

FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. WICKS TO BE TUESDAY

Wife of City Pastor Was Descendant of Pioneer
Boston Family.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Goodnow Wicks, wife of Dr. Frank S. C. Wicks, pastor of the All Souls Unitarian Church, and widely known religious leader, who died Sunday afternoon at the Methodist hospital, will be held at the All Souls church, 1453 North Alabama street, at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

The Rev. Dilworth Lupton, pastor of the First Unitarian church, Cleveland; the Rev. M. L. Haines, Indianapolis, and Rabbi M. M. Feuerlicht, this city, will be in charge of the services.

Death claimed Mrs. Wicks, who was a descendant of one of the prominent pioneer families of Boston after a lingering illness. She was brought to Indianapolis in October from her Boston home, and was taken immediately to the Methodist hospital.

Surviving her, beside Mr. Wicks are a daughter, Miss Corynne Wicks, two sons, Warwick and Devon Wicks, of Indianapolis; a sister, Mrs. Frances Goodnow, and four nephews.

Born in 1874
Mrs. Wicks was born in Boston, Dec. 27, 1874. One of her ancestors is said to have been a leader in the "Boston tea party." Another ancestor carved the famous wooden codfish that hangs in the statehouse of Massachusetts.

She married the Rev. Mr. Wicks in 1899. In 1905 she left the home city of her ancestors when her husband accepted the Indianapolis pastorate. The family home is at 111 East Forty-fourth street.

She became prominent in Indianapolis club life and served as president of the Progressive Club. She was a member of the Current History Club and of the Propylaeum. Her lectures on foreign travels, prepared after extended tours abroad, have been given before many clubs of the city.

Tribute Is Paid

Tribute was paid by friends and associates of Mrs. Wicks in a composite letter submitted to Victor R. Jose Jr., president of the board of trustees of the All Souls church Sunday. It said in part:

"We lose a woman noted for her intellectuality. But far greater is our loss of a friend and counselor, an inspirational and spiritually directing force, whose presence always was so kindly and unobtrusive, and yet whose constant aid and directing influence was unconsciously a vital part of our church life."

DEATH TOLL IS 72

Chinese Pirates Fire Ship
After Raid.

By United Press

HONG KONG, Dec. 9.—The death toll from a raid by Chinese pirates on the steamer Haiching had mounted to seventy-two at noon today. Authorities learned that twelve were killed by bullets and sixty were reported drowned. Hospitals here are treating thirty-eight injured.

Only four officers and a handful of Indian Chinese guards defended the bridge when the pirates attacked, it was learned. The pirates had sailed from Swatow as passengers. The Haiching was en route here.

Twice the pirates charged the bridge. The officers threw electric torches to one side of the deck to draw the pirates' fire, then sent a volley into their midst. The pirates then fired the ship. Two British naval boats, towed the Haiching here, after answering calls for help.

CLUB SLAYER KILLS TEACHER WHILE ASLEEP

Fingerprints on Gas Pipe
Furnish Only Clue in Apartment Crime.

By United Press

ROCKFORD, Ill., Dec. 9.—Fingerprints on the length of gas pipe with which Miss Cordelia E. Gummshelmer, 35-year-old Spanish teacher in the Rockford high school, was clubbed to death after she apparently had been attacked while asleep in her apartment, furnished the only clue today to the identity of the murderer.

The body of the pretty and popular teacher, clad in a pink night gown, was discovered lying on a bed in her third-floor apartment by two teachers, who investigated, when she did not keep a dinner appointment Sunday night.

Police determined she had been dead at least twelve hours. An open book was beside the bed, indicating Miss Gummshelmer had been reading before turning out the light some time after 11 p. m. Saturday. The pipe also was beside the bed.

Miss Gummshelmer, a Knox college graduate, whose home was in Belleville, Ill., has been teaching here several years. Neighbors said she had had numerous men callers and letters found in her apartment indicated she had been engaged to Glen Wiseman, business man of Modeltown, N. Y., and Carbon Springs, Fla. Friends said they understood the engagement had been broken.

Police attributed the crime to a degenerate.

GARNER FACES CONTEST

Lumber Interests of South Are Stirred by Lobby Case.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—A fight to defeat Representative John Garner, minority leader of the house, is expected to result from the senate lobby investigation. The fight will be in the next election in the Fifteenth district of Texas.

John Henry Kirby, multi-millionaire lumberman of Houston, and J. A. Arnold, manager of the Southern Tariff Association, are expected to take a leading part in it. Kirby blames Garner for the senate inquiry into the association, during which Arnold has been denounced as a lobbyist interested only in collecting funds.
