

TWO KILLED IN GRAVE DIGGERS' STRIKE DISPUTE

Bullets Fly as Violence Is Started Outside Cemeteries.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Two men were found dead near cemeteries today, presumably an outgrowth of the grave-diggers' strike for higher wages at Calvary cemetery in Queens.

Stanley Zasadzinski, 40, one of 300 Calvary cemetery grave-diggers, who walked out more than a week ago, was discovered shot to death just outside of Calvary cemetery No. 4. He was believed to have had an argument with strikebreakers, 200 of whom had been hired to bury bodies in trenches and such separate graves as they could dig.

The body of an unidentified young man, believed to have been "taken for a ride," was found at the entrance of Evergreen cemetery. There were several bullet wounds in the back of his head.

Philip Nuninziotti, a strikebreaker, was arrested charged with firing the shot that killed Zasadzinski.

The shooting is said to have occurred when Zasadzinski and about forty other strikers stoned a bus carrying strikebreakers to the cemetery. A pitched battle ensued in which several shots were fired.

Police held several strikers and strikebreakers for questioning.

SCARFACE AL CAPONE GIVEN JAIL TRANSFER

Alleged Threats by Fellow Prisoners Believed Cause of Removal.

BY UNITED PRESS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—Scarface Al Capone, ruler of Chicago's notorious underworld, today enjoyed a change of scenery and feels more or less at ease again.

Thursday Al secretly was transferred from Holmesburg county prison, where he and Frank Kline, his bodyguard, were sentenced to a year's imprisonment for carrying concealed deadly weapons, to the Eastern penitentiary.

The reason given out by prison officials was that Holmesburg was overcrowded, but the "grapevine" of the underworld "had it straight" Capone's safety had been threatened at the county jail.

No other prisoners, it was pointed out, were transferred to relieve the congestion.

It was rumored Scarface had been given special privileges, thus incurring the dislike of fellow inmates.

Dislike and jealousy grew to such proportions open threats were made against the famed racketeer.

He also will be given a number, a practice not in force in the county prisons.

Menor convicts always are sentenced to the county prisons and Cherry Hill, the name by which the Eastern penitentiary is better known, receives only those caught committing a felony.

In previous cases, judges have ruled they could not transfer persons committed to a county prison for misdemeanors, but Judge John McDevitt, who issued the order for Capone's removal, declared there was nothing unusual in his action.

Capone spent today, and will spend several more days, in quarantine.

After that he probably will be given some work to do.

At Holmesburg he idled his time away in his cell, but conditions at Cherry Hill permit nearly every prisoner to do work of some kind.
