

CONDENS NEW MILL SYSTEM

'Stretch-Out' Work Found
More Expensive.

By Service-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The "stretch-out system," which has been given as the cause of most labor disturbances in North Carolina, has been found to be more costly to some employers, than the old system of operation, according to the department of labor.

A report has been submitted by Mrs. Ethel L. Best, industrial expert of the women's bureau, showing the effects of the "stretch-out" system in a small group of mills and the attitude of the workers toward it.

Workers in textile mills where the new system has been used are found to operate an increased number of machines, although some of the work, necessary for each machine, is eliminated by automatic devices. A higher turnover rate of labor and more costly operation were found in some instances.

Dissatisfaction was noted among the workers, particularly where a spinner was given the task of keeping the machines free from lint and supplied with roving.

Under the new system two operations are provided, spinning and cleaning. In each the number of aids to watch is increased largely.

FISH USE INCREASES

3,000,000,000 Pounds Was Catch of 127,000 Fishermen.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Americans are eating more fish, the annual report of the bureau of fisheries, made public today, says.

The annual catch now is in excess of 3,000,000,000 pounds, for which 127,000 fishermen receive around $113,000,000. Consumption of packaged and frozen fish last year exceeded that of 1926 by 350 per cent.

KONJOLA ENDS TWELVE YEARS OF RHEUMATISM

Grateful Lady Is Glad to Tell What
New and Different Medicine
Did for Her.

Those who know how rheumatism hurts and how it hangs on with the tenacity of a bulldog, will hear as good news the statement of Mrs. Allie Lyons, R. R. No. 2, Box 75, Plainfield, near Indianapolis. There are many who have the fear that there is little chance to escape from this dread disease, but Konjola, the new and different medicine, is conquering this ailment wherever it is known. How Konjola wins such victories is being explained daily by the Konjola Man, who is at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis. Profit by the experiences of others. Read the words of Mrs. Lyons, whose experience is that of tens of thousands who have found Konjola the medicine they should have had in the first place. Just a few days ago Mrs. Lyons said to the Konjola Man:

"Konjola came as a blessing to me, for it relieved me of a fierce attack of rheumatism that would not yield to anything else I tried. For twelve years I suffered from that ailment. My arms and shoulders were sore and stiff. There was a throbbing pain from the tips of my fingers to the back of my neck. My muscles were so sore I could not touch them. I held my left arm in a folded position across my chest. I could not do my housework and was about to give up hope of relief when I read about Konjola."

"But I thought it would be like all the other medicines I had tried. Yet my friends insisted that it was different; that it was what I always needed. Although I still did not have any faith I decided to give it a trial to please my friends. Now my only regret is that I did not try it in the first place. Think of the suffering and misery I could have been spared. Konjola went right to work; I could almost feel my improvement became more noticeable. The aches and pains grew less and less, and were soon banished entirely. To day I am free of rheumatism and do my own work. It is a wonderful thing to be free of this ailment. I praise Konjola with all my heart and soul."

It is the same fine story of success when Konjola is given a chance. The records of this new medicine fairly overflow with such grateful testimonials.

The Konjola Man is at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine.—Advertisement.

Colds are serious. Even mild cases are dangerous. Remember KONJOLA COLD COMPOUND (tablets) is giving amazing relief to thousands of cold sufferers every year. These tablets are of the same high quality as Konjola.

Duck or Dig!

MONDAY the Community Fund Campaign passes into history Another milestone—not a millstone, mind you!

Somewhere in Indianapolis today is a needy mother. You'd help her if you knew where she was, of course. So would I. But I don't know where she is and neither do you. And what's more, neither of us has time to find out. But the Community Fund does—that's its business It's yours and mine to help the Fund to help others by doing our cheering with checks—real coin of the realm.

Two thousand men and women workers who have given their days and their dollars are still in the field. Don't meet them as though they were vendors of questionable wares—they're honest-to-goodness human beings, even as you and I.

There's a real challenge in the calendar today. Just a few hours separate us from the close of a campaign that will stamp Indianapolis in your eyes and mine—in the eyes of a questioning world. Either this drive goes over—or it doesn't. Only YOU and YOU and YOU can decide that.

The Citizen who invests less in the Community Fund than he should is pawning his self-respect for a pittance, hoping to trade it back at face value when the campaign is over Write your own price tag on your own pride!

The Crusader of the Twelfth Century went forth on horseback, clad in helmet and spur. Firmly he grasped the shank of a shining spear. Today the real Crusader neither rides a horse nor carries a spear. He comes to you with one man's challenge to another—INVEST in your community—your happiness—your own well-being!

Remember you and I can't dodge facts. And the fact is this challenge to citizenship, this call to arms, must be met. Do we duck or dig?

I'm in, are you?
