

HUSTON GIVES EXPLANATION IN FUND INQUIRY

Tells Senate Lobby Group
Carbide Firm Bought Survey Data.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 20.—Claudius Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, testified before the senate lobby committee today that the $36,100 he received from the Union Carbide Company was in payment for property of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, which formerly he headed.

The Union Carbide money, according to testimony previously given the senate committee, had been used temporarily by Huston in a margin account in New York.

Held Authority

The situation arising from the lobby committee's investigation caused reports today that the White House might be interested in Huston's national committee status, but indications were that no immediate action is contemplated.

When it was pointed out by committee members that the property belonged to the association and had been paid for by contributions over a long period, Huston stuck to his statement and declared that as president of the association he had authority to sell its property.

Not Contribution

Huston was questioned at length about the purpose of the carbide company in giving the money. He said the money was not a contribution, but the purchase price for the maps and surveys of the Tennessee river valley which the association had made over a period of twenty years. He said he had agreed to turn all the data over to the company when the association was disbanded.

FORM HENDERSON CLUB

Organization Will Aid Candidate in Race for Prosecutor.

Organization of a Henderson for Prosecutor Club has been completed with headquarters at 608 Fidelity Trust building, according to Addison J. Perry, president.

The club, which promote the candidacy of Laurens L. Henderson for the Republican nomination for prosecutor, is sponsored by many prominent Republicans of the county.

Other officers are Dr. Amelia R. Keller, vice-president; Irving M. Fauvre, secretary, and Robert S. Stempf, treasurer.

2 BANDITS STEAL TAXI

Draw Guns, Force Driver From Cab After Getting $29.

Police today sought two bandits who are alleged to have robbed William Christie, 30, of 1223 North Gale street, Red Cab Company driver, of $29 Wednesday afternoon.

Christie told police the men drew revolvers when he started to enter his cab in front of the company's office, 739 East Market street. He told police they forced him to drive to East street and Terrace avenue, where they robbed him and stole the cab.

Police later found the cab at Raymond street and Madison avenue.

Night School Students Fashion Own Dresses

Left to Right—Mrs. H. J. Perschbacher, 4938 Young avenue; Helen Poersol, 214 North State avenue, and her little niece, Willowdean Cornell; Miss Hazel Barrows, 1309 North La Salle street, class instructor, and Mrs. Gladys Paswater, 816 North Bradley avenue.

Classes Give Day Workers Chance to Prepare for Better Jobs.

First aid to domesticity, as well as to general education, the Indianapolis night school at Arsenal Technical high school, will close March 28 for the season.

Those who have completed courses in the night school are eligible for high school credits. Graduation exercises are held in June for those who have completed the course.

The dressmaking and sewing class of the school is popular. Young wives find in it opportunity to become experts in sewing and dressmaking. In the picture three members of the class are wearing dresses made during class hours.

Almost 1,200 persons were enrolled in the night classes during the winter, and average attendance was 80 per cent of the enrollment. While many students were but 16 years old, others were 40 and 50, the average of those enrolled being 23 years.

All regular day school courses are presented in the night school. Day school standards prevail. Practically 50 per cent were enrolled in subjects directly related to their daily employments, fitting themselves for better positions or completing high school courses. The average education of pupils was the second year in high school.

The largest classes were shorthand, 159 pupils; bookkeeper, 172; machine calculation, 142, and electricity, 14. Business English had 99, high school mathematics, 58; mechanics, drafting, 82; machine shop practices, 81; sheet metal work, 63, and printing, 31.

COPS SEEK DAMAGES IN POLICE CAR CRASH

Driver of Other Auto Defendant to $45,000 Actions.

Two damage suits asking a total of $45,000, echo the police emergency crash at Twenty-first and Illinois streets, March 26, 1928, resulting in serious injuries to four policemen and three newspaper reporters, were on file today in superior courts against John B. Stickle, 2031 North Meridian street, driver of the auto that collided with the police car.

Plaintiffs are Sergeant Victor Houston and Patrolman Thomas J. Harrison, members of the emergency crew. Harrison asks $25,000, and Houston, $20,000.

CHARTER MEMBERS OF ELKS HONORED

Charter members of Indianapolis Lodge No. 13, Order of Elks, were to be entertained at a luncheon in the Elks' Club today by officers and trustees of the organization.

Members now living who joined the order at time of its opening here forty-nine years ago are Harry S. New, former postmaster general; John J. Curtis, Bobbs-Merrill Company president; Joseph T. Fleming, executive director of the Elks' magazine; George W. June, Dr. Charles F. Cleveland of Indianapolis and E. A. Cooper and J. V. Cooke of Danville.

Gone, but Not Forgotten

Automobiles reported to police as stolen belong to:

Walter Meyer, 822 East Tenth street, Cadillac sedan, from New Jersey and Ohio streets.

Charles George, Anderson, Ind., Chevrolet coach, 563-742, from Anderson, Ind.

William F. Meyer Jr., 2517 South New Jersey street, Essex roadster, 95-612, from Linden and Prospect streets.

R. P. Murphy, Connersville, Ind., Buick coach, from Connersville, Ind.

ITCHING SKIN BANISHED BY ANTISEPTIC ZEMO

If itching, burning skin makes life unbearable, quickly apply Zemo, the soothing, cooling, invisible family antiseptic. Thousands find that Zemo brings swift relief from itching, helps to draw out local infection and restore the skin to normal. For twenty years Zemo has been clearing up skin, relieving pimples, rash and other skin irritations. Never be without it. Sold everywhere—35c, 60c and $1.00—Advertisement.

JAIL FACED BY PROF FOR HIDING WIFE'S CLOTHES

Learned Mathematician Gets 30-Day Term; Acted to Keep Spouse Home.

By United Press
CHICAGO, March 20.—The spectacle of a dignified college professor going to jail for hiding his wife's clothes is in prospect here today after Dr. Joseph Synderdahl, mathematics authority, was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment.

Mrs. Synderdahl, it seems, brought suit for divorce last December, charging her husband with being too busy with his algebra and other such to pay any attention to her. She also threatened to leave him. Whereupon her clothes disappeared and she couldn't.

So she had him haled into court a couple of weeks ago. Dr. Synderdahl denied having stolen her clothes. Mrs. Synderdahl insisted he had.

Judge Robert E. Getzel promised that he would investigate the disappearance of the clothes, then would sentence either Mrs. Synderdahl or her husband to jail for perjury.

Judge Getzel completed his investigation and without further comment, sentenced the professor, well known to the mathematics world, to thirty days in jail.

The divorce suit still is pending.

TOWER SHOP IS OPENED

Men's Clothes Store Is First in New Circle Building.

The Tower Establishment, 55 Monument Circle, custom shop for men, was opened to the public today at 11 a. m. The shop is the first business to open in the new Circle Tower building.

R. O. Hopkins is managing director and H. S. Gabriel is head of the sporting department.

Fillmore Man Held Insane

By Times Staff
GREENCASTLE, Ind., March 20.—Samuel E. Thomas, 56, Fillmore, was adjudged insane by physicians at an inquest here.

Indianapolis Sufferer Finds Stomach Relief

Mr. Robert Freshwater of 1022 Harlan St., for many years employed by the Colonial Furniture Co., says—

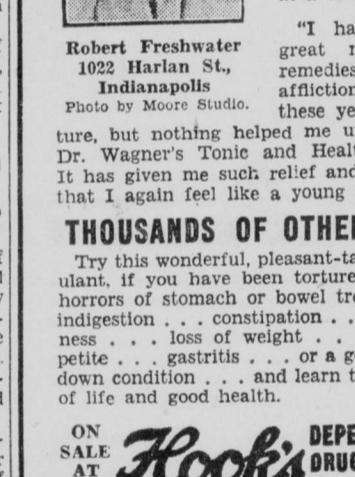

"For years I've suffered terrible pains in my stomach. Food simply would not digest, and gas formed which bloated me nearly every day. Hardly a week passed I did not vomit after several meals. I lost much time from work at the factory because of dizzy spells which made it necessary for me to lie down an hour or two at a time.

"I had tried a great number of remedies for my affliction during these years of torture, but nothing helped me until I took Dr. Wagner's Tonic and Health Builder. It has given me such relief and happiness that I again feel like a young man."

THOUSANDS OF OTHERS Say:

"Try this wonderful, pleasant-tasting stimulant, if you have been tortured by the horrors of stomach or bowel trouble . . . indigestion . . . constipation . . . nervousness . . . loss of weight . . . poor appetite . . . gastritis . . . or a general rundown condition . . . and learn the true joy of life and good health."

ON SALE AT HOOK'S DRUG STORES

She took another woman's place

—in the arms of a sightless lover!

THEO, dear, do you love me?" Noel whispered to the girl beside him. His sightless eyes stared vacantly past her. How could he know in his blindness that she was not the woman he loved—but an imposter who had taken his sweetheart's place?

Frantically she realized the folly it had been to agree to take Theo's place! What strange fate had given her voice the same tone as Theo's—enabling her to deceive this blind, devoted man?

"Yes, Noel—I love you." Each word was a dagger in her heart. She was saying "I love you" for a woman who at this moment loved another man!

"Come to my arms," Noel said.

In a moment she was in his embrace. She wanted to cry out—"I am not Theo—but I love you!" His kisses stilled the words . . . What happened when Noel regained his sight? She had lied to him—deceived him. Would he regard her as a cheat . . . an adventuress? Could she ever win the love of this man whom she had tricked? Or would she lose him forever? Read "Shining Through the Dark" by Ethel Donohue, the absorbing romance of a girl who dared to accept the love that belonged to another woman! Don't miss this heart-searching story, complete in this week's issue of Love Story Magazine.

Many thrilling stories in March 22nd issue

What are your love problems?

What would you do if you fell in love with a man and later found out he was married? Suppose your sweetheart left you—how could you win him back? These are the kind of problems that Laura Alston Brown answers every week in her helpful department—"The Friend in Need." Whatever problems are worrying you—Mrs. Brown is ready to aid you at all times.

Take a Good Critical Look at Yourself

Too many tired out, depressed, discouraged men and women, looking older than their years, needlessly endure misery and discomfort due to neglected kidney and bladder irregularities, sleep-disturbing night calls, backache and dull headaches, when just 2 Foley Pills diuretic taken at intervals as directed would regulate urinary processes and clear the system of those lurking poisons that cause the distressing aches. Satisfaction guaranteed. Ask for Foley Pills diuretic. Sold everywhere—35c, 60c and $1.00—Advertisement.

LOVE STORY MAGAZINE
Street & Smith Publications
15¢ NOW ON SALE AT ALL NEWSSTANDS

Session Head

NEW YORKERS BOO BROOKHART IN DRY DEBATE

Nation Soon Will See Day When Not a Drink Will Be Found, He Says.

BY H. ALLEN SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 20.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa rode full tilt against the wet hordes of Manhattan Wednesday night.

Before a hostile crowd of close to 2,000 persons at the Mecca temple the Iowa senator stood his ground and declared New York and the rest of the country will soon see the day when a drink of rum can not be found.

What with the caustic, biting sarcasm of his debating opponent, Clarence Darrow, and the rude, unquenchable yelping of a hundred hecklers, Senator Brookhart's voice was all but lost in the hubbub.

Darrow turned his guns on the Methodist Board of Temperance and Public Morals, on the Anti-Saloon League, on the W. C. T. U., on congress and even on the White House.

He called Hoover "that noble experiment who presides as President of the United States."

He said that "the Methodist prohibitionists have worried themselves so much about the pope coming to America and establishing himself here that they have beaten him to

it. They've set themselves up across the street from the nation's capital, where they can argue with weak-minded senators and weak-minded congressmen."

"These foul prohibitionists," Darrow shouted, "have single-track brains—it any."

The senator smiled in the faces of his hooting audience, and hooted back at them.

"You birds in the gallery up there," he shouted above the tumult, "are living examples of the cause you represent. It's apparent to me.

These New Rejuvenating Salts Keep You Feeling Younger

That's Just What She Said
—Just What He Said

AND A MILLION FAT FOLKS CAN'T BE WRONG

When you take vitalizing Kruschen Salts for a few days that old indolent armchair feeling deserts you—it doesn't matter how fat you are—the urge for activity has got you—and you're stepping lively.

And best of all you like this activity—you walk a couple of miles and enjoy it—you thought you'd never dance again but you find you're getting as spry as ever—the old tiring as you are.

A half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning is all you need to keep healthy—keep your stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys in splendid condition—free your system from harmful toxins and acids.

Hook's Dependable Drug Stores sells lots of Kruschen Salts—so do good druggists everywhere—Advertisement.

after hearing you tonight, that New York doesn't put everybody in jail that should be behind bars."

Brookhart charged that "the only hypocrite and bigot in the whole business is none other than Andrew J. Mellon; he's the man in charge of enforcement and he's not in favor of enforcement."

Entertainer III

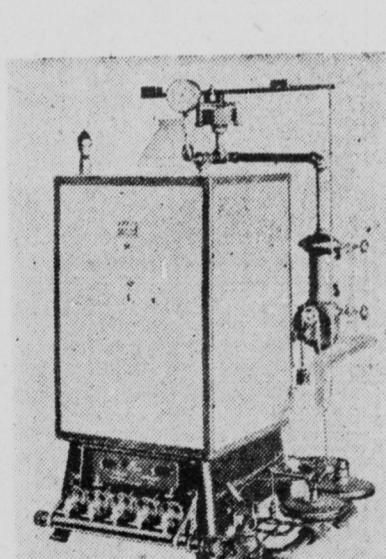

By Times Staff

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 20.—Roy C. Kanouse, entertainer under the name of Gosh, is in Memorial hospital here, recovering slowly from the effects of an emergency appendicitis operation.

Automatic Gas Heating is completely carefree—it has an ease and convenience of operation that is truly marvelous.

Warm Air
Hot Water
Steam Vapor

It is odorless and silent—it gives a cleanliness unsurpassed by any other fuel. Gas Heat banishes ash cans, tanks and all heating drudgery and worries.

No Maze of Complicated Moving Parts to Wear Out or Require Service Calls

The best way to learn about costs is to let us examine your home. You will then get the facts as to costs of operation and what a gas heating plant completely installed will cost you.

Enjoy Automatic Gas Heating during the remainder of the winter. We can install a gas heating machine, furnace or boiler without discomfort to you in so short a time that your home will not grow cold.

There is not a single obligation involved. So feel free to call or write any time.

Citizens Gas Co.

Riley 5421

45-47 S. Pennsylvania St.