

DELEGATES TO LONDON NAVAL PARLEY NAMED

Stimson Heads Group of Seven to Represent United States.

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—America's delegation to the London armament conference will include three men whose careers have given them but little acquaintance with naval affairs.

Of the six men named with Secretary of State Stimson on the delegation are: Reuben T. Amick, Ambassador to Haiti; and Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, who is said to be planning to cancel the Haitian election scheduled for 1930.

Adams Represents Navy
Adams represents the Navy department on the delegation. President Hoover's original intention had not been to appoint him, the United Press understands, but when Rear Admiral Hilary Jones, retired, died from connection with the conference, the navy was better represented, the secretary was added.

Dawes, as ambassador to Great Britain, and Gibson, as ambassador to Belgium, have been identified throughout with the Hoover naval program.

Gibson spent several weeks here before the President launched the project May 30. In 1927 he headed the American delegation to the Geneva conference. Jones was a member of that delegation.

Jones' reluctance to go to London vanished with inclusion of Adams, who is said by informed persons to have won confidence of naval officers markedly, since he became secretary last March. Admiral William V. Pratt, commander of the United States fleet, will share with Jones duties as principal naval adviser to the delegation.

On Advisory Commission

Hugh Wilson, minister to Switzerland, who now is in the United States, will be a member of the advisory commission, as will Arthur W. Page of New York and J. Theodore Marriner, chief of the department's western European division. The delegation, advisory commission and clerks will aggregate thirty-five to fifty persons.

Tentative plans of the American delegation to sail from New York aboard the Olympic Jan. 11 may be altered to permit them to use the Leviathan, an American ship, if its sailing date can be rearranged to suit Stimson's convenience.

WANT EVERYTHING LONG

Six-Foot Club Members Talk Over Handicaps of Height.

By United Press
LONDON, Nov. 22.—A loud cry has been sent up by the Six-Foot Club. It clamors for bigger beds, roomier theaters, higher buses, and ready-made clothes to fit. The smallest member of this club is six feet one-half inch tall, and the largest six feet eight. The club meets once a month to talk over the unkindness of the world to men of their stature.

Farmer Killed by Tractor

By United Press
MARION, Ind., Nov. 22.—The body of Joseph Sterling, 38, farmer, was found here in a field where he had been killed while plowing with a tractor. The body was partially covered with soil.

Under Fire

President Hoover is reported to be contemplating sending a committee to Haiti to investigate the activities of Brigadier-General John H. Russell (above), American high commissioner there. Haitian patriotic groups charge Russell is lending his prestige to President Borno, who is said to be planning to cancel the Haitian election scheduled for 1930.

350 CITIES IN U. S. HAVE HABIT CLINICS

Studies Are Made of Children to Determine Failure Causes.

By Science Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The United States has 350 cities in thirty-six of its states where there is at least one habit clinic to which problem children may go to have their troubles understood and adjusted, the United States children's bureau has found, as a result of a check-up on the increase in these child guidance institutions. The bureau has issued a pamphlet directory listing the 500 psychiatric clinics for children in this country, thus showing the available resources in any given locality.

Only twenty years ago the first clinic for the study of delinquent children, was set up in connection with the Chicago juvenile court, Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the bureau, stated in comment. The number today still is insufficient to meet more than a small fraction of the needs of delinquent children and the needs of the children who are serious failures at school, or suffer from timidity and other personal handicaps.

Unfair Pain

It is not fair that some women should suffer so each month. It isn't necessary! Functional disturbance is natural, but the painful part is not. Midol will prove this to every woman who will try it. These wonderful tablets are non-narcotic, but they banish every bit of pain. They act directly on the organs affected and they take effect in five to seven minutes. Better yet, the woman who anticipates her time and takes a tiny tablet of Midol beforehand will experience no pain at all.

Realize what Midol means. It is the product of specialists for this special purpose and it really does end all suffering and even the discomfort women once had to endure at such times. Always obtainable at any drug store in the convenient aluminum pocket case for only fifty cents.—Advertisement.
