BOMB HOME OF UNION CHIEF IN TEXTILE STRIKE

Detail of Troops Rushed to Scene of Violence in Tennessee.

By United Press
ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., May 10.—Violence broke out anew in the textile strike area today when the home of Mack Elliott, former mechanic at the American Glanzstoff Corporation plant, was dynamited and wrecked.

Adjutant-General W. C. Boyd and a detail of troops guarding the American Glanzstoff plants here rushed to the scene at Stony Creek, a few miles distant, and placed a guard around the wreckage.

Elliott, his wife and baby were not in the house, having spent the night at the home of a friend here.

This was the second time within two weeks that Elliott was escaped being a bombing victim, according to Sheriff J. M. Moreland, who told the United Press he expected to make several arrests soon in connection with today's affair.

Previously, a stick of dynamite was thrown into Elliott's automobile while he was driving along the highway. Elliott, according to Moreland, snuffed out the fuse just in time.

There was little left standing of the house, a six-room frame bungalow, which stood 200 yards off the highway. Pieces of furniture were found several hundred yards away from the explosion scene.

Elliott has been one of the moving spirits in the textile workers' strike and is one of the leaders of the union, which is seeking recognition at the Glanzstoff plant.

KONJOLA BRINGS GLORIOUS HEALTH TO MOTHER AND HER FOUR CHILDREN

Indianapolis Lady Rejoices To Tell What
This New and Different Medicine Did For Her and Her Charming Little Ones.

Wherever Konjola, the new and different medicine is known, there are homes filled with the happiness that comes with health, where once suffering and pain held sway. Many a father and mother rejoice to know that in Konjola was found the needed medicine for all the family, and the records of this master medicine abound in the glowing endorsements from these grateful parents.

Every day the Konjola Man, who is at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, this city, hears the glad reports of those who return to tell of what a boon Konjola has been to them, even after all else tried had failed. Learn all about this modern compound that the Konjola Man is explaining daily. Hear how its 32 ingredients, 22 of them the juices of roots and herbs, go to the very sources and attack the very causes of the ills for which this super-medicine is designed. What mother could always bite her nails. Her color was bad, tongue coated, her appetite was poor, not even delicacies tempted her. Konjola simply made a new child of her. And there was Dorothy May, 9, who suffered from indigestion. Again Konjola triumphed and quickly. Marie Catherine, 6, could not sleep, but rolled and gritted her teeth. She did not care to romp nor play like other children, but just sat around. How I wish you could see her now, the very life of the group at play. My son, Andrew, is the other enthusiast over Konjola, for it increased his weight, and he takes it right along, declaring that it keeps him fit. Do you wonder that this is a Konjola family?

"Never shall our home be without this glorious Konjola, for it has brought health to me and my four children. Words fail to express the gratitude that only a mother could experience for such a medicine, and I make this statement hoping that other mothers may realize through Konjola, the happiness that is mine. For a long time I was sick and run down. My food did not digest, and did me no good. I had pain throughout my body, terrible headaches, and was unable to do my housework. Finally I was ordered to the hospital. But I had read so much about Konjola that I decided to give it a trial. What a delightful surprise was in store. Seven bottles of this amazing medicine ended all of my troubles, and today I am well and happy; strong and filled with new joy in living.

"Then I wondered if Konjola would help my children, all of whom were below par in health. The results were just as happy as in my case. My daughter, Ethel Clara, II, was nervous, fidgety and always biting her nails. Her color was bad, tongue coated, her appetite was poor, not even delicacies tempted her. Konjola simply made a new child of her. And there was Dorothy May, 9, who suffered from indigestion. Again Konjola triumphed and quickly. Marie Catherine, 6, could not sleep, but rolled and gritted her teeth. She did not care to romp nor play like other children, but just sat around. How I wish you could see her now, the very life of the group at play. My son, Andrew, is the other enthusiast over Konjola, for it increased his weight, and he takes it right along, declaring that it keeps him fit. Do you wonder that this is a Konjola family?"

So it goes, wherever Konjola is known. This amazing medicine for old and young, contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. It needs no such hazardous ingredients as seem to be in some of the new and different medicines.

The Konjola Man is at Hook's Dependable drug store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis, who is meeting the public daily, and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine.
