Girl Owner Shows Pluck

Miss Killilea Drops $60,000, but She'll Stick.

By United Press.
MILWAUKEE, Oct. 2.—Miss Florence Killilea, president of the Milwaukee Brewers, will keep her financial interest in the baseball club although it finished seventh in the American Association this season.

Florence, who jumped from the role of university co-ed to that of America's first feminine owner of a big minor league ball team, lost $60,000 the first season after the death of her father, Henry J. Killilea, but she's not going to quit.

"I'll keep the club," she said in her slow determined drawl. "I'll keep it indefinitely. The club just had some bad breaks."

Florence isn't discouraged with baseball and she's planning to go south with the Brewers when they start 1930 spring training.

Princeton Works Against Rutgers

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 2.—Princeton completed several passes for good gains in Tuesday's practice scrimmage with the Rutgers university eleven, but the visitors also knew some things about passing and taught some of them to the Tigers. Both of the squads worked at full speed despite the rainy weather.

Trux Bennett's end-running was the Tiger brightener. Grossman's passing was the best Rutgers showed.

JACK HERMAN LOSES

Floored by Gross; Two Other Knockouts on Same Card.

READING, Pa., Oct. 2.—Jack Gross, Salem, N. J., knocked out Italian Jack Herman, New York, in the third round Tuesday night. Tiny Hoffer, Reading, stopped Russ Eckert, Allentown, in the third. Bob Bradley, Allentown, stopped Frankie Brown, Philadelphia, in the fourth.

Intimate Sketches of World Series Stars

JACK QUINN ART NEHF

JACK QUINN is the old man of the 1929 world series. At 44 he is still a mighty capable pitcher. There is every reason to believe he will see action in the series. Quinn is one of the few remaining spitball pitchers in the majors. He has a most peculiar style of delivering the "spitter." It appears to moisten the ball with saliva and go into his pitching motion without so much as a fraction of a second's hesitation. This causes the ball to travel seemingly much faster than ordinarily, because of the abbreviated motion in the delivery. No spitball is of any great value unless properly controlled. Quinn is blessed with that asset and seems to be able to place the ball where he wants it. He insists the spitball is not hard on the arm if pitched without a snap in the delivery.

Quinn is a great southpaw, who has passed the peak of his game, may see little other than bench duty against the Athletics, who like southpaws. Nehf is crafty, however, and if Manager McCarthy is hard pressed for pitching, he may get consideration. Nehf boasts more world series experience than any member of the Cubs' staff. Performed in four series for the New York Giants from 1921-1924 inclusive. Managed to win one game in each of the four series. Was beaten twice in 1921 and once in 1923 and 1924. Has always been a tough luck pitcher in the big event of the baseball year. Thirty-seven years of age, he is the Jack Quinn of the Cubs' pitching staff. Forced out of the game for almost a year, due to a bad arm, came back in great style for the Cubs. Has been valuable man for Chicago against clubs not caring for southpaws.

Calm Glenna Collett and Nervous Maureen Orcutt in Golf Feature

Veterans Clash in One of Most Interesting Matches of National Tourney; Helen Hicks Eliminated.

GLENNA COLLETT WINS

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Oct. 2.—Playing super-golf, Glenna Collett, veteran defending United States champion, eliminated Miss Maureen Orcutt in the second round play today. And 5. Miss Orcutt surprised followers Tuesday by eliminating Helen Hicks.

Mrs. Leo Federman provided a real upset when she downed Virginia Van Wie, co-medalist with Miss Hicks, Monday, 2 and 1.

BY BERT DEMBY.

United Press Staff Correspondent.
DETROIT.—Nervous ambition met calm determination today as Glenna Collett, three-times American champion, clashed with Maureen Orcutt, one of America's best linkswomen, in the second round of the annual National Women's tournament.

Their match was the feature of the eight played today by the sixteen women surviving the qualifying and first-round tests and it was expected to be one of the most interesting of the tourney.

Orcutt proved Tuesday that she could negotiate a golf course in a style comparable to the best and there were many who believe she would eliminate her veteran opponent. To stay in the running, Tuesday she turned sixteen holes of the Oakland Hills Country Club course in 67 to defeat Helen Hicks, one of the strongest favorites in the tournament, 3 and 2. Maureen's score for nine holes was 35, a remarkable one on a difficult course.

While the New Jersey girl was fighting hard to put out a great opponent, Collett was going along easily to a victory over Mrs. W. A. Johnson of Philadelphia, 6 and 5. Glenna seemingly has been having herself.

Partially sharing interest with the Collett-Orcutt match today were the clashes between Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, and Mrs. Leo Federman, New York; Mrs. Lena Pressler, California; and Marion Turpie, New Orleans, and Mrs. Dorothy

TENNIS PLAY ADVANCES
Remaining matches on the Shortridge boys' tennis tournament program were to be played today at Hawthorn courts after several days of inactivity due to unfavorable weather. Third and fourth-round matches and two in the quarter-finals were played Tuesday.

WANT IN SALLY

If changes are made in the Sally league during the winter, both Greensboro and Winston-Salem want to get in. They are in the Piedmont circuit now.

CHICAGO COPS STUDENTS AT CRIME SCHOOL

Learn Philo Vanie Methods Under Famous 'Maker of Chiefs.'

BY ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN, United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Five policemen have parked their pistols and trudge daily to class at the University of Chicago to learn how to become practical Sherlock Holmes and Philo Vanies under the tutelage of August Vollmer, "Maker of Police Chiefs."

The feat of the other fifteen students in Vollmer's crime detection class may look like the historic schoolboy's, but not those of the five policemen. They're going to school because they want to catch crooks and thus become better policemen.

The spare, six-foot instructor in this ultra-modern school of sleuthing, gained his fame as a scientific nemesis of crooks at the University of California at Berkeley and only this fall consented to come to this hotbed of gangsterism and instruct in the finer points of crime detection. His first class opened Tuesday and will continue ten weeks.

For an hour each day the five policemen and fifteen graduate students will sit at Vollmer's knee, figuratively, and drink in his wisdom.

The course, which Vollmer described as crime detection, police administration and executive control, is all theory, he said. Despite the wealth of material close at hand in the haunts of gangland, there will be no laboratory work, no donning of disguises and jaunts through the underworld, nor practical first-hand lessons on how to catch crooks.

As Vollmer lectured Tuesday his students listened attentively, the five policemen—three from the Chicago force and two from Mason City, Ia.—perhaps the most serious.

Two University of Chicago football captains, Ken Rouse and Pat Kelley, are in the class, the rest being graduate students, rounding out their educations by learning about the half world.

254,355 GAME FISH PUT IN HATCHERIES

Bluegills Lead in Distribution by State During August.

Fingerling game fish totaling 254,355 were distributed from the fish hatcheries to the various public waters of the state during August.

This figure is taken from the report of Superintendent George N. Mannfield of the fish and game division of the state conservation department. The report was submitted today to Richard Lieber, department director.

Black bass plants numbered 68,835; rock bass, 17,500; bluegills, 132,200; crappie, 17,830; red-eared sunfish, 4,000; yellow perch, 1,500, and channel catfish, 12,500, the report states.

The hatcheries made the final distribution in September for the season, but the figures have not been tabulated yet.

SIX CENTERS BEGIN RECREATIONAL WORK

Gymnasium Classes Will Be Held Daily in Communities.

The winter recreational program was under way today in six city community houses, Recreation Director Jesse P. McClure announced.

Gymnasium classes will be held daily from 3 to 5 p. m. at Rhodius, Brookside, Green, Brightwood, Municipal Gardens and J. T. V. Hill community centers.

Bruce Hunter, assistant director, is in charge of a schedule of games and calisthenics. All types of classes will be held for women over 17. But students who pass the course will receive college credit.

Insurance Heads to Visit City Friday, Saturday

(1) A. F. C. Fiske, (2) Leroy A. Lincoln, (3) Francis O. Ayres, (4) Harry R. Du Fon, (5) Frederick H. Ecker.

Metropolitan President and Aids Will Attend Indiana Session.

Indianapolis will have as its guest Friday and Saturday a man who supervises the investment of $2,000,000 daily.

For on the last two days of the week Frederick H. Ecker, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York, will attend a meeting of 500 field representatives of Indiana in the Claypool hotel.

Ecker is accompanied to this city by Leroy A. Lincoln, first vice-president and general counsel, Francis O. Ayres, and A. F. C. Fiske, second vice-president, and H. R. Du Fon, superintendent of agencies.

He will speak at a luncheon Saturday for employees of the company at the Claypool.

As the head of a $3,000,000,000 institution, Ecker directs 44,000 employees, besides supervising the investment of two million dollars daily.

He became head of the insurance company in March of this year, upon the death of Haley Fiske. He began working for the company at the age of 16 on a salary of $4 a week.

PROJECT WILL BE UP MONDAY

Sixteenth Street Widening May Get Setback.

The board of works will act upon the Sixteenth street assessment roll recommendations next Monday, Theodore Dammeier, board president, announced today.

Remonstrances and objections of attorneys for property owners were referred to the city legal department for an opinion. There is some question as to legality of the city's plan of dividing the district from Northwestern to Delaware street into several divisions for assessment purposes.

If this plan of making up an assessment and benefit roll is found illegal by the city lawyers, the entire project will be rescinded again.

An effort to widen Sixteenth street to eighty-four feet between property lines between Northwestern avenue and Delaware street was begun six years ago. It is planned to carry out the project under the thoroughfare law, which permits the city to pay 60 per cent of costs. Acquisition of buildings totalling $141,750 and land valued at $280,700 is contemplated to provide the thoroughfare.

EAST SIDE FANS GET RADIO HELP

Interference Checked by Times Engineer.

A petition has been received by the radio interference department of The Times from fans living on the east side. After a year of rest, the same interference returned to give the fans of this section trouble, but was very short-lived. This grief was checked and cleared, so listeners again may hear radio undisturbed by interference.

The petition follows, addressed to The Times radio interference engineer:

"We petitioned your service last year to help us try to find a very bad disturbance which was ruining our radio reception. We were surprised to find you were on the job so soon and in no time had cleared up the trouble and made it possible for us to again enjoy our radios.

"We are very grateful for the service rendered by you and have great confidence in The Times interference service, therefore we are asking your help again, as our radio reception is being practically ruined by a similar disturbance and we know that with The Times radio man on the job again that it will be only a matter of a short time until we can enjoy our radios."

It is signed by: Gaylon Ray, 115 North Gale street; E. V. Martin, 44 North Brookville road; A. C. Jenkins, 3510 East Washington street; P. O. Bryant, 51 North Gale; R. Burgermeister, 99 North Gale street.

DELIGHTED BY QUICK RESULTS FROM KONJOLA

Indianapolis Man Says Kidney Trouble and Other Ailments Quickly Disappeared After Use of New Medicine.

If you are not feeling 100 per cent... if you suffer from stomach, liver, kidney or bowel troubles; rheumatism, neuritis or nervousness... help yourself to the knowledge of hundreds of Indianapolis citizens who know from their own personal experience what a marvelous medicine Konjola is.

MR. MASSELLUS EDGELL

Call upon the Konjola Man, who is at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis. Get the facts about this compound of 32 known roots and herbs, that has become the most talked of medicine in the nation. Learn what Konjola has done and is doing, as told by grateful Indianapolis citizens.

Among the many local Konjola enthusiasts is Mr. Massellus Edgell, who lives at 61 East McCarty street, Indianapolis. Recently he called upon the Konjola Man and told a remarkable but not unusual story of new health brought by this master medicine. Read his statement, and you will understand why he is enthusiastic; why Konjola is known as the medicine with more than a million followers. Mr. Edgell said:

"I certainly was surprised and delighted by the quick results I got from Konjola. Never have I known a medicine that did its work as well as this one.

"I was a sufferer of kidney trouble for a year. I could not get an unbroken night's sleep, because I would have to get up four or five times. This trouble seemed to put my whole system out of order. I suffered from rheumatic pains in my arms and legs. It seemed as though every bone in my body was sore and ached. I could hardly get around the house without suffering great pain. My liver became affected and made me dizzy and weak. At times black spots would float before my eyes. I lost appetite and my stomach began giving me trouble. I lost weight and energy and felt as though I was worn out all the time.

"It took only four bottles of Konjola to put an end to all of these troubles. I feel like a new man and have gained ten pounds in weight. I can eat anything I want and nothing causes any stomach trouble. My appetite is greatly improved. Every night I sleep soundly and do not have to get up through the night. The rheumatism and all my aches and pains have left my body. I am very glad to recommend a medicine that did so much for me."

Just another one of the many thousands of stirring endorsements that fill the files of Konjola's almost overflowing! Just another chapter in the amazing story of Konjola's success!

The Konjola Man is at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Washington and Illinois streets, Indianapolis, where daily he is meeting the public, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine.—Advertisement.
