

BATTLE FACED AT STATE CONCLAVE OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

New Ruling Boosts Dues, Stirs Strike

BY JOSEPHINE DORAN
Times Woman's Page Editor

FT. WAYNE, Oct. 24.—The revision making individual clubs of the Indiana Federation of Clubs members of the general federation was passed by an unexpected standing counted vote Wednesday morning, but the heat of battle concerning the change has not yet passed.

It was aired about the convention hall Wednesday afternoon that the revision will come up for reconsideration. It is clearly in Robert's rules of order, which is our Bible.

It is said that the South Bend and Terre Haute clubs are especially objecting to the change, which has raised the dues 50 cents per capita a year. There even is talk of some clubs dropping out of the federation.

As is the custom of the federation, the officer nominees already named are the only ones who will be voted upon. The privilege of naming other contenders from the floor was passed up at the meeting held for nominating and presenting candidates. This makes the election, with the exception of the office of corresponding secretary, a cut-and-dried affair.

Mrs. Miller to Be President
Mrs. Edwin F. Miller, Peru, will be president of the state federation, taking the place of Mrs. Hamet D. Hinkle, Vincennes, retiring president. First vice-president's office will remain the same, Mrs. Edwin N. Canine, Terre Haute, holding that office, which will be changed at the 1930 convention.

Mrs. Harry L. Green, Muncie, is to be new second vice-president. Mrs. T. W. Cook, Clay City, will be the new trustee, and Mrs. Hinkle the general federation director. The office of trustees is the only one to which re-election is permitted.

Committee appointments will be made at a meeting of the executive board at the Claypool hotel early in November.

The only office that has two candidates is that of corresponding secretary. Mrs. Floyd F. Jones, Lafayette, and Mrs. Edwin I. Poston, Martinsville, are in the running. The polls will open at 10:30 Thursday morning and remain open until 3 o'clock.

The thirteen district chairmen, corresponding to the thirteen congressional districts, gave reports Wednesday morning. Mrs. John Downing, Johnson, second vice-president, who will retire from that office Thursday night, following elections, is chairman of the district leaders. There are ninety-two county chairmen under the thirteen district leaders.

Memorial Service Held
Mrs. Felix T. McWhirter, Indianapolis, conducted memorial services Wednesday afternoon. Among prominent club women who were eulogized were Mrs. Samuel B. Perkins, Indianapolis; Mrs. Lulu Barker Gunn, South Bend, and Mrs. Estella B. Prince.

City Girl Is Wedded to Easterner

Miss Bernice Bonner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lehman, 25 East Maple road, became the bride of Howard Spencer Kiser, Syracuse, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kiser, New Rochelle, N. Y., at a ceremony performed at St. Paul's chapel this morning at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Lewis Brown, pastor.

The chapel was decorated with palms, ferns and Talcott roses, and was lighted by tall cathedral candles.

Clarence Carson, organist, played a program of bridal airs, while Ormond Skinner, Buffalo, N. Y., seated the guests. The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, preceded the ceremony, and he played "At Dawning," while Mr. Brown was reading the marriage service. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was the recessional.

Miss Dorothy Pollard, Oak Hill, Ill., and Miss Dorothy Wilhelm of Indianapolis and Chicago, were Miss Bonner's bridesmaids. Miss Pollard wore a gown of Paton green, crepe fashioned, fitted bodice, long, tight sleeves, and flared skirt, and Miss Wilhelm wore a wine red crepe, made in similar princess style. Their accessories were in the same shades as their frocks.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Lehman, wore a brown duvety suit with eggshell blouse, and brown accessories. She wore a leopard coat.

Raymond Coward, New York, was Mr. Kiser's best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast, served at the home of the bride's parents, for the bride party and out-of-town guests.

The house was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and Talcott roses. Guests were seated at one table, centered with a plateau of yellow roses, and lighted with white tapers, tied with bows of white tulle.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kiser, Miss Pollard, Miss Wilhelm, Mrs. Edmund Davis Adcock, Chicago; Mrs. Edwin Blumhail, Denver; Mr. Coward and Mr. Skinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiser have left on a trip to Bermuda, the bride traveling in her wedding outfit. They will be at home after Nov. 15, in Syracuse, N. Y.

Newlyweds Are Nagged by In-Laws

Altercations between newly married couples frequently are brought on by too close association with "in-laws." These inter-family quarrels seem to be the bane of the young husband's or wife's existence.

It is a steep climb uphill, this adjustment business of the bride and groom, and little encouragement is to be found from the average run of parents of the opposite party. "Taking sides" is a common complaint, as is unnecessary and severe criticism.

One can blame either the parents or the young folk. The parents, having gone through the same adjustment, thinks that their advice should be welcome, and delight in offering suggestions on any and every occasion. The desire to "live and learn" prompts the young people to refuse this advice, or else ignore it, which seems to be a forerunner of future fights.

Comic Strips Blamed

Comic strips are to blame a great deal for much of the trouble. There is a lot to the idea of the "power of suggestion" and once the idea that trouble may arise if one is not on the alert occurs, the imagination is stimulated easily.

Mothers almost universally find it hard to realize that the children that she has reared do grow to manhood, and womanhood, and do mature sufficiently to lead well ordered lives without her assistance, able though it may be. Father's good business sense that has endured storms does not seem to remind him that he learned by experience; he wants to continue to be the director of his son's affairs.

No Home Big Enough

It nearly always is a mistake for parents to continue to allow their children to live with them after they are married. No home is big enough for two families. Laughter disagree with the mother-in-law method, having been accustomed to her own mother's way of doing things. Sons assume a tolerant attitude toward father-in-law ideas that should be maddening to a man of any caliber.

Summing up everything, how much better it is for each family to get its own way.

Realizes Mistake

Now I realize I was silly. My husband tells me that I can come back, but my folks tell me that it would be for the worse, and if my husband cared for me, instead of asking me to go there, he would provide a home just for the two of us.

I think if his people are nice enough to help us get a start, it is pretty nice, but I don't want to live with his people. It wasn't that they were mean to me, but I just didn't like that way of living.

Cook, Mrs. John Cornack, Mrs. Glenn Erickson, Dr. Marie Kaff, Mrs. Brown McGinnis, Miss Alice Davidson, Mrs. R. N.
