

GLOSSBRENNER WAGE STAND IS FOES' TARGET

Albert Stump Says Views of
G. O. P. Candidate
Are 'Unsound.'

Wage views of Alfred M. Glossbrenner, Republican nominee for mayor, were declared "unsound" by Albert Stump, Democratic nominee for senate in 1928, at a rally Wednesday night at 2346 North Illinois street.

"The small group whose policy it has been to keep down wages, working with George V. Coffin, city Republican chairman, has brought out the Republican candidate for mayor, who, I understand, is a man of determination and vigor, but whose views on wages are unsound, and, if applied generally, would wreck the whole industrial structure and fill the streets with unemployed," Stump said.

Mayor L. Ert Slack declared civic improvement made and savings effected during the last two years are an example of what Indianapolis may expect if a Democrat continues as mayor.

He endorsed the candidacy of Reginald H. Sullivan, Democratic mayoralty candidate, "with the greatest pleasure of my life, so that I may turn this city over to a group that has nothing whatever to do with the crowd that I took this city over from."

Sullivan declared he would stand on a platform for civic betterment. Democratic meetings were scheduled for today as follows:

Mrs. Edna G. Christian, Mrs. Emma Yeager and Edgar A. Perkins Sr., at the home of Mrs. Adam Lauson, 3536 East Thirtieth street, 2:30; Miss Julia Landers at the home of Mrs. M. A. Bell, 726 West Twenty-fifth street, 2:30.

Frederick Van Nuy, Albert Stump and Mr. Sullivan at Community hall, Tremont and Michigan street, 8; Mayor L. Ert Slack, John W. Holtzman, James E. Deery and Mr. Sullivan at South Side Turners' hall, Prospect street and Madison avenue, 8; Judge Thomas E. Garvin, Othniel Hitt and Charles Remster at Mr. Remster's home, Forty-second street and Boulevard place.

GERMANY AND U. S. AGREE ON SEPARATE PACT

Two-Country Reparations
System Will Replace
Young Plan.

By United Press
BERLIN, Oct. 24.—Negotiations have been started between the United States and Germany to conclude a direct war reparations agreement which would be independent of the Owen D. Young plan.

The conversations opened five weeks ago, the United Press learned today, when Ambassador Jacob Schurman presented an aide memoire to the foreign office, suggesting a separate treaty.

The German government accepted the proposal in principle, but raised technical points to be settled. Washington has replied to the points raised in a manner believed to be acceptable to Germany and no difficulties are expected in concluding the agreement.

It is scheduled to be signed before the European governments adopt the Young plan.

The purpose of the proposed agreement is three-fold:
1. It will enable the United States government to adopt an attitude of benevolent neutrality towards the Young plan without signing or ratifying it.

2. It will permit the United States government and federal reserve to maintain an aloofness toward the international bank, created by the Young plan, but allow private operation of the Young plan and the international bank's machinery.

3. The proposed accord would be similar to the United States' debt agreement with Great Britain and other former allied nations, thus granting Germany the moral and psychological advantage of being placed on the same footing with other United States debtors.

Court Intervenes.

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24.—Unless the appeals courts intervene, Dr. James Howard Snook, former university professor convicted of murdering his co-ed sweetheart, Theora Hix, will enter on the last month of his life next week.

Snook spends most of his time reading and chatting with three cell mates, two of whom are scheduled to die the latter part of this month.
