FIFTH PAIR OF TWINS ARRIVES AT IOWA HOME

Father of 14 Proud of Remarkable Family; Inured to Shock.

By United Press
COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., March 21.—To most fathers the arrival of a pair of twins comes as a shock, but Andrew Koger has become inured and only smiled when informed his wife had given birth to their fifth pair.

Pride shone from his glance as he announced, "They told us before there were several families with four sets of twins. Now it's a cinch we've got them beat."

Married in 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Koger half-expected twins when they learned their first baby was coming, for there were twins in both branches of the family.

They were disappointed the first time, however, when Orren, now 25, appeared. High hopes faded three years later when Ellery was born and almost disappeared two years later when Bessie made her appearance.

Then hope flared again and was rewarded with the appearance of Clyde and Gladys in 1913. Abbie and Addie followed in 1915, and Floyd and Lloyd came in 1920.

Said Andrew to his wife as she fed the latest arrivals: "I told you so. There's twins and twins on both sides. There'll be more. You wait and see."

Two years passed before Jean and Jeannette showed up and the parents named them and sought more alliterative names for use in case Andrew's prediction was fulfilled in greater portion.

Jack, now 5, interrupted their search and they began to believe the twins had ended, but last year hope was renewed.

MORE EVIDENCE OF RARE MERIT OF NEW KONJOLA

Again New and Different Medicine Brings Remarkable Relief From Stubborn Ailments.

In the record of Konjola, the new and different medicine, sufferers can find more and more reason for hope as this great compound marches on to victory after victory and triumph after triumph.

MR. JOHN REED

Men and women who have taken Konjola—given it a fair trial—in many cases are eagerly endorsing and praising it, as shown by the testimonial produced here. To give Konjola a fair test, the sufferer should continue with this remarkable medicine six or eight weeks. One bottle will last a week, and the cost is small, indeed, for such a worth-while treatment.

This super-medicine, of 32 valuable ingredients, strikes at the very source of the ailment, and, as hundreds of men and women of all ages have learned, to their everlasting joy, brings relief that is swift and thorough. The experience of Mr. John Reed, age 69, who lives at 443 West South street, Indianapolis, is an added event in support of this claim. The Konjola Man, now at Hook's Dependable drug store, Illinois and Washington streets, this city, will give you all the facts about Konjola. He is not there to make promises but to tell you what Konjola has done, is doing, and will do. Mr. Reed recently said to the Konjola Man:

"For three years I had been in a weakened, run-down condition because of stomach, liver and kidney troubles. It is little wonder that rheumatism, with its terrible aches and pains, settled in my arms and shoulders. Food did not digest as it should, but lay in my stomach and soured. Gas, bloating and cramping pains caused misery for hours after every meal. I had a burning sensation from my throat to my stomach. I had sharp pains across the small of my back; my hands felt numb, and I suffered with headaches and dizzy spells occasionally. Naturally, I could not sleep well at night, and lost in weight and strength.

"My attention was attracted to Konjola by the many sincere endorsements and I wondered if Konjola was the medicine I needed. Well, I was not long in finding out, for, just as I was told it would do, Konjola lost no time in going to work. Within a week I felt improved, and in four weeks Konjola had completely banished every last one of my ailments. It is, indeed, remarkable how this medicine stimulated my organs, renewed my strength and vitality; particularly so, when my age, 69, is taken into consideration. And it has been over a year since Konjola restored my health, and not a trace of my former ailments have returned. It gives me much pleasure to endorse Konjola."

That's the kind of medicine Konjola is—one that keeps the faith; that brings results that makes good. The Konjola Man is at Hook's Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine.
