Power and Light Company, as to nature of the trouble.

The street light at Fortieth and Illinois streets also is causing a great many radio users trouble after the arc lights are turned on every evening. Other lights have been checked at different corners, but they are not broadcasting as this is.

This interference is not broadcasting over a city block at the most, but the radio users who live in this section can not have clear reception while this is on.

Interference that fans are receiving around Fiftieth to Fifty-fourth streets on Winthrop avenue is the same as the fans are getting on Forty-ninth street from Keystone to College avenue. This section has been checked many times and every time it checks to the station at Forty-ninth street and Keystone avenue.

The lines run west along Forty-ninth street and other lines cross under this power line. It would be very easy for the cross lines to re-broadcast this trouble, as both have been checked and found to be the same type of trouble.

The power and light company will be notified and will take care of this at once, as they have aided The Times in many cases in clearing different cases by lending men and equipment.

After three nights of testing in the section bounded by Thirty-fourth street on the south, Thirty-eighth street on the north, Sherman drive on the west, and Emerson avenue on the east, The Times interference man found several cases of trouble the fans have been hearing on the radios for the last two weeks.

Next step is to clear up these cases and give the public good radio reception and the greatest part of the work is after the trouble has been found, making the recheck with the person or persons at fault.

In some cases it has been found that the interference on a line is not being made by that company, but is being rebroadcast by that line from another source. In this case it takes time to trace the trouble to its base and notify the ones who are at fault.

Of the three cases found in this section, two have been traced to the base of the trouble, but the third has not been named as yet. But it is the lowest in volume of all three. The Times interference man hopes to have this section cleared in the next week, so fans can enjoy radio reception.

In the building of a railway line in French Equatorial Africa, 17,000 Negro laborers have died from disease, privation and exposure.
