

MRS. HOOVER KEEPS JUST AS BUSY AS 'MR.'

Two Secretaries Help Handle Mail; Reads Every Day; Entertain Often.

The following is the first of three stories giving an intimate picture of the life of the first lady of the land. The writer, who has been in Washington for several years and has been an observer of official life, was a member of the party of newspaper correspondents which accompanied the Hoovers to California before the election and later to Florida.

BY HANNAH HUNT STOKES
(Written for the United Press)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14.—Mrs. Herbert Hoover is quite as busy as a person as her husband, the President-elect.

Aside from her responsibilities as the wife of a public man, she has her own personal interests which are varied.

Her mail is voluminous, much of it coming from those who always write to prominent people, but a large portion is personal.

Mrs. Hoover has two secretaries, Miss Ruth Fessler and Miss Mildred Hall, one of whom accompanies her on all trips.

Being an organizer and a business-like person, she devotes a portion of each day to disposing of this mail. She could not afford to let it accumulate.

She enjoys talking movies.

Although the Hoovers are accepting very few invitations while in Florida, each day finds them with breakfast, luncheon or dinner guests and sometimes all three.

Mrs. Hoover is a charming hostess. Her education, traveling, and life abroad have supplied her with enough topics of conversation to last a life time. She has a versatile mind.

One of her newest interests is the taking of moving pictures, inspired by the gift of a colored motion picture camera from the photographer who accompanied the President-Elect and Mrs. Hoover to South America.

Mrs. Hoover was observed taking pictures of her husband on his fishing trip into the Florida Keys. Her secretary, Miss Hall, took pictures of the President-Elect and Mrs. Hoover when they were in the Florida Keys.

Bus Crushed; None Dies

And no one was killed! . . . Demolished was this large bus when a bridge span at Warnerville, N. Y., suddenly collapsed, but no one in the crowd of basketball rosters returning from a game met death. Eleven were injured slightly, however. The crash of the bridge is under official investigation.

JURORS FAVOR DEATH PENALTY

Muncie Slayer Guilty; Life Term for Pal.

By United Press
FT. WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 14.—Wayne Williams, 24, and Carroll Cooper, 21, both of Muncie, were found guilty by a jury of the murder of Clem Foley, meat cutter, during an attempted robbery here. The death penalty was recommended for Williams and life imprisonment for Cooper.

Robert A. Buhler, attorney for the defendants, announced that he would file a motion for a new trial. Williams was given an opportunity to plead guilty several weeks ago, which would have meant that he would have received a life sentence. He refused, despite the advice of his attorney. Cooper also refused to plead guilty.

The two men were indicted for the murder with Lawrence Thompson, Muncie. The latter's trial has been set to Huntington on a change of venue.

The wife of Cooper shrieked loudly when the guilty verdict was rendered, and the men slumped in their seats.

Circuit Judge Sol A. Woods said he would pronounce sentence on the men Monday.

Buhler told the jury that Williams and Cooper were not as guilty as Thompson, who is charged with firing the fatal shot.

Edwin R. Thomas, prosecuting attorney, asked for conviction of both men of first degree murder.

LICENSE WAR IS ON
City to Campaign Against Permit Evaders.

The first shot in the war against city license evaders, launched Tuesday by Otto Ray, city license inspector, was fired in police court today when Judge Clifton R. Cameron fined a truck driver $5 and costs for failure to display a city truck license. Lawrence Pruitt, 422 North Rural street, was the recipient of the fine. Cases against two other truck drivers arrested late Tuesday were continued until this afternoon.

Ray issued a warning today that the drive would continue until all license evaders have complied with the law. There are thirty-five different types of city licenses.

MERIDIAN BUS LINES RULING IS DELAYED WEEK

Park Commissions to Make Decision Next Thursday;
Hold Hearing.

Park commissioners will rule next Thursday afternoon whether the Peoples Motor Coach Company petition to run buses on Meridian street will be granted.

John E. Minor, president; Mrs. Mary Hoss and Adolph G. Emhardt conducted a hearing Wednesday afternoon. The fourth board member, Michael E. Foley, attorney for the street railway company, withdrew.

George Healey, coach company public relations director, and O. W. Cox, attorney, represented the Motor Coach Company. Stephen Clinehous, attorney for the Butler-Fairview Civic League, and about 200 persons favoring the petition appeared.

Urges Service Soon
About twenty residents of Meridian and the Butler-Fairview vicinity urged immediate establishment of service.

President Robert J. Aley of Butler University pointed out that the proposed line is needed badly to serve the university and that a Forty-sixth street cross-town line should be started so that students would not need to go downtown to get to their homes in northeast Indianapolis.

Mrs. George Underwood, president of Shortridge Parent-Teachers Association; Gerald Greenleaf, state department of American Legion; and Mrs. Christina Carter, Legion auxiliary representative, urged the board to lift the Meridian bus ban.

James Drummond, 400 W. Forty-sixth street, asked that buses be run to the canal. It is proposed to run the line to Thirty-sixth street, to Sunset avenue and north to the campus. Riverside buses also would use Meridian to Thirtieth street.

Tells of Congestion
Eugene Sheehan, contractor, told of congestion in the 2900 block on Delaware and asked that the Riverside line use Meridian.

Mrs. Robert Bryson, 2431 North Meridian street, was the only one who opposed the bus line. She said Meridian already is congested making it "worth your life to cross now."

About eight new buses would be started on the Butler branch if the park board permits use of Meridian street. The public service commission has approved the petition, contingent on the city lifting of the Meridian bus ban.

PLANE HUNTED BY LINDY SAFE

Message From Fliers Halts
Third Search.

By United Press
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 14.—With Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, and six fellow airmen poised here to search for a missing airplane, a radio from the Bahamas brought word that the crew and craft were safe.

The message from Nassau to Pan-American Airways reached here a few minutes before Lindbergh was to leave with a fleet of amphibians in a third flight since noon Wednesday for the missing plane.

The message, signed by Floyd Walton, one of the four men on board the missing plane, read: "N. C. 3020 at Pine Key rest day, north end of Andros Island out of gas."

Navy and coast guard boats had searched the waters of the Florida keys during the night for the missing plane without success. Lindbergh himself had flown for three hours after nightfall in search for it, only to return unsuccessful.

On board the craft were Harry Rogers, Pan-American flier, Walton, Ralph Dahlson and John Angus. The plane was the first to leave here Wednesday in a search for a private seaplane, that later turned up in tow of a ferryboat—both men on board safe.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The New York Times said today that an unverified report was current here that Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, would announce her engagement to Captain F. E. Anderson, master of the S. S. President Wilson, shortly.

DOCTOR SHOWS QUICKEST WAY TO END HEAD COLDS

Many Here Who Try Pleasant
Hospital Method At Home
Get Instant Relief

Doctors realizing the need to "play safe in dealing with a cold during changeable weather" are now advising home use of a pleasant hospital method that has given surprisingly quick results to vast numbers of Indianapolis people.

C. H. Wilkins, for example, had neglected his cold for a day or so after he had begun to sneeze and cough. Examination showed that one of his nasal tubes was badly congested, his throat was inflamed and the cold was spreading rapidly, causing fear of pneumonia.

Doctors then gave him double strength doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—a concentrated mixture of wild cherry, turpentine and other ingredients which have relieved even the most extreme hospital cases. With the very first pleasant swallow he felt his congested, healing warmth—from his nose passages deep down into his chest. Almost immediately his head and chest began to clear up.

Note: Other cases reported daily—also certified by attending physician.

Just a few pleasant spoonfuls of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral now and you, too, will feel like a different person tomorrow. Endorsed by HOOK DRUG CO. and all druggists.

HIGHEST U. S. TARIFF LOOMS UNDER HOOVER

G. O. P. Leaders Admit New Rates Will Exceed Any in Nation's History.

Expects to vote on Caraway grain future bill.

Public lands committee meets on routine business.

Commerce committee meets on ship bills.

Continue debate on legislative appropriation bill.

Foreign affairs committee hearing on proposed arms and ammunition embargo against any warring nation.

Library committee hearing on erection of monument to Oscar Straus.

Ways and means committee hearing on tariff revision.

BY PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Under President-Elect Hoover's warning Republican leaders in congress hope to moderate the proposed tariff raise, but they agree frankly that prospects are the new law will authorize the highest protective tariff this country ever has had.

Members of the house ways and means committee revealed nearly every industry wants more tariff protection.

No one appeared in favor of a low tariff or to caution against large increases, except the New York importers, who naturally have opposed all big tariff rates.

More than 720 witnesses have stood before the committee, speaking up for low wages in Germany and other countries and the consequent necessity for adequate protection to American workmen.

This tariff bill's rate will be held down to a reasonable minimum in the house under stringent rules which may even prevent the offering of amendments from the floor.

But it will be wide open in the senate for what politicians call "picking the plums."

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, who recently received cautions from Hoover at Miami, is fearful the senate will boost the bill far beyond what even he, a high protectionist, believes is wise.

Republican members of the house ways and means committee will meet in executive session March 2 to start drafting the bill. They have promised to have it ready for a report to the house April 20. The special session is expected to be called for around that date.

POLITICS TO BE TALKED
The class on "The Practice of Politics," sponsored by the public library, will meet at the Woman's Department Club at 10:30 a. m. Feb. 19. Miller Ellingham Elected
Head of Democratic Association.

Miller Ellingham of the Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette was elected president of the Democratic Editorial Association of Indiana at the business session of the annual mid-winter meeting of the association today at the Claypool.

Other officers named were: Dick D. Heller, Decatur Democrat; first vice-president; C. G. Bodacker, Brownstown Banner, second vice-president; Ralph F. Hay, Rockville Tribune, third vice-president; Clarence Wolf, New Harmony Times, secretary, and L. C. Gifford, Kokomo Dispatch, treasurer.

The meeting ended today was the largest attended mid-winter session of the association ever held, it was said.

It was decided to hold the mid-winter meeting of the association June 7-8 at Lake James, Steuben county. The meeting will be under auspices of the Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette and R. Earl Peters, Democratic state chairman.

The association's annual banquet was held Wednesday night at the Claypool.

United States Senator A. W. Barkley, Kentucky; Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, congresswoman-elect from Florida; Mrs. Caroline Miller, Pittsburgh, and Mayor L. Ert Slack were among the speakers at the dinner. Mrs. Owen is the daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan.

Barkley termed the Democrat party the "progressive party" and urged his hearers to make it the majority rather than the minority party in America.

He sharply criticized the Harding and Coolidge administrations and asserted that the Republican party contained many "bigots and hypocrites."

"The Democratic party is not a coward," Senator Barkley declared. "Although we met defeat at the polls we met it the squarely. The party neither is dead nor on its way to the grave."

Mrs. Owen told of some of her experiences while campaigning and Mrs. Miller urged greater party unity. Mayor Slack welcomed the other speakers and the more than 250 editors and guests in attendance.

DEBT EXPERTS HEAR GERMANS' POVERTY PLEA

Forced to Lower Living
Standard Than Ex-Foes,
Is Charge.

BY WEBB MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Feb. 14.—Germany's first specific claim to a reduction in the reparations demands of the allies began to emerge today. Presentation of her case continued before the international commission of reparations experts.

Charges were made that the treaty of Versailles is being violated by forcing Germany to accept a living standard lower than that of her former enemies, observers said.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht is in his third day of a general discussion of reparations in the light of Germany's credit and internal conditions.

The Germans will continue to hold the stage until their presentation is completed, after which the presentation of the allied viewpoint, by France, will be made.

Indications are that Germany is building her case on the theme of borrowed money and the consequent heavy tax burden on her citizens.

Schacht's plea amounts to that of poverty and his presentation so far has been calculated to cause an excellent political reaction in Germany.

ADAM TEMPTED BY BOOTLEGGER, STATES PASTOR

God Created Prohibition in Eden and Snake Caused Violation.

The first bootlegger operated in the Garden of Eden and violated the first prohibition law which God enacted for the human race.

This is the assertion of the Rev. R. S. Parr, pastor of the First United Brethren church, who spoke at the Bible Investigation Club Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. building.

"The prohibition law idea is not a twentieth century thought of man, but it dates back to the Garden of Eden when God set up a law prohibiting Adam and Eve from eating of the tree of life. God simply set up a law which sought to curb the appetites of Adam and Eve, but the first bootlegger, who was a snake, induced Adam and Eve to disregard God's divine statute and eat of that tree. Our ancestors of the Book of Genesis were the first violators of a prohibition law."

"No one will respect the laws of the land who is not taught to respect the laws of God. The crime wave can be traced to a lack of knowledge of God's laws. Children must be taught to respect divine laws before we can expect them to respect man's laws."

Dr. Frank Lee Roberts, pastor of Central Avenue M. E. church, spoke on "The American Home of Tomorrow."

"Too many persons are trying to carry out 'installment-wife plans' and they will not work, for such ideals as trial marriages are contributing to the breakdown of the American home," he said.

"If America remains a great nation, our disregard for God's law and the ideals of Christianity must cease. We must get a new basic ideal of marriage and the sanctity of the home. The real test of American home life comes after you have celebrated your fiftieth wedding anniversary."

ROBBED AFTER FIGHT
Struggles With Bandit; Loses $4.50 at Point of Gun.

After a hand-to-hand struggle of several minutes with a bandit at Spruce street and Fletcher avenue Wednesday night, William Claffey, 1449 Fletcher avenue, was overpowered, and at the point of a revolver robbed of $4.50.

The struggle started when the bandit approached Claffey from behind and thrust a revolver in his back.

Claffey grasped his assailant's wrists, and the pair tussled until the bandit maneuvered the gun so that it pointed at Claffey and threatened to shoot.
