

INDIANA G. A. R. MEETING WILL OPEN JUNE 10

State Encampment to Be Held at Martinsville.

By Times Special
MARTINSVILLE, Ind., June 1.—Remnants of a once mighty army will assemble here June 10 for the annual encampment of the Indiana department, Grand Army of the Republic, to be in session here four days. National and department officers will attend.

Special services honoring the old soldiers will be held in all Martinsville churches on Sunday preceding opening of the meeting, which will be in charge of members of the local post, as follows:

Officers of the day, James M. McCamack; officer of the guard, Han Winter; guards, Sam Wood and Lewis Ritter.

Delegates will be welcomed on the morning of the opening day, Monday, and a concert will be given in the evening by the Boys' band of the Soldiers and Sailors' orphans' home, Knightstown.

Meetings of the council of administration and committees will be held Tuesday and there will be an official reception for national and department officers, the G. A. R. auxiliary and allied organizations.

One of the features of Wednesday's session will be a parade in which mayors of Indiana cities will march in a body with the veterans and members of other patriotic organizations. Invitations to march have been sent executives of every city in the state by Mayor Lewis Foster of Martinsville. A camp fire will be held in the evening.

Speakers during encampment include Paul V. McNutt, Bloomington, national commander of the American Legion.

A business session Thursday morning will close the meeting.

SPEEDY ROAD MAKING ANNOUNCED AS DESIRE

State Highway Director Speaks at Linton Meeting.

By Times Special
LINTON, Ind., June 1.—The Indiana state highway department is making very satisfactory progress in its expansion program this season despite some delay caused by inclement weather, John J. Brown, highway commissioner director, told a civic meeting here Friday night. Brown was accompanied to Linton by William J. Titus, the commissioner's chief engineer, in charge of pavement and bridge construction.

Director Brown discussed policies of the department as regards service to all parts of Indiana, and said that it is the desire of the commission to pave every road in the system just as fast as possible.

So far this season the commission has contracted 210 miles of concrete pavement, and is now canvassing proposals for seventy miles, bids for which were opened Tuesday. Early in the season the commission contracted about a hundred miles of bituminous pavement, Brown said, and it is the plan to place an additional hundred miles of concrete under contract this year. At the same time, every effort will be made to complete at least 325 miles of concrete and 100 miles of bituminous pavement by the time weather conditions stop work in the fall.

Station TRIP Tuned Out for Two Traveling Boys

By Times Special
WHEELER, Ind., June 1.—Radio aided in cutting short a long journey planned by two Gary boys, William Reynolds, 9, and John Malone.

The crew of a Pennsylvania freight train, while stopping at Hobart, heard a radio broadcast of the report that the boys were missing, giving a description of them.

Tom Warner, signal service operator for the railroad, was told in a note dropped by a trainman as the train passed through here to be on the lookout for the boys.

Within a short time Warner stopped the boys as they walked along the tracks. Warner brought them to Valparaiso and turned them over to police, who held them until their parents arrived.

The boys said they were en route to Wellsboro, O., where the Malone had formerly lived. The boys said they had shipped notes beneath doors of their homes apprising their families of the trip.

STILL OPERATOR PAID $40 WEEKLY

Wages Revealed When Largest Cass County Outfit Is Seized.

By Times Special
LOGANSPOUT, Ind., June 1.—Frank Fontana, 33, Chicago Italian, is held in the Cass county jail here following his arrest by raiders who found him operating the largest liquor still ever seized in the county.

According to Sheriff William Zerbe, who directed the raid, Fontana said he was paid $40 a week to run the still for a Chicago gangster he says he knows only as "Jimmy."

The still was of 145-gallon daily capacity, operating under 160-pound steam pressure, and used to produce sugar alcohol. An electric plant of the type used on farms provided power for two pumps. The outfit was found in a shack on a lonely lane leading from the Onward-Pipe Creek road. In addition to the outfit, the officers seized a ton and a half of sugar mash.

Fontana, who had been making alcohol only two weeks, told the sheriff a truck brought a load of sugar from Chicago weekly, returning with a load of alcohol.
