

ST. LAWRENCE CANAL IN PERIL OVER TARIFF

Canadians Dislike Proposed High Duties; May Abandon Waterway Project.

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 5.—Progress toward a Canadian-American agreement on the St. Lawrence waterway project temporarily has been interrupted, and perhaps permanently, by the tariff situation here.

Dislike for the proposed Hawley-Smoot tariff schedules is increasing in Canada, according to reliable information received here.

Insofar as they affect Canada, some of the schedules are considered unfriendly.

In a recent report of the Foreign Policy Association, the opinion was expressed that Canada would suffer most from the proposed agricultural schedules.

"Canada," the report continued, "is our best consumer. In 1927 we exported more than $845,000,000 worth of goods to Canada while we imported only $475,000,000 worth of Canadian products. In 1928 our exports to Canada were valued at $916,000,000."

American officials do not concede any connection between the St. Lawrence project and our tariff, but it is admitted the pair are intimately linked in Canadian popular opinion.

For the time being, the United Press is informed, Canada is awaiting senate tariff action.

If the senate maintains the schedules in substantially their present form, authoritative observers believe the St. Lawrence waterway project will have to be considered indefinitely postponed.
