

TEN OCCUPANTS OF AUTOS HURT IN 5 CRASHES

Two Men Seriously Injured in Wreck at Sixteenth and Kessler.

Ten persons were injured in traffic mishaps in Indianapolis Friday night and this morning, police records showed today.

Falling asleep at the wheel, Edward Hanlon, 24, of 231 North Oriental street, lost control of his automobile which crashed into a safety zone guard at 607 West Washington street early today. Hanlon's jaw was broken, a number of teeth knocked out, and he suffered bruises and cuts on the face and head. He was taken to city hospital.

Sylvia Stark, 27, of 332 North Capitol avenue, suffered concussion of the brain and his skull probably was fractured, city hospital attendants said today, and Lawrence Bolderson, 24, of 416 West New York street, received abdominal injuries when their car crashed with another machine at Sixteenth street and Kessler boulevard Friday night.

Passenger Is Injured

Luke Inabitt, 1692 West Riverside drive, riding with Bolderson, also was hurt. A machine driven by Carl W. Rosnagle, 36, of 6219 Park avenue, made a left turn in front of Bolderson's auto, police were informed. Rosnagle was arrested on charges of reckless driving and assault and battery.

Donald Williams, 14, of 3292 Brookside Parkway, was run over by the windshield of an auto driven by his brother Harold, 24, at Dearborn street and Massachusetts avenue Friday night.

Machine Overtaken

A machine operated by Albert Wagoner, 25, of 1001 Waldemere street, overtook at Lyndhurst drive and Morris street, Friday, injuring Wagoner and Donald Loflin, 22, of 833 South Whitcomb street, riding with him.

Miss Zelma Kocher, 27, of Plainfield, Ind.; Meritt Mills, 20, of 2103 North Harding street; Fred A. Gons, 29, of 612 South Tibbs avenue, and an unidentified young woman, passenger in Gons' car, were injured when autos driven by Gons and Vincent C. Williams, 18, of 920 West Thirty-first street, collided in the 4400 block West Washington street Friday night.

'BRAIN TWIST' PLEA IS DENIED

Asked Freedom for Crime Tendency Operation.

Horace Messenger, Illinois youth awaiting federal grand jury investigation on motor theft charges, remained in the Marion county jail today as the result of failure of his attorney to obtain his release to permit an operation to correct possible criminal tendencies.

The attorney, E. C. Mills, Virginia (Ill.) state senator, told Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell that Messenger received injuries to his head in an automobile accident which he believed caused criminal tendencies.

DOG TRACK ATTORNEYS GET READY FOR SUIT

Hancock County Court Appeal Perfected in Injunction Case.

Arguments were being prepared by attorneys for the Indiana Kennel Club Ltd. today for hearing on the injunction suit of the club to prohibit police and deputy sheriffs from interfering with the investment system of betting. The suit is to be heard in the Hancock circuit court at Greentield.

Change of venue from Marion superior court one to the Hancock circuit court was perfected Friday by attorneys for the dog track.

Transcripts in the case were sent to Greentield and the costs of the transfer paid the Marion county clerk's office.

Nightly, except Sunday, the dogs race at the track on the Allisonville road under a betting ban. Officers patrolling the track's district report fair attendance.

NO SECRET IN BIRTH CONTROL, DOCTOR SAYS

Methods Common Knowledge, No Scientific Way, He Claims.

Birth control lectures are usually followed with broadsides of advertising literature and the movement patently is commercialized, whether leaders like Mrs. Margaret Sanger know it or not, according to Dr. William F. King, director of the state board of health.

"The birth control advocates surround their so-called message with an aura of mystery, but when it gets down to facts we usually find they have nothing new, special or scientific to offer," Dr. King asserted.

"They criticize the doctors because they are prohibited by law to disclose methods of birth prevention, but should the ban be lifted they would learn, as all doctors know, there isn't any secret to divulge."

"Often I receive letters from women requesting advice on birth control from the state board of health. I write and tell them it is against the law to divulge birth control information. But if it were not, the doctors would have no more to offer than what is now common knowledge."

"Like most common knowledge this is neither scientific nor certain. It seems to me that the birth-

MAIL BOX MAKER IS SENTENCED FOR MURDER

Manufacturer Killed Chicago Political Leader in Gun Duel.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Harry Coy, 60, manufacturer of government mail boxes, was under sentence of fourteen years in Joliet penitentiary today for the murder of Edward (Bull) Curran, brother of the late Thomas Curran, west side political leader.

Coy contended he shot Curran after the latter, a minor politician, had fired at him. Two small girls substantiated his self-defense plea.

LIGHTS FAG: ARRESTED

Co-Ed Scrapes Fender of Police Car in Taking Smoke.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Cigarettes got the best of Miss Muriel Cohn, 20, University of Chicago co-ed. While lighting one, her car scraped the right fender of the machine of Sergeant Michael Hackett's detective bureau squad.

She had to phone her father for bail after Hackett took her in on a charge of reckless driving.

control agitation is much ado about practically nothing.

"Not long ago I heard a young doctor advocate birth control and criticize the profession for not championing its cause. He seemed to have some knowledge about the matter which most of us did not, but it was only a few days until an advertisement came disclosing what the young doctor meant. It was just the same old idea and whether the young doctor knows it or not he is being exploited for commercial sales."

RISE OF CIVIC SPIRIT RESCUES MALLETT GOOFS

Croquet Marathoners Are Broke, Hungry Win Cash at Home.

DETROIT, July 20.—Citizens of this village scoffed when barber G. C. Hart and tailor L. R. Rose set off down the road to New York, knocking croquet balls before them, but it was another matter when the boys stalked home again broke and hungry, but unbeaten in their resolve to make their way to the metropolis.

The tenacity of its native sons warmed the hearts of Rule. The town went into its collective pocket and came back today with funds for Hart and Rose to continue.

Best wishes of the villagers will be behind the croquet cronies when they lay their wooden spheres on the line at Bryan, 100 miles away, July 23 and begin where they left off when the money gave out.

BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

The program of the Arndt band concert at Rhodius park Sunday at 4 p. m. will be:

"The Diplomat," "The Tattooed Man," "Dixie," "Hamiltonian," cornet solo; selections from "The Chocolate Soldier," selections from "The Isle of Dreams," "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," "Annie Laurie," "I Kiss Your Hand, Madam," "The Thunderer," and "The Star Spangled Banner."

MAN FALLS TO DEATH AFTER DRINKING PARTY

Chorus Girl Guest Tells Police Tragedy Was Accident.

DETROIT, July 20.—Donald Gulley, 27, of Chicago, jumped or fell to his death from the eighth floor of the Savoy hotel here early today. He was the fourth person to die in this manner here in the past six weeks.

Gulley, who police said had been drinking, may have toppled from the window while attempting to clear his head.

Pauline Elliott, a chorus girl, who Gulley had been entertaining, expressed the belief the fall was accidental.

One-half dozen bottles of empty and partly-filled liquor bottles were found in the room.

Miss Elliott was released after questioning.

J. A. BAKER RENAMED STATE BAR SECRETARY

Attorneys Make Plans for Annual Winter Meeting.

Joel A. Baker, city purchasing agent, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Indiana State Bar Association by the board of managers meeting at the Columbia Club Friday.

The meeting was the first presided over by Attorney General James M. Ogden, newly-elected president.

Plans for the annual winter meeting in Indianapolis were discussed and it was decided to invite Congressman James M. Beck of Pennsylvania, or President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago to speak.

STATE TEACHING LICENSE RULES ARE CHANGED

No New Second-Grade Certificates Will Be Issued by Board.

No more second grade teachers' licenses will be issued by the state department of public instruction. It was decided at the state education board meeting Friday afternoon in the office of Roy P. Wischard, superintendent of public instruction.

H. M. Whisler, director of teacher training, advised against further issuance of this class of license on grounds there is no demand for second grade teachers, schools, due to state board requirements, demanding teachers have first grade certificates.

Second grade certificates were issued upon completion of thirty-six weeks' training for elementary and three years for high school teaching. There are no high school teachers holding these certificates and only 405 township elementary schools employ teachers thus licensed. These will be renewed.

A cadet teachers' license was adopted, which will permit the holder to teach twelve weeks in elementary and nine in high school as training periods.

These will be issued to students who have completed four terms in elementary teacher training and three years for high school.

The board was given copies of the revised standards for graded schools to be acted upon at the next meeting.
