

PARLIAMENT TO EAR ENGLAND'S LABOR PROGRAM

MacDonald's Government
Officially Into Office on Tuesday.

BY KEITH JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, July 1.—Prime minister Ramsay MacDonald and his laborite government formally will begin their second administration when parliament is opened in state Tuesday.

The speech from the throne, outlining the policies of the new government and its views on the host of important questions confronting it, will be read by Lord Sankey, lord high chancellor, at a joint session of parliament in the house of lords chamber.

Of the greatest importance in British parliamentary life, comparable to a President's inaugural address, the probable contents of the speech were speculated on widely today.

Unquestionably, the speech will discuss, probably at some length the important questions of disarmament, resumption of relations with the soviet government, evacuation of the Rhineland, and numerous domestic problems.

Regarding disarmament, it was expected that the speech would indicate the government's intention of promoting international peace by recommending measures for arbitration on disarmament. Reference probably will be made to the conversation already held between MacDonald and Charles G. Dawes, United States ambassador, on that subject.

The king's speech also may urge a speedy settlement of the reparations question and the early withdrawal of British troops from the Rhineland.

MacDonald is an ardent advocate of both, and it has been indicated that he wished to persuade the French and Belgian governments also to withdraw their troops from German territory.

The net balance of import and export trade in Great Britain last year was approximately $750,000,000.

AT A JOY FLAVOR BRINGS

A Little Sugar Can Put Pleasure Into Eating Many Foods

Foods can be bland, tasteless and unappetizing, or they can be so good that everyone in the family, both children and adults, will be tempted to eat enough of them.

The preparation of foods so varied and so appetizing that they will promote the health of the country, is squarely up to women. It takes intelligence and thought to prepare or supervise varied, delightful diets.

Realizing this, a group of nationally known women cooking experts recently conducted a series of now notable experiments high up in a New York skyscraper kitchen. Their results are being announced to women throughout the country in behalf of more tasteful vegetable foods. Cook vegetables in little water. Do not overcook. Add a little sugar to the vegetables while they are cooking.

Try these Glazed-Onions recommended by one of the experts. Peel enough medium-size silver-skin onions to make a quart. Prick onions through centers to prevent breaking while cooking. Place in boiling water to which a tablespoon sugar per quart has been added, simmer until tender and brown, two tablespoons of butter in a.

Add a dash of granulated sugar. Cook to the bubbling stage. Add the onions and stir until well

Beauty From Within, Says Joan Crawford

Joan Crawford

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a series of sparkling "Close-ups" of the most beautiful actresses in cinemaland. Today, for NEA Service and The Times, Joan Crawford, bride of Douglas Fairbanks Jr., explains the secret of her lovely complexion.

BY MABEL DUKE
For NEA Service and The Times

THE old adage, "Beauty comes from within," has so often been taken with a grain of salt and relegated to the limbo of such other inane phrases as "Beauty is as beauty does" that its true import is often lost.

Beauty does come from within, for a clear complexion, sparkling eyes and lovely hair are impossible if one's "interior" is not healthy, declares Joan Crawford whose unusually lovely complexion makes her even more attractive in person than she is on the screen.

"No amount of cosmetics and creams will beautify a complexion that is muddied because of an impure blood stream," Miss Crawford advises. "Any one may have a lovely skin if she will only follow a few simple rules of health."

Plenty of water, wholesome food and satisfactory elimination are the three essentials that bring sparkling eyes and clear skin. The last is dependent greatly upon the first two and should be the result of regular health habits rather than the use of medicine.

For the water, eight glasses daily should be the minimum. In addition to this, an excellent habit is to drink a glass of warm water each morning before breakfast.

As the food, fruit and vegetables should comprise the bulk of the diet. An excellent diet to improve the complexion is the "fruit diet."

Nothing but fruit and leafy vegetables should be eaten, but as much of those are permitted as one wants.

And kind of fruit and as much as you like may be eaten each day.

Followed for ten days or two weeks, this diet will do wonders for your skin, Miss Crawford says.

OPEN DRIVE FOR FRENCH O. K. ON WAR DEBT PACT

Poincare Hopes to Get Deputies to Ratify Payments to U. S.

BY RALPH HEINZEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 1.—Under leadership of Premier Raymond Poincare the French government began to march their political forces today for a final drive to get the chamber of deputies to ratify the French war debt accord with the United States and Great Britain.

Washington having failed to make a favorable response to France's request for a postponement from Aug. 1 of the war stock debt of $407,000,000, the Poincare government will renew its efforts to swing the deputies in favor of ratification of the war debt accord when the debate on the question begins probably on July 9.

The Hoover administration has notified France that owing to the present recess of the American congress the modification of the conditions of the war stock debt is impossible at the time being.

The newspapers here generally were in agreement that the reply of the United States was inevitable and, on the whole, the situation was accepted philosophically.

Ratification of the agreements still is being attacked here from all sides.

SERGEANT QUITS FORCE

G. L. Stone Retires From City Police Body on Pension.

Detective Sergeant George L. Stone, for more than twenty years a member of the Indianapolis police department, Saturday tendered his resignation to Police Chief Claude M. Worley.

Since joining the force in 1909, Sergeant Stone has held posts, from patrolman to captain. He was placed on the flood roll of honor during the West Indianapolis flood in 1913.

Sergeant Stone will retire on a pension, and do private investigation work, he said.

Plays Safe With Dry Agents

That old adage about "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is taken literally by N. M. Butterfield of Los Angeles. Having "read in the papers" of prohi killings in various sections of the country, Butterfield decided that a fellow named Butterfield, who lived in Los Angeles would never be shot by a dry agent through a case of mistaken identity. And when he goes riding, the sign pictured above is always to be seen on his automobile.

UNEARTH BONES OF 'APE MAN'

Fossil Remains in China
May be 'Missing Link.'

By Science Service

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A new find of fossil remains of Sinanthropus, said by the discoverer, Professor Black of Peking Union Medical college and the Geological Survey of China, to be an ancient human species of very primitive characters, will be reported for the first time in the forthcoming issue of Science.

The fossils, which consist of half of an adult lower jaw with several teeth in place, together with three loose teeth, were excavated at Chou Kou Tien, China, at the same site which has previously yielded other traces of the same extinct race.

Associated with the human remains were the bones of extinct animals belonging to the early Quaternary age.

According to Professor Black, the fragment of jaw marks this ancient man of China as a creature combining distinctly human characters with others as distinctly ape-like.

The teeth are typically human, but the sloping, chinless front of the massive jaw is reminiscent of a chimpanzee. There are points of resemblance between the new fossil and the much-debated jaw of the "Dawn man" of England, which some paleontologists still contend is not human at all, but simian.

Although the cranium of Sinanthropus has not yet been uncovered, Professor Black argues from analogy that he must have been a relatively large-brained being.

Further excavation at the site of the first discovery of the ancient man of China are being carried on, and considerable fossil material already dug up is being carefully cleaned by Professor Black's associates.

PRIESTS AGAIN GUIDE WORSHIP OF MEXICANS

Wildest Enthusiasm Puts Lives of Many in Peril at Masses.

By United Press

MEXICO CITY, July 1.—Wildest enthusiasm, which for the edification of the faithful crowded into all the churches, which have been returned to the clergy, to hear early mass and the services that followed.

The jams were so great in many of the edifices that police were called to maintain order.

Several women fainted in the churches in Mexico City when the heat and crush of humanity became oppressive.

Archbishop Diaz, who officiated at pontifical mass and at the later "Te Deum" at Guadalupe, left the basilica only with the greatest difficulty, and a way had to be forced through the crowd for him.

Francisco Croce Y Jimenez, archbishop of Guadalajara, who remained in hiding three years during the dispute, and returned last week with a denial that he had aided or encouraged the Cristeros rebellion, was given an ovation when he appeared at Guadalupe.

The Mexican government removed its censorship on religious news Saturday with even more suddenness than it had been imposed the previous day.

No reason was given for the censorship, and why it was lifted within forty-eight hours likewise was not explained.

A New Form of Investment

--offering--

—tax exemption
—diversification

Fletcher Savings and Trust Company's Half Million Dollar Investment Fund

THE Fletcher Savings and Trust Company, of Indianapolis, has assigned and delivered to the City Bank Farmers Trust Company, of New York, five hundred thousand dollars which has been invested in bonds of some fifty different issues, which are listed on the New York Stock Exchange or the Curb with a rating of A or higher by Moody's Investors Service.

These bonds and other bonds bought as these are sold or mature will be held by the City Bank Farmers Trust Company as a trust fund for the holders of certificates which are now offered for sale. Each certificate will evidence the holder's beneficial interest in such trust fund to the extent of a certain number of the one thousand shares or units into which the trust fund is divided. For illustration, the holder of a certificate for one share or unit will have an interest to the extent of a thousandth of the trust fund.

Each certificate may be sold and transferred on the register in the office of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company.

The interest on the bonds in the trust fund will be collected as it falls due and on each January 15 and July 15 a check will be sent to each certificate holder covering his proportionate share of the net income from the trust fund for the six months ending on the preceding January 1 and July 1, respectively. From the gross income 6% thereof will be deducted for compensation of the Trustee.

In February of each year each certificate holder will receive a report as of the preceding January 1 setting out all receipts and disbursements and a list of the bonds then constituting the trust fund.

The trust may be terminated and the trust fund distributed to the certificate holders at the instance of the holders of certificates representing not fewer than 667 shares.

The Fletcher Savings and Trust Company is advised by counsel, Messrs. Baker & Daniels and Mr. Donald S. Morris, that the certificates will not be subject to personal property taxes in Indiana.

While no assurance can be given as to the return on these certificates, it seems reasonable to expect that it will average more than 5%. The original group of bonds selected will produce an income on the half million dollar fund of approximately 5.35%, after deduction of the Trustee's fee. The certificates are offered at 101 1/2 and interest, yielding at this time about 5.25%.

These certificates are offered as affording tax exemption and assurance of safety through diversification otherwise unattainable.

They are recommended by the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company which holds for its own investment bonds of every issue included in the trust fund.

A Call to Industry

The Illinois Central System lives in a community—the Mississippi Valley—which is more than a thousand miles in length and which includes fourteen important states. To assist in the industrial development of this great territory, it is one of the railroad's major undertakings. Such a program is one of enlightened self-interest, for the progress of the Illinois Central System is bound up in the advancement of its territory.

Good transportation is an industrial necessity. First, therefore, the Illinois Central System endeavors to give the best service that a well-trained organization working with adequate facilities can perform.

In addition, the Illinois Central System is constantly seeking to be helpful to the industries of its territory in the solution of their varied problems. Assistance is rendered in locating raw materials, developing markets, increasing production, reducing expense and meeting the other timely demands of a fast-moving age.

The services of the entire Illinois Central System organization, nation-wide in scope, are available not only to industries already established in the Mississippi Valley, but also to those seeking locations therein. The railroad has reliable information available with respect to industrial opportunities, and special surveys will be gladly made upon request.

This territory has many attractions for industries. Its great natural advantages are becoming well known. Supplementing these is an alert citizenship with a co-operative spirit.

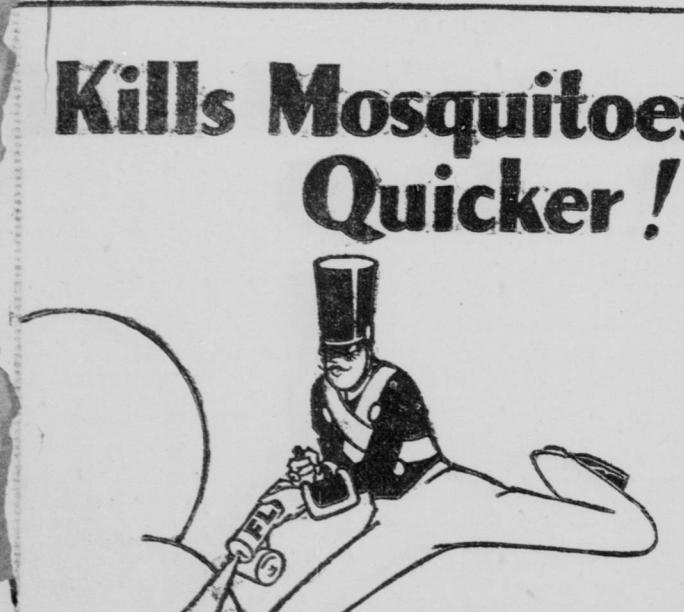

Industry and transportation are closely related. They work together for mutual benefit in the territory of the Illinois Central System.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.
