

BOULDER DAM LAND SCHEMES APPEAR HERE

Better Business Bureau
Warns Promoters Are Promising Riches.

Investigate thoroughly before you invest any money in Boulder Dam land promotion schemes, the Better Business Bureau warned Indianapolis citizens today.

The warning followed receipt of information one set of promoters is trying to sell to Indianapolis persons land within a few miles of N. land, Cal., a village of 300, near which eight persons were found dead from exhaustion and lack of water as they tried to cross the desert in an ancient automobile several days ago.

Verdant Land of Promise
The promoters are describing the desert as verdant and of promise. The bureau warning says the same flood of schemes as followed the Muscle Shoals development in Tennessee is in the wake of congressional authorization of the Boulder dam project. Experts familiar with construction of the dam tell the bureau it will be from twelve to fifteen years before any water for irrigation will be available from Boulder dam and the chief benefit will be to districts far below, which already have a species of irrigation.

Californians Deceived
One concern defrauded 1,000 Californians by selling them "Boulder Dam" land which, it was discovered, was from 1,200 to 1,400 feet above the level of the Colorado river. It is a matter of common knowledge, the bureau pointed out, that it is impractical to pump water for irrigation purposes higher than 150 feet.

At present, the bureau points out, no one knows definitely what lands will be subject to irrigation from the dam.

Gone, but Not Forgotten

Automobiles reported to the police as stolen belong to:

Wilbur A. Schmitt, 842 North Oxford street, Chevrolet coupe, 47-688, from Senate avenue and Market street.

C. A. Bequette, Chicago, Ill., Chevrolet sedan, 113-411 Illinois, from Lafayette, Ind.

John Nolan, Lebanon, Ind., Auburn sedan, 562-343, from Illinois and New York streets.

Charles A. Dugger, 2624 West Walnut street, Ford sport coupe, 82-858, from Warman avenue and Michigan street.

Earl Burger, 1428 Comer avenue, Studebaker touring, 717-942, from Shelby street and Southern avenue.

Harry L. Tardy, Company G, 11th Infantry, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ford sport coupe, 134-026 Texas, from downtown parking space.

Robert Smock, 2517 Woods street, Ford touring, 748-889, from Fairmont Glass Company.

BACK HOME AGAIN

Stolen automobiles recovered by the police belong to:

Lexington touring car, no license, found in front of 1836 North Illinois street.

Homer Miller, 511 East New York street, Oldsmobile coach, found at Illinois and Wilkins streets.

Will They Pay?

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 2.—Almee Sempie McPherson put over a fast one on the devil Thursday night.
At an evangelistic meeting at the Municipal auditorium, Mrs. McPherson asked those who would contribute $1 to her campaign against the minions of Satan to stand up.
A few persons in widely-scattered sections arose.
Mrs. McPherson's band then struck up "The Star-Spangled Banner."
The audience arose, en masse.

FIGHTS TO GET SON

Mother Files Habeas Corpus
After Action Fails.

A second court action was on file today by Mrs. Eva Surface, 39 North Keystone avenue, who is attempting to obtain custody of her 11-year-old son, Edgar.

Mrs. Surface lost her first move in juvenile court Thursday when Judge Frank J. Lahr allowed the child to remain with Mrs. Lillian Allspaw, a sister of Mrs. Surface, at whose residence the mother also has been staying. Mrs. Surface then filed habeas corpus proceedings in superior court one.

Domestic altercation led to the departure of Mrs. Surface from her sister's home and the subsequent court action, it is alleged.

Man in Pajamas Walks Streets

MUNCIE, Ind., Aug. 2.—The pajama fad has invaded Muncie, but the man who introduced them as street apparel, didn't linger long. He appeared on the streets only a few moments and then sought refuge in a barber shop. Muncie citizens didn't seem greatly interested.
