Economy Problem Has Many Obstacles, President Hoover Finds.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary of War Good today ordered the general staff to overhaul the war department organization in an effort to meet President Hoover's demand for reduced expenses.

The President's week-end fishing camp conference with Good, Assistant Secretaries Davidson and Hurley and General Summerall, chief of staff, uncovered many obstacles, but no solution of the economy problem.

Good said today he was hopeful of discovering three possible means of economy.

1. Removal of duplications.
2. Delay in current programs already under way.
3. Elimination of obsolete services.

Whether this will be possible, Good believes, depends upon results of the general staff investigations. If no duplications are discovered it will be necessary to depend for economies upon curtailment of expensive current programs or upon elimination.

The general staff investigation, Good said, will be carried on with a safe program of national defense in mind in order prospective economies would not create dangers.

Dispute.

Thomas W. Jackson, 40, of 527 East Fifty-ninth street, who police say bumped another automobile with his car five times to force it off the road at Thirty-eighth street, and on Keystone avenue and then attacked its driver and his companion with a golf niblick when they followed him to his home Sunday, was held today on charges of reckless driving.

E. C. Stahlhut, 25, of 250 North Oakland street, driver of the other car, exhibited a bruise on his nose when he asked Jackson's arrest and Jackson showed a broken pair of spectacles.

MEXICAN IS MISSING

Youth Saved From Life Sentence
Believed in Mexico.

Vito Sanchez, 21, paroled Mexican youth of Gary, who once had been given a death sentence in this state, is thought to be back in his native country. He hasn't reported on his parole since last February, according to officials of the Indiana state reformatory and Russell B. Harrison, Indianapolis, Mexican consul.

Sanchez secured a new trial, through Harrison's efforts, after the reversal of the death sentence case by the supreme court. He was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to from one to ten years and later paroled.

FATHER ATTACKS SON

Drunken Parent Faces Several Charges.

Alleged to have struck his 8-year-old son, Frederick, cutting him above the right eye, when the latter attempted to shield his mother from the father's drunken abuse Saturday night, Christopher Dorman, 311 Spring street, today faced charges of disorderly conduct, drunkenness, and assault and battery.

Four stitches were required to close the wound on the boy's face. Mrs. Dorman told police her husband also threatened her with a butcher knife.

Approximately 25,000 persons attended the event. Prominent visitors included: C. E. Wilson, vice-president of the General Motors Corporation, and F. C. Kroeger, president and general manager of Delco Remy.

SLACK SUIT WITHDRAWN

Miami Bank Withdraws Claims for Unpaid Notes Against Mayor.

The City National bank of Miami, Fla., today withdrew a suit filed some time ago in federal court against Mayor L. Ert Slack and Mrs. Slack. No reason was given for the withdrawal, but it was understood settlement was made out of court.

Payment of $6,000, alleged to be due on three notes executed in 1925, was sought in the suit. The notes, payable to J. H. C. Realty Company, each for $1,333, were said to have been assigned to the bank.

Man.

Judgment was withheld in municipal court today in the case of Paul Knauss, 24, of 1720 Montclair street, charged with petit larceny Sunday when seven golf balls were found in his car parked near the Avalon Country Club golf course.

Knauss admitted picking up the balls in a field opposite the course, but denied stealing them from the course as they came over the brow of a hill.

CITY LEVY IS CUT TO TOTAL OF 65 CENTS

Budget Calls for Increase of 1.5 Over Rate for

City council will be asked for a 65-cent levy for the city general fund, city officials decided today. The request will be 1.5 cents increase over the 1928 rate, the jump being necessary to meet a raise in interest on outstanding bonds.

The 65-cent levy will leave an un-budgeted balance of between $35,000 and $50,000 which can be distributed to the various funds by the city manager commission, which will take office Jan. 1. This balance will enable the new form to meet certain expenditures not included in the 1930 budget under the old form of government, Mayor L. Ert Slack said.

No decision has been reached on the total city rate because several special levies are not set for next year, but City Controller Sterling R. Holt indicated the rate will be about $1.16, 6-cent jump.

Fire Chief Harry E. Voshell recommended appropriation of about $6,000 to equip five fire engine houses with steam heating plants. Voshell originally asked $25,000 to equip seventeen stations which have coal stoves, but agreed to make the change gradual. Some houses have as high as seven stoves.

In a letter to Mayor L. Ert Slack, Voshell pointed out the use of stoves in engine houses is in violation of the city ordinance which prohibits an open flame in proximity of gasoline apparatus.

Holt slashed Voshell's request from $1,651,000 to $1,404,000, allowing an increase to provide four extra firemen and $11,000 for new equipment. Police Chief Claude M. Worley's budget was cut from $1,402,000 to $1,358,000, reducing the additional policemen from fifty to thirty.

DUNPHY SEEKS AIR-MAIL LINE

Chamber of Commerce
Urges Direct Route.

C. G. Dunphy, assistant industrial commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, left today for Washington, D. C., with exhibits and records to be presented on behalf of Indianapolis in its plea for an airmail line from New York to St. Louis by way of Indianapolis.

The hearing on the proposed line will be held Wednesday and Thursday before the inter-department committee of the postoffice and commerce departments of the government. C. L. Harrod, industrial commissioner of the chamber, is in Washington laying ground work for the city's claim to be placed on the proposed route.

Records of air mail poundage sent east and west out of Indianapolis with letters from large manufacturers urging the new line formed a portion of Dunphy's plea for its establishment.

At the present, east-bound New York mail is dispatched to Chicago by air and then sent to New York. The proposed route through Pittsburgh, Columbus and Dayton, O., would give large firms in Indiana a quick communication system with New York City.

Harrod and Dunphy, aided by Congressman Louis Ludlow, are citing the use of the Mars Hill airport by the transcontinental plane passenger service, recently installed, as proving the good weather conditions that prevail in Indiana and the feasibility of the proposed line.

Dr. Neal warns against Flies and Mosquitoes

Ohio State Director of Health says they are a menace to Summer Health and Cleanliness

"A little insect but a great spreader of disease," says the U. S. Public Health Service, speaking of the common house fly. "Thousands of people die every year from diseases transmitted by flies!"

There is no such thing as a clean fly. Every fly is born in filth and spreads millions of germs over everything it touches—hands, face and food. Flies are known carriers of disease. Kill flies. Kill all of them.

Do not wait until flies become annoying. Kill every single fly you see. One fly, left alive, may multiply to 1,500,000,000 flies in four months! Now that there is an easy way to get rid of all insects, there is no excuse for suffering from them.

Kill flies for the babies' and children's sake. Health investigations have proved there is twice as much sickness among babies in homes where flies and dirt abound, as in clean and flyless homes. Mosquitoes, too, are winged torturers. No one is safe from the blood-sucking bite of the mosquito. Kill mosquitoes—all of them.

IMPORTANT
For best results, follow the directions for the various uses of FLIT contained on every FLIT can. FLIT is best applied with the handy FLIT sprayer.

There is no excuse for tolerating flies and mosquitoes today, when it is so easy to kill every last one with FLIT. FLIT is the ideal insect-killer. Although FLIT has a greater percentage of insect-killing ingredients, and is deadly to all household insects, it is perfectly harmless to people and can be freely and safely used in any home. Its vapors will not stain. FLIT is guaranteed to work or money back. FLIT is not made to sell at a low price, but is made to a high standard of service and uniform quality. On account of its many superior features, refuse substitutes and insist on the original, genuine FLIT—the World's Largest Selling Insecticide. More for the money in the quart size.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Chicago crime wave rolled right up to Detective John Foran and halted.

Out of the west came Louis Allen, 22, in search of money which he needed to get back to his home in Chicago. He devised an ingenious plan, pocketed a pistol and took a walk.

"Stick 'em up," said Louis to a man in a sedan.

Detective Foran climbed out of the sedan, made a fist out of his hand and flung the fist against Louis' jaw.

Louis and his reputation as a Chicago hood had man collapsed simultaneously.

At the police station where he was booked for attempted robbery, he said it was his first job.

SENATOR RAPS BOOK CENSORS

Cutting Flays Action of Treasury Department.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Action of the treasury department in barring such books as Voltaire's "Candide" and the unexpurgated English edition of "All Quiet on the Western Front" from entry into this country was criticized in a statement made public today by Senator B. M. Cutting (Dem., N. C.).

Declaring the exclusion of "Candide" has brought on America the "ridicule of the civilized world," Cutting said a section of the house tariff bill, now with the Senate, would extend the treasury department's censorship of books to those considered "seditious and insurrectionary, as well as obscene."

"If this amendment should be interpreted in the same spirit as the original section, it will exclude all advanced political thought, and, in fact, any opinions which do not happen to coincide with those of the inspectors," Cutting said.

"The long run, the American people can be trusted to take care of their own moral and spiritual welfare, without the aid of any bureaucratic guardians," he declared.

STATE NOT TO MIX IN BOOTLEGGER'S TRIAL

Three Prosecutors Enough for One Case, Ogden Decides.

Merl Wall, deputy attorney-general, returned to the statehouse today with the assurance to his chief, Attorney-General James M. Ogden, that the alleged bootlegger and roadhouse owner, August Holskamp, is being properly prosecuted at Vincennes.

Vigo county officials had asked aid from Ogden in proceedings to take Holskamp's roadhouse near Oaktown.

Prosecutor Norman Ortenburn of Vigo county has called Senator Hill (Rep., Vincennes) and Ewing Emerson, Vigo county Republican chairman, to aid as counsel in the case and Wall thought that was enough assistance for the prosecution of one bootlegger.

POLICE CAPTAIN DIES

Following an attack of apoplexy, Frank E. Row, 55, of 846 Edison street, a retired Indianapolis police captain, died suddenly at Rockford, Mich., Saturday night. Captain Row, who was widely known, was born at Osgood and came to Indianapolis when a young man.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lula Row; a daughter, Mrs. Lucille Ferree; four brothers, Dr. G. S. Row of Indianapolis, Clarence and Perry Row of Osgood and Charles Row of Grand Rapids, Mich. Private funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Ferree Wednesday afternoon.

CHARLES A. NEAL, M.D., Director of Health, State of Ohio, says: "The spread of certain communicable diseases by various insects has long been recognized in Public Health work. The spread of malaria fever and yellow fever by certain breeds of mosquitoes, as well as the spread of typhoid fever, infantile diarrhea and other forms of intestinal disturbances by the common house fly have been definitely proven. Any efforts to exclude these pests from homes is to be encouraged."

U. S. BOARD TO SELECT 'DOPE' PRISON SITES

First Meeting of Group to Choose Farm Location's
Set for Tuesday.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The government board appointed to select locations for the two authorized narcotic farm prisons will hold its first meeting Tuesday at the department of justice.

The meeting will be for the purpose of formulating a definite policy to govern selections of the sites, according to Dr. Walter Treadway, head of the narcotic division of the United States public health service, who represents the treasury department of the board.

Treadway said it is probable the actual inspection of the several hundred proposed sites will be left to the supervising architect of that department.

"Owners of more than 250 pieces of property in all sections of the country have offered to sell us land and unusual interest is being manifested by many Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations in attempting to land one of the prisons for their community," Treadway said.

"Our present intention is to have the supervising architect draft a set of specifications and advertise for bids on all properties. He then will inspect the sites on all low bids and report his recommendations to the board."

Although only five months remain before congress convenes in regular session, Treadway said the board hopes to have its report ready to present to actual appropriations can be made during the session.

INSULL UTILITY COMPANY WILL DIVIDE STOCK

Shareholders Get Gift of $67,000,000 in Finance
Plan.

By United Press

NEW YORK, July 29.—An outright gift of almost $67,000,000 to stockholders in Samuel Insull's Middle West Utilities Company, one of the largest utilities companies in the world, is contained in a plan just announced by directors.

The plan also calls for the splitting up of common stock on a ten-for-one basis to make the stock purchasable at a lower price per share, encouraging wider distribution and giving persons of moderate means a chance to invest.

It is the intention of the directors to issue one share of stock at $200, more than $150 below the market price, for each four shares of the company stock owned by the public. The company has 1,808,245 shares outstanding and this means stockholders will be issued 452,061 shares, each good for a profit of about $150. Their total profit, therefore, will amount to $67,809,150.

A complete reorganization of the financial structure of the company is included in the plan, which provides for calling in of all prior lien and preferred stock and paying off of funded debt.
