

MANCHURIA IS PIONEER LAND OF THE EAST

45 Million Acres of Soil Untouched by Plow.

The Russian-Chinese dispute has brought Manchuria to the front page in line with its policy of giving its clients the scientific and economic results through the three articles dealing with the geography and economic resources of this region. Here is the second.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Manchuria, especially the northern part through which runs the disputed Chinese Eastern railway, is the golden land of opportunity for Asia. This area, once the hunting ground of the Manchus, is now the promised land for thousands of immigrants. They are hunting not merely the wild game which still abounds, but the fertile land for farms and homes.

Last year about 1,500,000 people flocked from the war-torn and famished parts of China to the part of Manchuria served by the Chinese Eastern railway. It is estimated, however, about two-thirds of this territory still remains uncultivated. About forty-five million acres of rich arable land in North Manchuria are yet untouched by the plow.

Like the early settlers of our west, the pioneer in Manchuria must face the perils of banditry from tribes not unlike the Indians in their habits. But like our own colonists, he has the advantage of virgin land and a healthful, temperate climate. Dairen is the principal port of Manchuria and is located in the southernmost tip of the country. This city is in about the same latitude as Washington, D. C. The northern extreme of the country is in the latitude of Hudson Bay. The greatest distance east and west across the country is about the same as the distance from New York to Chicago.

Altogether the area of Manchuria is equal to that of the New England states, the Middle Atlantic states and also, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia. The population, however, is only half that of this section of the United States. The total length of the railway serving this land to which hordes are flocking is only 3,500 miles. In the equivalent area in the United States there are sixty thousand miles.

Alleged to Have Bought Goods on Another's Name.

At liberty under $500 bond, Mrs. Royce Colman, 29, who gave her address as the Lincoln hotel, today awaited trial in municipal court on a charge of obtaining merchandise under false pretenses as the result of Saturday's "shopping."

Mrs. Colman is alleged to have selected $78 worth of merchandise at the H. P. Wasson & Co. store, charging it to Mrs. Lillian Schermer of 230 East Pratt street, and instructing it to be delivered to the Washington hotel. An acquaintance of Mrs. Schermer happened to overhear the conversation and informed the management.

EQUITY ASKS INJUNCTION ON MOVIE ACTOR

Opens Fight to Force Closed Shop With Action Against Warners.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 22.—The Actors' Equity Association, having definitely opened its fight to force a closed shop in the motion picture studios with a $1,000,000 suit against Warner Brothers and Tully Marshall, a character actor, interest was shifted here today to the courts.

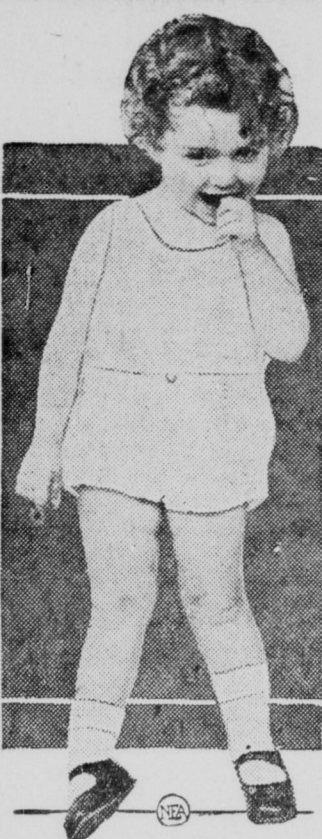

In its complaint, Actors' Equity asked Marshall, who signed a non-Equity agreement with Warner Brothers, be enjoined from working except under an Equity contract.

It charged Warners not only influenced the actor's violation, but caused him to give out an interview denouncing Equity.

Although no temporary order restraining Marshall from working in the picture of Warner Brothers from proceeding with production has been issued, Superior Judge Marshall McComb has ordered the actor to appear July 29 to show cause why such an injunction should not be granted.

Neither Will Hays, head of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, nor Jack Warner would comment on Equity's move.

TAX GARNERING CAUSES STRIFE

Rough Methods Alleged at Evansville.

By Times Special
EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 22.—A whirlwind effort of Charles O. Wesselman, Vanderburgh county treasurer, to force collection of taxes with the aid of Charles Behrman and aids, considered as experts in such work, is meeting opposition here.

A few days ago City Judge McCoy strongly condemned the collectors when evidence reached him that in effort to seize an automobile, they beat a son of the owner. The sheriff's office is receiving complaints from persons in poor financial circumstances declaring red cards have been posted at their home announcing household effects are to be sold.

In Superior court, John W. Lobhart has filed suit against Wesselman and Behrman, charging an illegal attempt to seize his automobile. He asks $300 damages.

Three deaths were reported, many were injured and several persons are missing.

The storm broke over London, flooding basements and tying up traffic, and then moved along a 200-mile strip of the southern coast. Damage was heavy at coast resorts.
