WOODMEN PLAN MEMBER DRIVE

Intensive 'Push' to Be Begun by Marion Camp.

Plans for an intensive membership campaign are being completed by Marion camp, Modern Woodmen of America, for the men, women and juvenile divisions. It was announced by Woodmen officials today.

Women are to be taken into the organization for the first time. This action follows adoption of by-laws by the head camp in Chicago, permitting women and juveniles to become members. The women's division will hold meetings separate from the men.

Insurance protection is now offered by the Woodmen to women, men and children.

District deputies met in a round table conference at the lodge hall, 322 East New York street, last week and discussed plans for the membership drive. M. T. Wright, district deputy, is heading the drive.

Another discussion group will meet at the hall Sept. 7 when the new forms of insurance protection will be explained. Officials at the meeting will be Charles Mitchell, Greenfield, field deputy; Frank Kleffer, Fortville; K. S. Tansil, Lebanon, and Ira Little, Indianapolis. Camp deputies also will attend.

Arrangements were completed this week for the organization of a new camp of Modern Woodmen at Beech Grove, it was announced. Field Deputy Little has enlisted the necessary membership, and has applied for the charter.

The camp will be instituted officially by State Deputy George E. Hopkins Sept. 6.

SCOTTISH RITE RECRUITS BIG DEGREE CLASS

Membership Committee Holds Meetings in Other Cities of State.

Meetings were held in several Indiana cities this week by the membership committee of the Ancient Order of Accepted Scottish Rite, preparatory to the first exemplification of degrees in the new cathedral here Sept. 26.

Ceremonies for candidates to be initiated, following the dedication of the cathedral Sept. 26, will surpass all previous ritualistic presentations in the country, officers of the rite have announced.

Meetings were held this week at Bloomington, Terre Haute and Rockville, under auspices of Scottish Rite organizations.

Interest Is Aroused

Interest is being aroused in the district meetings held by officers and committees of the Indianapolis jurisdiction. Martin L. Koons, Newcastle, is state membership chairman. The principal speaker at the sessions has been Edgar Llewellyn of Newcastle, superintendent of schools.

Other officers working on plans for dedication and exemplification ceremonies include John F. Engleke, Marshall T. Levey, Fred I. Willis, secretary, and Tine P. Dickinson, thrice potent master, all of Indianapolis.

A large number of Master Masons will take degrees in the new cathedral. The first work in the new home will be given first section candidates on Wednesday evenings, beginning Sept. 26, and continuing through Nov. 27.

Petition Deadline Set

Petitions for this section must be presented not later than Sept. 11. Degrees in the second section will be conferred during the semi-annual convocation and reunion, Dec. 2 to 5. One hundred Masons attended the district meeting in Bloomington on Tuesday night. Will A. Stoute of Bloomington had charge of the program, on which several grand lodge officers appeared. Secretary Willis spoke on the new cathedral at Indianapolis. He said it is the only property on Meridian street appraised at $3,000,000.

Anton Brees is giving concerts on the carillon Tuesday and Sunday evenings. On Monday evenings the concert is broadcast over WFBM radio station.

For the last sixty years the G. A. R. has conducted the jubilee, but as only two or three members of that organization now are living, management of the event has been transferred to the Red Men.

A basket dinner and children's amusements have been arranged. Members of the G. A. R. will be honor guests. Arch H. Hobbs of Indianapolis, great chief of records, will deliver a patriotic address, and Great Sachem R. B. Whitton of Knightstown will speak on "Advantages of Being a Red Man."

A concert by the Madison band will feature the afternoon program. The committee in charge is composed of F. L. Morland, Lee Bair and James Bibbs.

NO WEAKER SEX IN LODGE WORK, CLAIM

Moose Head Says Women Excel Men in Proficiency.

There is "no weaker sex" in lodge work, according to Wallace A. McGowan, supreme dictator of Moose lodges, who says "women are putting the men to shame by excelling in lodge work."

He discovered the fact in a strange and unusual way. He says that if you ask a group of men for a photograph they will shrug their shoulders and about half of them will turn out for the occasion, but if you ask the women—the attendance is 100 per cent.

While the rest of the men grin and say the ladies are strong for publicity, McGowan defends them by saying they take their work more seriously than the men.

TRIBES CONSOLIDATE

Tishimingo in Merger With Wewaka Body.

Consolidation of Wewaka tribe, No. 355, order of Red Men, New York and Denny streets, with Tishimingo tribe No. 210, was recently completed by committees from the two organizations, Arch H. Hobbs, great chief of records, announced today.

Officers of Tishimingo tribe who will continue in office for this term are: Fred Black, sachem; Russell Zartman, senior sagamore; H. C. Behn, chief of records; Sherman Hendricks, collectors of wampum, and Kenneth Parrish, keeper of wampum.

Those on the committee from Wewaka who helped in the consolidation were W. E. Bryant, F. F. Dietz, and Charles Alford.
