

Spirited Clash Promised When Butler Meets Wabash

Kansas Faces Oklahoma U.

Big Six Rivals Given Equal Chance in Feature.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 8.—Down on sun-swept prairies flanked by red soil and flushed with southern sunshine, one of the biggest throngs in Norman, Okla., since that town was an Indian grave yard will mobilize Saturday to see the mid-season football show of the Big Six.

There the University of Oklahoma Sooners meet the University of Kansas. The game will decide whether the Oklahomans, glowing with a one-point victory over Bo McMillan's Kansas Aggies, are the war cloud they seem to be, or whether Kansas will cease to be, the dangerous rival which almost-but-not-quite wins.

From the game dopesters will deduce whether Oklahoma can crush Nebraska and Missouri in a final sweep to the title. The game is conservatively rated an even break.

Other Big Six games Saturday become pale-faced beside the Oklahoma-Kansas show. Missouri plays Washington at St. Louis, Nebraska is idle and Iowa State meets the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.

Big Six standings are: Oklahoma, 1,000; Nebraska, 1,000; Kansas Aggies, 667; Missouri, 500; Kansas, 333; Iowa State, zero.

Scarlet Plans Fast Offense Against Rivals Saturday at Bowl.

BULLDOGS DRILL HARD

Coach Clark Taking No Chances on Surprise.

Butler and Wabash marked time today, as interest in their annual gridiron rivalry classic here Saturday continued to climb. Wabash, much-defeated but determined to brighten a mediocre season with a victory over the Bulldogs, has drilled unceasingly on a speedy offense. Butler, held scoreless for two quarters by De Pauw, has taken the scarlet threat seriously, with four defensive drills in as many nights of practice.

Renewal of athletic relations with Wabash this year promises a spirited game and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected, with the blue and white school celebrating Dad's day. Kick-off at Butler bowl will be at 2 o'clock.

Few Injuries

Neither team will be weakened greatly by injuries. However, both elevens will start without the services of one regular back. Cavosie, who was injured in the De Pauw tilt last Saturday, probably will be replaced by Jarrett in the opening combination for Butler, while Lonsberry will get the call for Matthews, Wabash quarter back, who was hurt two weeks ago.

The Blue defense has shown a weakness for passes, forward and lateral, and it is this type of play that Coach Vaughan of Wabash hopes to employ successfully.

Line-up Changed Little

Practically the same line will face the Scarlet that worked last Saturday. Captain Hosier, regular quarter back, will work at end, with Brock on the other side. Schopf and Walsh will be seen in the tackle roles, Ruffi and Heddon at guards and Puetz at center. Reynolds probably will start at quarter back, Jarrett and Hinchman at half backs, and Watford at full.

Coach Vaughan of Wabash continued with his offensive formation workouts Thursday, taking but brief time to explain Butler plays as employed by a freshman squad. The veteran Scarlet mentor continued to attempt a revival of the old Wabash fighting spirit, and has keyed his squad to a high pitch. The entire Wabash student body will invade the city with the team Saturday morning.

Groves and Woods, veterans, are expected to start on the Wabash wings, with Bjork and Cummins at tackles, Weingardner and Cale at guards and Powers at center. Lonsberry will call signals. Weist and Engle will play as half backs and Engle at full.

The Tool Room took the stores for the entire series, as the Generators and Welders defeated the Machine Shop and Transmissions, the Electricians and the Broadcasters. Map, Road Bank, Feroda Brake Lining and Nick Kerr Co. defeating the Engineers, Ladd, Johnson, Ladd, Johnson and the Motor Truck Co. Hoyer rolled a brilliant .681 to lead the 600 totals. For the Blue, Hoyer, Grimes, Grimes, Shaw, Giese, and Truelove, .696.

The Old Gold Cigarette girls won three games at the Union alleys these boys at the Union alleys won three games for the Indiana National Bank and the Fletcher Savings and Trust over the First, Second and Third and a two-out-of-three win for the Maple Road and Fletcher American over the City Trust and the First.
