

TAXPAYERS ASK STATE TO HALT SEWER BUILDING

Citizens Seek Ogden's Aid in Prosecuting Rockville Officials.

Phil F. Gaebler, chairman of an organization of Rockville taxpayers, and C. R. Collins, attorney for the group, today called on both Lawrence F. Orr of the state board of accounts and Attorney General James M. Ogden in an effort to enlist aid in attempting to bring collusion charges against certain Rockville officials and halt the construction of a $103,700 sewer project there.

The sewer business has already been investigated by field examiners of the state board of accounts. The report, filed with Orr July 18, discloses that in certain instances specifications have not been carried out, tile was laid in mud, inspection was inadequate and 600 tile broken. Less than one mile of the seven-mile sewer has been built, Gaebler said.

Neglected Charged
It was to have been paid out of Barrett law assessments, but he alleges that $20,000 has already been taken from the general fund, having been shifted there from the electric light plant revenue.

All other civic projects are being neglected, he told the attorney-general.

It is alleged that Benjamin F. Stephenson, Parke county prosecutor, is also attorney for the Rockville town board and receiving special fees for carrying on the sewer business.

Gaebler alleges that the present sewer and disposal plant is substandard and the new sewer is unwanted by the majority of the taxpayers and being built over their registered protest.

Only One Bidder
Caldwell Engineering Company, Jacksonville, Ill., designed the sewer layout and Claude Ott, Rockville, is consulting engineer. The contract was let to D'Andrea Brothers, Chicago Heights, the only bidder, after the bid was once rejected, it is alleged, and has since been turned over to a sub-contractor.

It is alleged that there was collusion in the use of title of a certain brand and that the entire project has been irregular.

Prohibition Defies Laws of Nature, Lecturer Says

Conscience Should Be Guide, Not Compulsion, Says Spiritualist-Pastor.

"Let your conscience be your guide" was the subject of Dr. A. J. McVior Tyndall, spiritualist lecturer, psychologist and educator in the last of a series Wednesday night in the Claypool hotel.

"Prohibition will never do away with alcohol; punishment will never do away with crime; and compulsory church attendance will never do away with sin," Dr. Tyndall declared. "People should rule themselves; they should not have to depend on a government to dictate what they eat and drink."

Dr. Tyndall asserted it was un-Christian to condemn alcohol. "Fermentation is as natural as gravity," he declared, "and to try to prevent it is to go against the laws of nature."

Belief the church can never succeed until it changes its form and name was expressed by the spiritualist leader.

"A stigma has been placed on the church that it can not live down," Dr. Tyndall commented. "My church, if I could reorganize Christianity, would be a church of all classes. It

POWER BATTLE LOOMS IN RACE FOR JUDGESHIP

Watson Boosts Sparks for Anderson Post: Robinson Is Silent.

BY BEN STERN
Despite reports emanating from Washington that Senators James E. Watson and Arthur Robinson had reached an accord on the selection of a successor to Judge A. B. Anderson, retiring member of the federal circuit court of appeals, war clouds loom which are expected to result in a showdown of power between the Indiana senators.

It was authoritatively learned today that Senator Watson is definitely committed to the candidacy of Judge Will M. Sparks of Rushville, with Fred C. Gause as second choice.

That there may be need for a second-choice candidate for the bench is pointed out by members of the attorney-general's office, who cited the age limit of 60 for bench appointments.

Age Is Handicap
Sparks is said to be 57 years old and may be able to qualify.

So far there has been no expression from the Robinson forces regarding Sparks's candidacy.

"Senator Watson would like very much to see his old friend Judge Sparks appointed," Mr. Burr, Thurman, Indiana Republican national committeeman, who returned today from Washington, declared.

"There has been the closest of friendship between the two."

Gause Second Choice
"If however, Sparks is stricken off the list," by the attorney-general's office it is extremely probable that Gause will be second choice," Thurman declared.

This is expected to bring the show down for power, as Robinson is not expected to concur in this choice inasmuch as Gause is a partner of Arthur L. Gilliom, former attorney-general, who bitterly fought for Robinson's seat in 1928 primary.

and also because Gause was one of the jurors of the court selected by the supreme court to pass on the contempt of court guilt of the Rev. E. S. Shumaker, Anti-Saloon League head. Gause concurred in the opinion of guilt.

The Robinson forces have remained strangely quiet, while it is known that they are concentrating their efforts behind his law partner, Fred A. Symmes.

'Peaches' Browning Will Be Arrested as Speeder

By United Press
BROOKLYN, July 25.—A warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Frances (Peaches) Heenan Browning was issued here today when she failed to appear to answer a summons given her last night for speeding.

Peaches Browning

The estranged wife of the eccentric millionaire, Edward West (Daddy) Browning, has been ticketed by Motorcycle Policeman Charles McNally, who said her eight-cylinder roadster was traveling forty-two miles an hour along Nassau boulevard.

When her case was called before Magistrate Thomas Doyle here today, Edgar Allen, who said he was her personal representative, appeared for her. He said she was ill, but could furnish no doctor's certificate to prove it.

McNally, who knew her when she lived in Astoria, L. I., before her marriage, said Mrs. Browning appeared well enough when he gave her the summons. The warrant issued by the magistrate calls for hailing the speeder into court next Tuesday.

POWER PAPERS HEARING SET

Ownership of Four Dixie Dailies in Dispute.

By United Press
ATLANTA, Ga., July 25.—Judge A. L. Franklin of the Richmond superior court here, has issued an order to William Lavarre to appear in court on Aug. 5, to show why he should not place stock in four papers, purchased by himself and Harold Hall, in the hands of Thomas J. Hamilton, receiver of the four publications.

Two Spartanburg (S. C.) newspapers, one in Columbia, S. C., and the Augusta Chronicle were purchased by the two men with funds furnished by the International Paper and Power Company. Stock of the four papers amounts to $870,000.

Hall brought an injunction against Lavarre a month ago to halt a stockholders' and directors' meeting of the Augusta Chronicle, which he said was to be held to elect officers suitable to Lavarre, and asked the appointment of a temporary receiver. Lavarre denied Hall's claim of half ownership in the four newspapers.

BLASTS ROCK CHICAGO LOOP: CREATE PANIC

Powder Bombs Explode Near Department Store and Bank.

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 25.—Loop theater crowds stampeded for shelter when a black powder bomb exploded in the rear of the Davis Company's department store Wednesday night.

The blast rocked the entire south end of the downtown business district. The detonation was heard a mile or more away.

Smoke and powder fumes rolled from the alley. Glass fell from shattered windows as high as the fourth and fifth floors of the Davis store and neighboring buildings.

Philip Iwanski, a chauffeur, gathering waste material from the alley, said he noticed a pasteboard box at a freight entrance to the department store.

"I picked it up," he told police. "It felt hot. I didn't know what it was. I laid it down again and walked on. I hadn't gone but a few feet until there was a terrific flash and explosion."

Of the 1,157 motor ships in service during 1920, only 27 flew the American flag.

New Million Dollar Breakfast Food Discovery

Quaker Oats Company scientists create unique ready-to-eat breakfast food with new flavor, lasting crispness. Food value of three cereals in one.

NOW you can have for breakfast, all that's best in America's three supreme grain foods: wheat, oats and corn, in one delicious cereal, called Quaker Crackels.

Quaker Oats scientists spent some 17 years of research to discover them. Countless experiments were performed. New machinery was designed. Close on to one million dollars was spent.

Finally the new "blended" cereal was perfected, with finer flavor, crispier texture, than any single cereal has ever had.

Never before have these three grains been successfully blended. Never before the protein and carbohydrate of oatmeal, the splendid energy of wheat—the rich nourishment of corn in one cereal!

Oven blending gives this new breakfast delight lasting crispness. No oven heating, no recrisping before serving. Stays crisp to the last spoonful, in spite of milk and cream. If you've tired of the same old round of breakfast cereals, try Quaker Crackels tomorrow morning. Your grocer has them.
