

LENIENCY FIGHT IS FORECAST IN PANTAGES CASE

Sentence Delay First Step of Defense Battle for Probation.

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—A physical collapse which prevented the appearance of Mrs. Lois Pantages in superior court Friday to be sentenced for the automobile crash death of Juro Rokumoto was believed to foreshadow a vigorous defense attempt to obtain probation. Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy continued sentencing until Monday after hearing the report of Dr. John B. Barrows, whom he had appointed to visit Mrs. Pantages in her home. Attorneys for the millionaire theater man's wife said they did not believe she would be able to appear at that time.

The district attorney's office had indicated that it will not oppose parole on the manslaughter conviction, but will leave the disposition of the case entirely to the court.

Suffers From Shock
Dr. Barrows, president of the Los Angeles Medical Association, reported that Mrs. Pantages had a temperature one degree above normal, and was suffering with a severe cold with attendant bronchitis and severe nervous shock from the strain of the trial.

"I do not think it would be wise to bring her here today, but I think she will be well enough Monday," Judge Hardy explained that the reason he had allowed Mrs. Pantages liberty pending sentence was that he believed it would be inhuman to place a woman behind the bars in her condition.

State Starts Probe
Meanwhile, District Attorney Buron Fitts began his promised grand jury investigation of asserted perjury by witnesses for Mrs. Pantages. Stylishly gowned women waited in the anteroom today to be called before the grand jury. Prominent among the witnesses were Mrs. Bertha Jacobs, who left Mrs. Pantages' automobile a few minutes before the fatal crash, and John Conerno, service station operator, who testified that another car forced Mrs. Pantages to the wrong side of the road.

Alexander Pantages, husband of Mrs. Pantages, will go to trial next Tuesday on a charge of attacking Eunice Pringle, 17, dancer.

UNVEILING IS SLATED

Typographical Union to Hold Statue Ceremonies.

A statue of Benjamin Franklin, chiseled to adorn the Franklin building, Market street and Monument circle, which was given to Typographical Union No. 1 when the building was razed several months ago, will be unveiled at 2 p. m. Sunday, at organization headquarters, North Meridian street.

When the Typographical union sent the statue to the "cleaning shop" they found it was made from an expensive stone, by John H. Mahoney.

Unveiling ceremonies will include music by the union band, addresses by Leo M. Rappaport, Charles P. Howard and Woodruff Randolph, union officials, and presentation and acceptance of the statue.

CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS FACES LODGE'S SUIT

Injunction Sought Against Street Widening Harmful to Building.

By Times Special
NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Sept. 28.—Judge Fred E. Hines is holding a special session of the Hamilton circuit court during vacation, hearing an injunction suit of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, against the city of Indianapolis, brought here on a change of venue from Marion county.

The case concerns the proposed widening of Massachusetts avenue in Indianapolis. The lodge claims that if the widening is done as originally planned it will damage the basement of the lodge's building, in which a restaurant is located.

The lodge seeks injunction prohibiting the city from proceeding with the work as now planned.

JOHN, FLO ARE AT TRUMBULL HUNTING LODGE

Newlyweds Arrive Finally at Destination of Honey-moon.

By United Press
ROCKWOOD, Me., Sept. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. John Coolidge, arrived here tonight at the hunting lodge of Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut, to finish their honeymoon in the seclusion of the Maine woods.

The newlyweds drove into Greenville junction in Florence's blue roadster late Friday afternoon and were met at Moosehead Lake by E. W. Vandyke, the Trumbull guide.

The latter then transported them by motorboat to the farther end of the lake, where the Trumbull hunting lodge is located.

John and his wife departed from Plymouth, Vt., early Friday after stopping at the Coolidge homestead there for two days.

The huge camp was in readiness to receive the couple, as arrangements were made several days ago, it was learned.

The bride's parents, Governor and Mrs. Trumbull, are expected to arrive at the lodge in a few days. Meanwhile, the young Coolidges will enjoy the solitude of the woods as very few persons, with the exception of an occasional hunter, traverse that section at this time of year.

LIEBER'S WILL INCLUDES GIFTS

Three Charitable and Civic Organizations Benefit.

Bequests to three Indianapolis charitable and civic organizations were provided in the will of Robert Lieber, prominent business man and leader in the motion picture industry, who died Sunday. The will was on file today in probate court.

The widow, Mrs. Clara Louise Lieber, was named executrix of the estate, personal property of which was valued at $100,000. Valuation of real estate was not given.

Five thousand dollars was given to the Art Association of Indianapolis and $1,000 each to the Indianapolis Foundation and the Altemheim Home for Aged Persons. The widow was bequeathed the remainder of the estate.

William J. Koethe, a nephew, was given the right to purchase Mr. Lieber's stock in the H. Lieber Company within one year. Two daughters, Misses Louise and Clara Lieber, surviving, were not named as beneficiaries, although stipulation was made that Mrs. Lieber provide for them.

"I have limited my charitable bequests to those above stated for the reason that I have tried to discharge my obligations of such nature during my lifetime in a manner commensurate with my financial capacity," Mr. Lieber wrote in the will.

GASOLINE THEFTS FROM STATE TRUCKS STOPPED

One Man Is Sentenced and Another Fined at Rensselaer.

Sentence of one man to the Indiana state farm and the fining of another at Rensselaer has broken up a ring of petty thieves engaged in stealing gasoline from state highway department trucks, Director John J. Brown of the department declared today.

Most of the thefts have occurred on State Road 43, between San Pierre and Francesville, Brown said. Earl Eggert of Francesville was fined $25 and sentenced to four months at the farm. A companion was fined $49.15 on an intoxication charge.

Seeking Plane

Duke Schiller (above), who last year flew to Greenly Island and rescued the crew of the German plane, Bremen, and Captain A. A. Oakes (inset), chief of the Canadian airmail pilots, head the search by Canada's most famous airmen for Colonel C. D. McAlpine, geologist-explorer, and four companions, whose plane was lost in the frozen northwest territory. His backers say they are ready to spend $1,000,000 to find the missing party.

In August, peace was restored and the Moslems returned to Taichow. The males ranging from 15 to 50 years of age were separated from the rest and taken outside of the city gates, presumably to obtain food. Once the Chinese had them beyond the gates, they started a new slaughter. Some 3,000 Moslems were murdered.

Live in Daily Fear
Moslem women discovered what had happened and rushed out of the gates. When they recognized their own kin among the dead, many mothers committed suicide, leaving their babies to starve.

The streets of Tao-Chow were strewn with corpses, and much property was demolished.

The city lives in daily fear of a recurrence of these horrible scenes, since there are indications that the Moslems intend to renew hostilities as soon as they can reassemble their forces against the Chinese.

My Favorite Bible Passage
Today's Choice by Amos Alonzo Stagg, Football Coach, University of Chicago

WHATSOEVER thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might. — Ecclesiastes 9:10.

THEFORE all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets. — Matthew 7:12.

PEACE I leave unto you, My peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. — John 14:27.

COMMENT
"These three verses have come most often into my mind and have influenced my life. I think more than any other single ones. The first I have used to stimulate my ambition and to make myself dependable and honest; the second to develop fair and honest treatment of others; the third to help me to be courageous and unafraid. The prayer I have offered most, and thousands upon thousands of times, is to be good and to do good and to follow the master."

CHINESE FEAR RECURRENCE OF MOSLEM RIOTS

Horrible Slaughters May Be Renewed for Revenge.

By RANDALL GOULD
United Press Staff Correspondent
SHANGHAI, Sept. 28.—Authentic details received today from Kansu concerning the slaughter of 10,000 Moslems and hundreds of Chinese during the Moslem revolt at Tao-chow in May, one of the most appalling tragedies in history, revealed the fact that Chinese hurled themselves upon the Moslem population with murderous fury after they discovered that 700 of their people had been killed by Moslems in one day.

Moslem women were reported to have massacred 500 Tibetan women and children. Villages were burned and looted and living victims were flung into the rivers to perish.

Missionaries Unharmed
In July an army of 5,000 Chinese troops arrived and killed 3,000 Moslems in the Taochow district, while the Tibetans slew more than 2,000 Moslems, who were fleeing along the Hsiang-shan valley.

When the Chinese entered the old city of Tao-Chow they killed hundreds of Moslems, including many who sought refuge in the missionary homes. The missionaries, among whom were several Americans, were unharmed.

In August, peace was restored and the Moslems returned to Taichow. The males ranging from 15 to 50 years of age were separated from the rest and taken outside of the city gates, presumably to obtain food. Once the Chinese had them beyond the gates, they started a new slaughter. Some 3,000 Moslems were murdered.

The convention will close Sunday with the assignment of pastors.

LETTER WRITER DE LUXE FACES ACTION BY U. S.

Big Business Calls Youth and Disregard for Order Is Alleged.

Big business has a lure for James Gibson, 21, of 2729 Highland place, which makes it difficult for him to keep out of trouble.

Arrested on a postal fraud charge last spring as "president of the Electro-Chemical Corporation of America," young Gibson was described by Alexander G. Cavins, assistant district attorney, as a "letter writer de luxe."

Gibson was charged with placing luring advertisements for radio battery eliminators in magazines, receiving many replies accompanied by checks, which he kept without sending the eliminators.

Too Busy Writing

"He was too busy writing high-sounding letters to find time to manufacture any eliminators," Cavins told Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell.

When the boy's attorneys pleaded he had been interested intensely in radios for years, had a "one-track" mind and some day might be a famous inventor, Baltzell released him and continued the case with the injunction to keep out of business "for himself."

Friday Baltzell ordered Gibson taken into custody again, pending investigation of reports he was back in business.

Get New Complaints
The order was issued after Postal Inspector A. C. Garrigus told the court he had complaints from firms who had sent goods, upon Gibson's orders, to the "Socket Power Laboratories," without receiving their money.

Garrigus charged the youth, with his big business complex, had sent a statement to a Wall Street financial firm showing "assets of $15,000 with $1,200 cash on hand."

The inspector reported that one complainant, who wrote the "corporation" asking why no answer had been made to a letter, was informed the corporation was very large and had many divisions, and the letter probably had been lost because it was not addressed to the "supply division."
