

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES MONEY FOR BUILDINGS

Plans Two Grade Structures in Addition to New Broad Ripple High.

Allowance for two or three new grade school buildings will be made in the 1930 school city budget, it was decided tentatively at a special session of school commissioners Monday evening.

The board was asked to decide on the 1930 grade school building program by the end of this month. Two board members, President Charles W. Kern and Mrs. Lillian V. Sedwick, were absent.

Financed by Bonds

If a new Broad Ripple high school is constructed in 1930, financed by bond issue, all grade schools constructed will have to be financed directly through the budget, it was agreed.

Carl W. Euron, buildings and grounds superintendent, repeated his suggestion that the Broad Ripple high school be built in units, one at a time.

Need for increased facilities for crippled children, was suggested by Theodore F. Vonnegut. Euron suggested placing the school on the Arsenal Technical high school grounds.

Criticism of the state tax board's policy of refusing to permit addition of several cents a year in the budget over a period of several years to build up a fund for grade schools was expressed by Vonnegut.

Set Meeting Monday

Several grade schools were discussed, including School 6 at 702 Union street, and School 20 at 1125 Spruce street, both of which should be relocated, according to Vonnegut. It would cost approximately $180,000 to remodel School 20, Euron said.

Addition of two or three rooms and an auditorium at School 8, at 520 Virginia avenue, was suggested.

The program will be discussed again at a building and grounds committee meeting at 4 p. m. Monday.

Art sales totaling $16,657 through the Hoosier Salon Patron's Association were reported in a summary of the year's work announced today.

The association exists for the advancement of Indiana art interests, chiefly through the holding of annual Hoosier salons in the Marshall Field picture galleries in Chicago.

COUNCIL ARGUES HOW TO STOP STREET TRAFFIC

Rubber Signs Have Edge
on Brass: Debate Amount to Be Spent.

While Joel Baker, city purchasing agent, is holding out for a $7,500 appropriation for rubber stop signs rather than the $3,500 previously stipulated, the city council continued Monday night to debate the virtues of brass knobs, stand signs at street intersections and the ill-fated rubber "stops."

Inability to see brass knobs in snow and destructibility of stand signs by overhanging truck bodies left rubber signs still favored by the council.

"The important thing is that the signs be uniform whatever kind we choose," was Councilman Harris' comment.

George Denny of the state inspection bureau presented a proposed joint contract between the bureau and the board of public safety whereby the bureau will receive 95 per cent of the fees and the city 5 per cent for electrical inspection, instead of 85 per cent, previously received. The contract would enable the inspection bureau to prevent a yearly loss of $2,000. The council took no action.

A "taxicab war" was averted when the council came to no conclusion over the question of hotels granting their street space to particular taxi companies. Suspicion that taxi permit and hotels were "mutually benefiting" was held, but with no definite data, the council suspended action.

Frightened by a Stubborn Spreading Rash

Los Angeles, Cal.—"My husband had a rash on his body and after using the usual remedies all but one of the spots healed, but that one was very stubborn. We used every kind of a salve we ever heard of, even prescribed treatments, but still the spot spread. I heard of Resinol, and in desperation started to use the soap and ointment faithfully as directed. After using one-quarter of a small jar the spot was completely healed." (Signed)—

The quickness with which Resinol acts in most cases of skin disorder, amazes many people. Itching is usually stopped at once. To adopt Resinol Soap for every day toilet use is to keep the skin clear and soft. All druggists.

tion. Request by English hotel management for allotment of their space to the Red Cab Company instigated the debate.

Smiley Chambers, assistant city attorney, appeared before the council to show that the English hotel request was impartial, and Howard E. Robertson, secretary of the board of public safety, came, somewhat indignantly, at the request of the council, to explain the method of granting such taxi space.

Three ordinances were passed by the council: A $3,000 transfer to the Gamewell department, a $2,500 transfer in the financial department and a resolution authorizing Mayor L. Ert Stack to spend $500 in printing the proceedings of the litigation incurred by the city's acquisition of the Citizens Gas Company.

POOR FOOD CHARGED

War Widow Complains
About State Soldiers' Home.

Complaints regarding the food served the widows of Civil war veterans at the State Soldiers' home, Lafayette, have been repeatedly brought to the attention of C. F. Zillmer, commandant, by one of the women there, and today her complaint was brought to the attention of Governor Harry G. Leslie.

Mrs. Cozita R. Oliver, formerly of Indianapolis, a resident of the home for seventeen years, tells of the complaints in a letter to 'The Indianapolis Times.'

Mrs. Oliver charged that the food is served cold with skimmed milk; that meat is tough and of insufficient quantity, and that mush and hominy are the chief foods.
