

ROADS IN GOOD CONDITION FOR WINTER TRAVEL

Fewer Detours Than Ever.
Reported in Traffic Bulletin.

Travelers on Hoosier highways will be inconvenienced by fewer detours this winter, the state highway traffic bulletin announced today.

The bulletin points out that with the completion of a 500-mile paving program this year, main roads are open in all directions from Indianapolis without detours.

It also states that unpaved mileage has entered the winter season in better condition than ever before.

Director John J. Brown of the department pointed out that the maintenance division now has adequate truck and snow-plow equipment to keep the roads clear in any kind of blizzard.

General road conditions are listed as follows:

Road 3—Detour four miles north of Greensburg is five miles. Bridge run

CITY GETS HIGH QUALITY WORK, ENGINEER SAYS

Supervision of Contractors Results in Better Paving Jobs.

More intelligent supervision and inspection of public improvement jobs in Indianapolis has resulted in a better quality of work.

This is the verdict of City Engineer A. H. Moore, who, reviewing two years as city engineer, today declared:

"We don't take credit for cheaper prices because the war was on before we came to city hall. But we do think better work has been done by contractors."

"From the standpoint of the property owner it is desirable that the bitter competition between asphalt and concrete contractors continue. A few years ago the city used to be distracted and contractors agreed among themselves that they would get all work in certain sections of the city.

"Prices haven't been reduced materially. They were low when we entered office because contractors were cutting each other's throats on costs. Modern methods and machinery have enabled contractors to make money despite the low figures," Moore declared.

The improvement in quality of sidewalk and curb concrete is shown by the tests which show jobs today stand a test of from 3,500 to 4,500 pounds pressure to each square inch, while in 1928 the test averaged 2,260 pounds, Moore said.

Proper mixing has been responsible for the better quality work, the same specifications and ingredients being used, he asserted. M. G. Johnson, assistant engineer, supervised and instructed contractors in proper methods and time for mixing cement, a uniform product being the result. Contractors themselves are said to be better satisfied.

Concrete streets and bases for asphalt tops average about 4,000 pounds pressure test, compared with 2,300 in 1926. Tests are taken by a special testing corps on every city job.

Statistics compiled by Sherman A. Hendricks, assistant engineer, showed a total of 35.3 miles of pavement laid in 1929.

The average cost per mile of a twenty-four foot roadway with excavation included was: Asphalt, $40,500; asphaltic concrete $38,438; concrete $32,380.

The prices are about 30 to 40 per cent less than the costs before the paving war started in 1925, Moore said.

The table shows the mileage of the various types completed in 1929: Asphalt, 4.15 miles, total cost $219,000, averaging $28.8 a square yard; asphaltic resurfacing 4.01 miles, $182,340, averaging $2.03 a yard; asphaltic concrete, 2.87 miles, $182,340, averaging $2.73 a square yard; concrete, 13.30 miles, $540,500 averaging $2.30 a square yard; concrete

Ocean Caves in

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The floor of the Atlantic ocean, about 150 miles east of Kankakee, has caved in, according to a report made today by Captain Davis W. Bone of the Anchor line Transylvania, which docked here.

Captain Bone said he attempted soundings in several spots, but could not find bottom. Ordinarily, this area has a uniform depth of 100 fathoms. The recent earthquake is believed to have caused the caving.

alleys, 4.05 miles, $84,000, averaging $2.33 a square yard; cement walks, 6.85 miles, $40,000, averaging $0.203 a square foot; and .34 miles brick at total cost of $17,000.

BIBLE STILL LEADS WORLD BEST SELLERS

36,000,000 Copies Printed in One Year; War Story Follows.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A 470,000-foot book shelf, long enough to reach from New York to Philadelphia, would be required to hold all the Bibles published last year, according to an estimate made by the Bible Guild in connection with the annual observance of Universal Bible Sunday, Dec. 8.

While "All Quiet on the Western Front" has rolled up the unprecedented fiction record of 1,600,000 copies in Europe and America, the Bible as a best seller is still in a class by itself with an estimated total of 36,000,000 volumes turned out by the presses of the world in a single year.

This includes copies of the entire Bible, Testaments, and books or portions individually bound.
