

SAME BANDIT ROBS THREE GAS STATIONS

Holdups Occur in Two Hours: Fisherman Loses Tackle Packed for Trip.

Police today sought to check an epidemic of filling station holdups which broke out Thursday night when three stations were robbed, presumably by the same bandit, within two hours.

Covering Frederick Davis, 21, of 1908 Ashland avenue, attendant at the Standard Oil Company station at Michigan and Davidson streets, with a gun about 8:30 p. m., a roughly-dressed bandit took $20 from the safe and a belt money changer, but overlooked $60 in Davis' pocket as he forced the attendant into a washroom. The bandit walked from the station.

Less than an hour later Cecil Moncrief, 721 Fletcher avenue, attendant at a Standard station at English and State avenues, was confronted by a bandit who backed him into the washroom and escaped with $20.

Shortly after Moncrief was held up, a bandit robbed Verl Aypers, R. R. O. Box 7, attendant at the National Refining Company station at Keystone avenue and New York street of $40. Again the attendant was forced into a washroom.

Fishing Tackle Stolen

Three days before the opening of the fishing season thieves entered his garage and stole two fishing poles, two reels, lines and other tackle packed in his auto. P. W. Lauderdale, 1630 East Iowa street, told police early today. His automobile operator's license also was taken.

Obtaining a pass key from Robert Walker, Negro janitor, by telling him that the owners of the Traymore apartments, 1402 North Alabama street, authorized him to check window screens, a young man ransacked the apartment of R. S. Wilcox, No. 303, and took clothing valued at $92.50.

Three men were held on vagrancy charges when Sergeant Frank Reilly is said to have found them stripping an auto in the rear of the Y. M. C. A., New York and Illinois streets. They gave their names as Harry Watson, 29, 2841 Central avenue; Lonard Hebble, 27, of 847½ South Delaware street, and Leo Ray, 30, of 1347 Applegate street.

Seven Face Dry Charges

Seven persons, three of them women, today faced blind tiger charges as the result of a police crusade Thursday night.

Refused admittance, police kicked in the door of John Hubble's home, 30 North Lansing street, where they said they found Mrs. Paul DeHoff, 21, of 914 South West street, emptying a quantity of white mule into a sink. The officers sopped it up with a wash cloth, and arrested Mrs. DeHoff and her husband.

Mrs. Thelma Bracken, 29, of 1241 West New York street, was charged with operating a blind tiger, when officers are alleged to have found twenty gallons of brewing beer and several quarts of beer on ice in her home.

Others arrested in raids were: John Leupu, 541 West Pearl street; Mrs. Lotta Flemming, 1036 West Morris street; Carl McInerny, 30, of
