

CABINET CRISIS CAUSES CRASH OF BANK STOCK

French President Urged to Hasten Solution of Problem.

BY RALPH HEINZEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Oct. 24.—President Gaston Doumergue was urged today by financial influences to hasten the solution of the cabinet crisis, because of a notable reaction on the Bourse where the Bank of France stock fell 300 points.

The fall of the bank stock was attributed to a report that the Left Socialist and Radical cartel, which was in power in 1924-26 when the francs fell to fifty to the dollar, again might take control of the government.

In view of this report, there was an intensification of interest in the opening of the Radical congress at Reims today. The Radicals consistently have refused to collaborate with the defeated premier, Aristide Briand, so long as his cabinet was colored by representation from the Right, but a change of program undoubtedly will be considered if the Radicals are assured of a cabinet drawn entirely from the Left.

Among those whom Doumergue consulted in his efforts to resolve the crisis was Jean Paul-Boncour, Socialist leader, who is known to have ambitions to be a member of the cabinet, and who may persuade the Socialists to attempt to form a government or join forces with the Radicals. Speaking in the name of the Socialists Paul-Boncour told Doumergue his party wanted Briand's foreign policies continued. He insisted that the left groups were ready to support Briand's program of pacification but merely wanted the freedom to debate the agreements which he had reached.

At the close of the day, Doumergue was no nearer a solution than when he started. Most of the leaders with whom he consulted were convinced that Briand was the only man capable of forming a cabinet. Doumergue, however, is not likely to summon Briand until after the Radical congress has indicated the conditions on which the Radicals would collaborate in the new government.

CHICAGO SINGER IS GRAND OPERA STAR

American Grand Opera Company Will Give Three Performances at the Murat.

In order to keep its place at the head of the list, with the largest percentage of artists engaged by the American Opera Company from one section of the nation, Chicago has sent more singers to the famous institution this season.

When the noted company visits this city on Monday, Oct. 28, for three nights, appearing at the Murat, one of the new additions will be Eunice Steen, lyric soprano, and a twenty-four-year-old "veteran" of several noted grand opera companies.

Miss Steen was born in Auburn, Ill., which can be technically claimed by Chicago, and is a pupil of the noted Herbert Witherspoon, and of Isaac Van Grove, now the musical director of the American Opera Company. From professional concert appearances in her native Chicago, Miss Steen "graduated" into grand opera when she was engaged several seasons ago for principal roles with the noted Cincinnati (Zoo) Grand Opera Company, of which Director Van Grove was head. She has scored success in "Tales of Hoffmann," "Martha," "Faust," "Secret of Suzanne," "Romeo and Juliet," and several of the Wagnerian operas, despite her youth.

Miss Steen has won a wide following not only in Chicago and Cincinnati, but throughout the middle west, by her work in opera and concert. Despite further offers from the Cincinnati company and other organizations, she grasped the opportunity to make her international debut on tour with Vladimir Rosing's great ensemble of "singing actors," who offer an unusually beautiful and dramatic presentation of the most dramatic of the operas. The youthful grand opera "veteran" will be seen and heard in several of the most important roles when the company enters upon its second international and third national tour this season.

RADIO TO BROADCAST SYMPHONY

The half-hour from 6 to 6:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon will be given by WFMB to the broadcasting of an illustrated talk on the program to be presented by the Boston Symphony orchestra, the opening concert of the Ona B. Talbot Fine Arts Enterprises on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, at the Murat.

BOY KING TO GET TOYS FOR HIS BIRTHDAY

Rumanians Will Celebrate
But Ruler Wants Only
New Playthings.

BY DR. ASRA BERKOWITZ
United Press Special Correspondent
BUCHAREST, Oct. 24.—Friday is a day of exceeding importance in the lives of Rumanian people.

It is the day when they celebrate the eighth anniversary of the birth of their king, Mihai, the youngest ruler in Europe. The celebration, however, has quite a different significance for the child monarch than that which it has for his subjects.

For little Mihai the day will be much like Easter or Christmas. It will bring him new playthings, and nothing is so near to the king's heart as toys of a mechanical sort which represent the very latest word in engineering development. Last Christmas the Rumanian locomotive works, Reschitza, presented him with a miniature locomotive and a train of pullman cars. On this, the eve of his birthday, his greatest wish is that he will be able to add to his railway a flotilla with a genuine motor boat which can pull a fleet of barges laden with freight.

He came upon this idea when, during his summer vacation, he saw ships plying in and out of the harbor of Constantza.

Unfortunately, Mihai's birthday will not be without its shadows. This time, as has been the case ever since he was four, his father will not be with him to share in his happiness.

There once was a time, not so long ago, when his father would ransack the shops of Bucharest to bring home the most beautiful, most interesting game reserve in Brown county.

Now, however, Prince Carol seems to have forgotten his son.

While he still participates in official ceremonies, such as by sending a wreath to be placed on the grave of his father, King Ferdinand, on the anniversary of the latter's death, he has not once in the last four years sent a single gift home to his son in observance of a holiday or a birthday.

Pheasant Captured

By Times Special
COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 24.—A large pheasant was captured here by Raymond Snow, store clerk, when it flew into an upstairs window of a business house. The pheasant is one of the most beautiful found in the country. It is believed it came from a game reserve in Brown county.
