

FEAR GANG MASSACRE WITNESS 'TAKEN FOR RIDE'

DEATH THREATS ARE RECEIVED BY 2 WOMEN

Dentist Who Pulled Tooth of Killer Disappears From Home.

CHECK BURNING AUTO

'Keep Your Mouth Shut,' Says Letter to Resident Across Street.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—An important witness in the investigation of the St. Valentine day's gang massacre here has disappeared, police announced today and death threat letters have been received by two others.

Dr. Loyal Tacker, dentist, who said he believed he may have pulled a tooth of one of the men seen in the automobile which drove away from the north side garage where the murders occurred, was reported missing from his home by his wife of a few months.

Police were told by a witness who saw the car leave the garage that one of the men had a tooth or two missing.

Dr. Tacker appeared at police headquarters a few days later and identified pictures of a gangster as those of a man whose teeth he had abstracted a short time before the murders.

Woman Get Threats

Police fear that he may have been "taken for a ride" to prevent his giving further identification.

The threatening letters were received by Mrs. Alphonsine Morin and Mrs. Jeanette Landsman.

Mrs. Morin lives directly across from where the seven men in the massacre were lined up and shot down. Mrs. Landsman lives next door to the garage.

The letters advised the women to "keep your mouth shut." One letter said "that's the best thing that's happened around here," apparently referring to the massacre. One letter was signed "The Gang" and the other "Chi. Boys."

Both women had been questioned by police and they were to be questioned again.

Husband Falls to Return

Mrs. Tacker said her husband left their apartment Friday night and did not return. She became worried and notified police early this morning. One theory advanced was that the dentist feared for his life and went into hiding, but police are inclined to believe that he had been kidnapped.

Nothing further had been developed today in the search for James Morton, who was believed to be the last purchaser of an automobile found burning in a garage and which was thought to have been either the car in which the murderers drove away from the shooting or else a plant to throw police on a wrong trail.

FAMED APOSTLE OF HEALTH IS IN CITY

Captain Godfrey Rodrigues Praised for Work by Dr. Morgan.

"Health is all in the manner in which you hold your body," says Captain Godfrey Rodrigues of Holland, who is conducting a series of lectures and other personal appearances in Indianapolis under auspices of The Indianapolis Times.

Dr. Herman G. Morgan, secretary of the city health board, today endorsed the principle of physical fitness advocated by Captain Rodrigues.

"Captain Rodrigues comes to Indianapolis with the indorsement of leaders in the public health field, having demonstrated the excellent results of his system in many cities," Dr. Morgan said.

Uses No Medicines

"He has no specific medicine or drug or athletic apparatus for sale. The beneficial results he obtains come from correct posture, proper breathing and hygienic living. He is advocating the practice of a principle universally indorsed by hygienists and physicians the world over."

"The increase in the group of so-called degenerative diseases, namely those of the heart, arteries and kidneys, are conceded to be largely due to lack of exercise, to improper diet and careless health habits. The principle of body building advocated by Captain Rodrigues unquestionably would reduce the many twentieth century maladies if universally adopted."

"I heartily can indorse all he has to say in regard to exercise, athletics, proper posture and breathing. His only difficulty in teaching this principle to the public is that it is so simple many will not follow his teachings."

Urges Outdoor Exercise

It is to be hoped that many persons in Indianapolis will have their first introduction in years to the real outdoors oxygenated air.

"Let it be hoped that a pleasing per cent of the city's population will wander out from their overheated homes and apartments where they have been living in devitalized air and receive their initial baptism of good health, correct posture and proper living," Dr. Morgan concluded.

The captain is "booked solid" to speak in city schools next week.

ISSUE AVOIDED IN ARMORY QUIZ

Cost of Buildings Gets No Deep Study.

The bank is of a contrary opinion, Lindley said.

Any discrepancies in construction costs, unearthed by the board of accounts, should be taken up with the attorney-general for legal action, Lindley declared.

The report praises highly the personnel of the armory board, trustees (holding companies), the Ostrom company and bank. It does criticize the method and also Architect L. A. Turnock, who was a member of the armory board fostering the plan and whose firm designed all the buildings.

Estimated total of the architect's was given as $24,560; contractor's (on cost-plus plan), $95,648, and the difference between the amount received from the Peoples State Bank, which handled all financing, and that expended for construction, $70,204.

McWhirter had the following comment to make regarding the report:

"It is about what could be expected. The report does not reflect the facts and is incorrect in most of its inferences. Disappointed contractors have had their fun. The senate will, no doubt, give it such consideration as is warranted."

BUSSES TO BUTLER

Service on Meridian Will Open in 30 Days.

Operation of busses to Butler university over the Meridian street route will be begun within thirty days, Ernest H. Plumm, superintendent of the Indianapolis Street Railway Company, said today.

Ten new busses costing about $85,000 will be purchased at once, Plumm said.

The public service commission Friday approved the petition for the Butler line after the city park board granted permission to run the busses on Meridian from the Circle to Thirtieth street.

The Riverside line also will use Meridian street to Thirtieth street instead of Delaware street.

UNIFORMS FOR DEPUTIES

Twenty deputy sheriffs on road patrol duty will don uniforms March 1. Sheriff George L. Winkler announced today. The uniforms will be of blue corduroy, with Sam Browne belts and leather puttees. Caps, similar to those used by Indianapolis motorcycle police, also will be worn.

TRAFFIC BILL SYSTEM MAY BE ABOLISHED

Modified Plan Probably Will Be Adopted; Complaints Are Numerous.

Abolition of the electric bell pedestrian regulation on Washington street and establishment of a system allowing traffic officers to exercise greater discretion in handling traffic is contemplated by city officials.

Scores of complaints against the present system have been received by Mayor L. Ert Slack, the board of safety and city councilmen. Councilmen have sought a substitute for the regulations for some time. Several councilmen openly have expressed hostility to the plan.

Expect System to Go

Council in recent weeks, however, has been more interested in the "taking care of stickers" problem. Asked his opinion on the sticker matter, Mayor L. Ert Slack said: "I'm more interested in some other problems. For instance, how are we going to solve the Washington street problem so there will be greater satisfaction with the system?"

It is likely that the system in practice at other downtown corners, allowing pedestrians to "move with the traffic," will be adopted for the Illinois, Meridian and Pennsylvania intersections on Washington street.

Give Pedestrian Break

Mayor Slack indicates he favors a plan which will permit officers to use greater discretion in handling downtown traffic, allowing them to use stringent regulations when conditions demand and let up during hours when traffic is light. He would permit right turns except at busy periods.

"I think the pedestrian should have the break in the congested district, the motorist giving the person who walks the right of way. But the motorist should have the right of way in the district outside the downtown area where pedestrian traffic is lighter," Slack said.

WORLD COURT APPEAL MADE BY COOLIDGE

Diplomats Applaud Address by President, Relating Foreign Relations Record.

BY LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Diplomats applauded today what generally was interpreted as a new appeal by President Coolidge for American adherence to the world court.

The President's remarks were in an address at George Washington university last night, giving an account of his stewardship of American's international relations since taking office in 1923.

In what probably was his last presidential utterance, Coolidge urged cultivation of international good feeling and called upon the people and the press of the nation to "be friendly."

Alliances Defined

He declared our foreign relations rarely, if ever, have been in a more happy condition, discouraged the attitude of fault finding and hostility to everything that is foreign, and admonished his Washington's birthday radio audience that even the first President's warning against alliances did not advocate a policy of isolation.

"In that day," said Coolidge, "an alliance meant the banding together of two or more nations for offensive and defensive uprisings against certain other nations, either expressed or implied. It was a purely artificial creation. It had no reference to an association of practically all nations in an attempt to recognize their common interests and discharge their common obligations."

While we should at all times defend our own independence and maintain our own sovereignty, we should not forget that all nations, as well as individuals, have natural and inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; and while we should disgracefully fail in our mission in the world if we did not protect those rights for ourselves, we also shall fail if we do not respect them in others.

In conferring the honorary degree of doctor of laws upon the President, Dr. Cloyd H. Martin, president of the university, cited him as the servant of the state, a man of sincere attitudes, a respect for the rights of the people, and the proponent of a forward-looking social procedure.

SEEKS SHELTER FOR WASHINGTON REPORTERS

Ask $5,000 So Newsmen May Wait on Hoover in Comfort.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Newspaper correspondents will no longer stand in the cold to "cover" President-Elect Hoover if a resolution introduced by Representative Loring M. Black (Dem., N. Y.) is ever made a law. The bill would provide $5,000 for a temporary shelter.

The newsmen, since Hoover's arrival in Washington, have had to wait outside in discomfort in order to interview callers to the Hoover home.

"The American public has been looking anxiously for the new administration to take the chill off the White House," Black said in a statement. "Instead we find that the journalists attending on Hoover are undergoing rigors of climate that even George Washington did not have to endure at Valley Forge."

"It seems only fair that a dry igloo for the reporters outside."

LASH ROCKEFELLER AND STANDARD PROPAGANDA

Congressman Charges John D. Works Against U. S.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Representative George H. Rockefeller, Jr., Lee, his publicity agent, and the Standard Oil Company, were open propagandists against the interests of the United States.

He took exception to the appointment of J. P. Morgan and Owen D. Young an unofficial American delegates to the reparations conference and declared approval of the Kellogg pact was a first United States commitment to internationalists.

Tinkham's resolution was first introduced Jan. 3. He said he would reintroduce it at the next congressional session.

HOOVER STILL UNCERTAIN ON CABINET POSTS

Agriculture, Attorney-General Jobs Chief Concern of Next President.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Several posts in President-Elect Hoover's cabinet still are very uncertain to little, with little more than a week before inauguration.

Refusals from men he had picked have disrupted his plans and caused him to check through the list of eligibles again.

Hoover's chief concern is over the agriculture and attorney-general posts.

Two names have been brought forward prominently for these posts:

Thomas D. Campbell, Montana wheat, "industrialist," for secretary of agriculture.

Ira K. Letts, Providence, R. I., federal judge and former assistant attorney-general, for attorney-general.

Campbell to Visit Hoover

Conferences in the next few days will determine whether these men will fill these two posts.

Campbell will visit Hoover in the next few days. He has just returned from a trip to Russia, where he was agricultural adviser to the Soviet government, and is expected to give the President-elect a picture of conditions there.

Hoover is expected to discuss Campbell's qualifications today with Senator Brookhart (Ind.), member of the senate farm bloc, as he was understood to have discussed the Montanan with Senator Nye (Wyo.), another farm bloc member.

Letts is a newcomer to the cabinet lists. He is a "dark horse," his name not having been mentioned previously before. But there are very definite indications there may be one or more "dark horses" in the Hoover cabinet.

Four Posts Filled

Four posts definitely have been filled—secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, New York; secretary of treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, Pittsburgh; secretary of interior, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university, and Charles Francis Adams, Boston, secretary of navy.

Besides agriculture and attorney-general, this leaves war, commerce, labor and postmaster-general.

Bishop Edgar H. Blake, bishop of the Indianapolis area of the Methodist Episcopal church, will address the extension course of the Indiana Council on International Relations, Tuesday night in Hollenbeck hall of the Y. W. C. A. His subject will be "Our Foreign Policy." The meeting will be open to the public.
