BINGHAM BLOT WILL NOT BE AVERTED, VIEW

G. O. P. Senate Colleagues to Vote Censure If Word Is Changed.

'CONDEMN' IS OBJECTION

Enemies Claim Resignation Must Follow Spanking in Lobby Case.

BY PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Senate Republican colleagues of Senator Bingham (Rep., Conn.) generally have decided to support the Norris resolution censuring the senator's tariff activities if the word "condemn" in the resolution is changed to "disapprove."

An amendment proposing to soften thus the tone of the censure probably will be offered Monday by Senator Simeon D. Fess (Rep., O.), and then the resolution probably will be passed by an overwhelming majority, according to present plans.

Many Senators on both sides of the chamber, including Bingham's strong opponents on the Democratic side, consider their job extremely distasteful. They privately say they do not like to spank each other in public and they would like to avoid the issue if some way out could be found.

In the whole history of congress, senators and representatives have censured each other sparingly and in rare cases. Only three precedents have been brought to light since the Bingham case was thrust into the foreground.

Two in Fist Fight

The last was twenty-seven years ago when two senators got into a fist fight on the floor. In 1842 the house censured a member for the introduction of a resolution which the leaders considered treasonous.

The first was prior to 1842 when a Virginia senator made public a secret treaty with a foreign power.

Only in the case of the house member did the resignation of the victim follow the action of the congress, but the other two victims apologized. Friends of Bingham say he has no intention either of apologizing or resigning. The house member who resigned was elected for the seven succeeding terms, following his voluntary retirement.

Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee who introduced the resolution terming Bingham's action as "contrary to good morals and senatorial ethics and tending to bring the senate into dishonor and disrepute," has agreed he will withdraw the resolution anytime Bingham will apologize for his charges that the senate lobby investigating committee was packed against him, and for his employment of Charles L. Eyanon of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association as his tariff adviser on the government payroll.

Nothing Else to Do

Bingham has taken the position there is nothing to apologize for, so a majority of the senators seem to believe there is nothing for them to do, to keep the record of the senate straight, but to adopt the Norris resolution. Its adoption would require no action on Bingham's part, but some of his opponents say they do not see how he could escape resigning.

Norris held up the resolution for several days at the request of Bingham's friends, who were trying to make some arrangements to avoid the necessity for the resolution. They told Norris of Bingham's war record as head of an aviation squadron in France; of his record at Yale, Harvard and Princeton as a professor, and the fact he is the father of seven children. They wished to save him, if possible, from any blot on his reputation.

When Bingham definitely declined to apologize, Norris offered the resolution which now is pending. In hope that some way out of the difficulty may yet be found, Norris has consented that action on his resolution be delayed until Monday. There are several senators absent for the week-end, who have notified Norris they would like to be present when the vote is taken, and this too, influenced the senator for further delay.

QUEEN MARIE IS REPORTED DRIVEN OUT OF RUMANIA

IN REGALIA OF STATE

QUEEN MARIE IN HOME DRESS

DOWN ON THE ROYAL FARM

AS A RED CROSS NURSE

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—A report received here today from authoritative sources in Bucharest said that Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania had fled from the royal palace at Balchik because of dissension in the royal family.

Rumors of strife between the dowager queen and others of the family have been current for some time. It was declared that several of the family were opposed to her inclination to interfere with the regency which presides over Rumania on behalf of her grandson, the boy king, Michael I.

An unconfirmed report stated Marie actually was ejected from Balchik after an intermediary acting on behalf of Princess Helena, mother of the boy king, requested the dowager queen to leave the palace.

Under the terms of the testament of the late King Ferdinand, the palace belongs to young Michael, but Marie refused to leave. She hid in a small wing of the palace and continued to use the main entrance.

The incident is another in a series of discordant episodes which recently have forced the Rumanian royal household into the limelight, among them being a sensational street fight between Marie's son, Prince Nicholas, and a chauffeur, John Damian.

Carol Has Troubles

PARIS, Nov. 2.—With rumors arriving via Berlin and Bucharest that his mother had been ejected from the Rumanian royal palace at Balchik, former Crown Prince Carol found himself involved today in distressing troubles of his own.

On the complaint of his landlady the justice of the peace has issued an order requiring Prince Carol to pay $500 to cover not only damages to the apartment in which he lived, but also unpaid coal bills.

Prince Carol protested the order and it was announced today that he would appear in court on Nov. 7 to appeal from the decision.

REFERENDUM IS VOTED ON YOUNG PLAN

German Nationalists Gain First Victory in Fight for Rejection.

MARGIN IS SLIGHTEST

Minimum Return Does Not Endanger Ratification, Is Claim.

By United Press

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The Nationalist party won an initial victory today in its campaign to defeat Germany's acceptance of the Young reparation plan by obtaining the necessary number of signers to a petition which assures the calling of a referendum on acceptance of the plan.

Not until today was the final outcome of the Nationalist campaign certain. The last hours of tabulating the signatures to the petition gave the Nationalists a slight margin over 4,100,000 signers required to force the calling of the referendum. That number constitutes 10 per cent of Germany's total electorate.

Earlier in the week, slight hope had been held for success of the Nationalist campaign, but Friday, as reports began to come in from east Prussia and other Nationalist strongholds the tabulations rose to 9.8 per cent, slightly under the required number.

Before noon today, with 99 per cent of the total electorate counted, the Nationalists seemed assured of victory with the support of 10.16 per cent of the electorate. About noon, it was announced officially that the tabulations were complete and that the opponents of the Young plan had obtained sufficient number of signers to force the reichstag to call the referendum.

Victory for the petition, however, does not mean necessarily defeat of the ratification of the Young plan. To succeed with the referendum, the Nationalists now must swing one-half of the total electorate or about 20,500,000 votes. The bare margin by which the Nationalists succeeded in their petition was ground for predictions of their ultimate defeat in the referendum.

51 HEROIC ACTS ARE RECOGNIZED

Hoosier Lad, Who Died in Rescue Attempt, Is Mentioned.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—The Carnegie hero fund commission today recognized fifty acts of heroism at its regular fall meeting here. Two silver and forty-nine bronze medals were awarded.

Nineteen of the heroes lost their lives in the performance of the acts which the Carnegie fund recognized and to the dependents of eight of these, pensions aggregating $7,800 a year was granted. To the dependents of eight others who lost their lives the sum of $4,800 was granted to be applied as the commission may sanction.

In addition to these money grants, in nine cases awards aggregating $14,400 were appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved, and in twenty cases awards aggregating $17,500 were made for worthy purposes. Payments in the one-sum cases will not be made until the beneficiaries' plans for the use of the awards have been approved by the commission.

Both silver medals were awarded to persons who helped to save others from drowning. One of the awards was to a woman and the other to a man who died in his effort to save another's life.

In the case of Walter Edward Hess, 15-year-old Rising Sun (Ind.) school boy, who died attempting to save Robert M. Hannah, 10, from drowning at Rising Sun, July 12, 1928, a bronze medal will be awarded his father. While Robert was wading in the Ohio river, in water up to his chest, he stepped into deeper water and drifted from the bank. Hess, almost fully clothed and a poor swimmer, went out to Robert. Robert grabbed him and both were submerged in a struggle. A young man attempted to rescue them, but failed. Both boys drowned.

AD CAMPAIGN CAUSES SMASH

Extravagant Drive Led to Utility's Collapse.

By United Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 2.—Extravagant advertising was hinted today as the cause of the collapse of the $20,000,000 W. B. Foshy Company, one of the largest banking, public utility and real estate firms in the middle west.

Twin City financial leaders declared the bankruptcy was not due to the stock market break, but rather to the $500,000 advertising campaign and celebration which marked the completion in September of the firm's thirty-two-story office building in Minneapolis.

Public confidence apparently was destroyed by the display, it was said, and this resulted in removal of banking support.

Although the crash was termed "the greatest economic disaster in the history of the northwest," no criminal action was contemplated against Foshy and his associates, at least pending an official statement giving the institution's financial condition.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS ADMIT MUNICIPAL ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY IS 'A HORSE RACE'

Cocksure Claim of Glossbrenner Victory by 20,000 Votes Dwindles as Contest at Polls Nears.

DEMOCRATS GAINING CONFIDENCE

See Animosity of Labor Element and Probable Return of Klan Vote Determining Factors in War on Coffin.

BY BEN STERN

For the first time in years, the Republicans and Democrats are in a "horse race."

Republican leaders, who two weeks ago were claiming victory by between 15,000 and 20,000 votes, today admit that a 6,000 plurality will be welcome.

This admission is in the face of a vote of 109,425 for Hoover and 73,829 for Smith in Marion county one year ago. It must be remembered that a larger vote is cast in a presidential election than in a municipal election.

But they have not forgotten the drubbing received by Leslie and Uptake in the county at the same time.

The Democrats also claim a victory, basing their claim on the 20,000 plurality gained by Daily, and 6,000 by Ludlow.

The same conditions which existed in 1928 exist in 1929. Then, the fight was against Coffin and despite a bitter struggle put up by his organization, it was unable to return Uptake to congress.

Winkler by 22,000

It is true that Winkler was elected sheriff by 22,000 votes, defeating Sumner—but the situation was this: Winkler had made an excellent reputation as a prohibition chief and although allied with Coffin, he escaped most newspaper attack because of the attention that was paid to the race for Governor and congress.

Through lethargy he slipped into office. Yet, although his victory was great, Coffin refused to name him as mayor because of the well-known fact that Winkler could not be elected.

The "boss" turned instead to Alfred M. Glossbrenner, who, he hoped, would be able to campaign without the Coffin stigma.

The Republicans claim an organization of 8,000 members, composed of precinct committeemen with executive councils of thirty and subcommittees of the same number. But, if the public has been aroused

TRUCE IS DECLARED

Stock Battle in Chicago Comes to End.

By United Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The Chicago Board of Trade has agreed to abandon its dual listing of stocks traded in by the Chicago Stock Exchange and as a result peace was declared today between the two organizations.

The quarrel between the business giants, which for a time threatened to develop into a war to the death, started several months ago after an attempt at consolidation failed. The grain mart took up stock trading, whereupon the exchange refused to allow its members to trade on the board.

The compromise agreement, tentatively reached Friday night, will be promulgated formally today when Governors of the exchange hold a meeting to set the date on which its members will be permitted to resume trading on the board. Under its terms the board of trade will not list any stocks dealt in on the exchange, while the latter will turn over fifty issues to its rival.

HOPE FOR HUNTER WANE

Fear Arizona Engineer Los Life in Northern Mountains.

By United Press

WINSLOW, Ariz., Nov. 2.—Fear that some mishap in the bleak, snow-covered blue ridge mountains of northern Arizona had cost the life of W. S. Stanley of Winslow, almost became a certainty today as the search for him entered its fourth day.

Forest rangers, mountaineers and volunteers from Winslow toiled through canyons choked with drifts and up peaks, retracing some of the area covered since Wednesday when Stanley, veteran Santa Fe locomotive engineer, disappeared from a hunting party.

DAILEY, UPTAKE CARRIED

Although giving Hoover and Robinson a 4,000 plurality it went Daily by 224 votes, and Uptake carried it by more than 1,000 votes.

It is this section which in the years past has formed a Republican bulwark which the Democrats hope to carry on the trade union issue.

If the Democrats can split the Fourth, carry the First and take the Ninth, they will win the election.

The Ninth includes Irvington which last year gave Hoover a 9,000 plurality and Robinson a 1,500 plurality, yet turned around and gave Daily 3,000 more votes than his opponent and Ludlow 1,000 more votes.

This is the record and, figure it as you may, it is "a horse race."
