

SOUTHSIDERS HOLD BOOSTER MASS MEETING

Committee Named to Push Campaign for Civic Needs.

The movement of south side citizens to obtain "their share" of public improvements today received impetus with the appointment of an executive committee composed of representatives of twelve civic organizations.

Leaders are anxious to obtain several changes in the Belt railroad elevation program. About 125 attended the south side mass meeting Wednesday night at Garfield park shelter house and heard speakers discuss the "best means to boost the south side."

Another mass meeting will be held April 17 to continue the discussion of south side needs. J. Edward Burke, of the Southeastern Civic League, announced at the close of the meeting. John C. Kirch, South Meridian club president, presided.

"Men and women grow old when they stop playing. We recognize the value of recreation for persons of all ages and station of life and the park board endeavors to furnish a well rounded program of activities," declared R. Walter Jarvis, city park superintendent.

Jarvis blamed the crime wave on the failure of society to provide properly supervised recreation for youth.

The park superintendent prophesied that a boulevard will connect Garfield park with Sarah Shank golf course soon. He said the board plans to purchase land to enlarge the Shank course to eighteen holes. When he ended his speech, Mrs. Ed Baumgart, 2117 Singleton street, arose and asked: "Well, do we get a pool this year?"

Jarvis told Mrs. Baumgart that "people usually get what they continually fight for."

He said the pool could be built this year if money is obtained through a bond issue. A remonstrance against closing of Bath avenue in the Belt elevation was signed by majority of the property owners in the vicinity.

The meeting adopted a resolution endorsing the safety entertainment to be staged April 16 at Garfield shelter house.

These persons were named to the executive committee: Edward F. Hux and William Roth, Beech Grove Civic League; Lawrence Wagner, Ed Wisniewski, Churchman Avenue Civic League; O. E. Williamson, Frank Turner, Enterprise Civic League; H. P. Kotkamp and Mrs. Ed Baumgart, Garfield Park Civic League; Louis Miller and D. V. Griffith, Melaineville Civic League; Robert R. Sloan, Southeastern Civic League; E. E. Heller and J. E. Burke, Southeastern Civic Improvement League; John C. Kirch, A. G. Voigt, South Meridian Street League; F. W. Waldkoetter and Otto Burkhardt, South Side Boosters Club; Frank Riemann and John Butler, South Side Exchange Club; Ballard E. West and Arthur G. Gresham, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and John F. White, councilman.

Are You Well and Strong?

"Before my third baby was born my husband advised me to take your medicine and he bought me three bottles of it. When I had taken the first one I began to feel better so I kept on during the whole period. We have a healthy baby boy and we are so proud of him and praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the help it gave me. I feel lots stronger since I started to use it and would not be without it."—Mrs. Frank Lukes, R. No. 1, Box 58, Lankin, N. Dakota.

HEAT CASE DROPPED

Patrons Not to Appeal Hot Water Abandonment.

Urged on by a letter from the Indianapolis Power and Light Company cautioning against delay, organized patrons of the Alabama and Sixteenth street heating plant have decided to abandon court appeal and abide by the ruling of the public service commission in changing the plant from hot water to steam heat.

Originally the company petitioned to abandon the heat plant entirely. They compromised on installing a steam plant, expense of equipment installation in individual homes to be borne by the owners. It is estimated this will cost each between $200 and $300.

Commissioner Calvin McIntosh prepared a dissenting opinion, declaring that all transfer expense should be borne by the company. He contended that payment had been made for installation once and that the change was purely a company move for profit.

START TRAINING YOUTHS EARLY, MOTHERS TOLD

Dr. Coulter Speaks at Annual Parent-Teachers
Federation Meeting.

The foundation of the character of youth must start in the home. Dr. Stanley Coulter, dean emeritus of Purdue university, said Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the Indianapolis Parent-Teachers' Federation at Shortridge high school.

Six or seven year of age, he said, is a late period to begin to develop obedience, unselfishness, co-operation and similar virtues. Home training should start at the very beginning.

"We expect our children to become reasoning men and women," Coulter said. "I wonder by what right some of us expect such a result? What training in thinking has the child in the average home?"

Corns Lift Right Off!

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and callouses lift right off! You'll laugh—it is so easy and doesn't hurt a bit! Just drop "Freezone" on any tender, touchy corn. Instantly it stops aching, then shortly you just lift that old bothersome corn right off with your fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems magical! A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs only a few cents at any drug store. Try it!

trust them fully, that we love them supremely." Guests at the meeting, which followed a dinner in the school cafeteria, were Mrs. Homer J. Miller, South Bend, president of the parent-teacher organization; Charles F. Miller, school superintendent, and Mrs. Miller; C. G. Underwood, elementary education director and Mrs. Underwood; George Buck, Shortridge principal, and Mrs. Buck, and Mrs. Coulter.

The dinner was served by the Ladies Aid Society of the Meridian Heights Presbyterian church. A musical program was given by the Shortridge string trio and the mothers' glee club of School #1.

No meetings of parent-teacher associations will be held the week of April 1, on account of spring vacation.

ACCOSTS SCHOOL GIRLS

Police are searching the neighborhood of the Austin H. Brown School 6, at 702 South Union street, for a man who has been annoying school girls.

The man is described as 45 years old, five feet and nine inches tall, weighs 185 pounds, and wears a light suit and soft hat.
