

THIRTY-SIX PREP TEAMS START NATIONAL PLAY TUESDAY

Ft. Wayne Five Plays Third Tilt

One Hoosier Entry Opposes Chinook, Mont., at 1 P. M.

CHICAGO, March 31.—With thirty-six teams from twenty-six states entered for competition, first-round games in the twelfth annual University of Chicago national interscholastic basketball tournament gets under way Tuesday at 11 a. m. when John Reagan High of Houston, Tex., meets Linsly Institute of Wheeling, W. Va.

The opening round contests will not be complete until Wednesday night. Losers in the first games will begin consolation play Thursday.

With seventeen state champions as well as runners-up for state honors and winners of national tournaments in Catholic and institute divisions entered, the tournament is expected to furnish the outstanding plays of its history.

The entry list of thirty-six is the largest ever permitted, exceeding by two the limitation which was abandoned in order to allow Casper Wyo., runner-up for the state title, to enter after all citizens of the town, including the mayor, had wired Chicago officials asking that they be allowed to compete.

Catholic Central of Ft. Wayne, the lone Hoosier entrant in the race, will play Chinook, Mont., in the third game of the first round Tuesday at 1 p. m.

Athens, Tex., defending champion, will meet Lankin, N. D., at 7 p. m. Wednesday in a first-round game.

Girl Athlete Carries on Frankfort's Tradition

DON'T be blue, Frankfort? You can't win basketball tournaments all the time and when you can't, well, leave it to the girls, they'll get even.

university by winning the annual "B" and a sweater given by the university for being its best feminine athlete.

Miss Robinson scored 1,000 points during the year to demonstrate her athletic prowess.

Miss Errol Askren of Greensburg, at the left in the photo, was second with 700 points. She was awarded a "B" without the sweater.

Senators, Red Sox in First Game

President Hoover to See Big League Opener on April 14.

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 31.—Two weeks from today the 1930 major league baseball season will open with a preliminary game between the Red Sox and Senators at Washington.

After this game before President Hoover and other celebrities on April 14, the remainder of the major league clubs will swing into action the following day.

Many strange things have happened at the training camps this spring.

One of the big surprises is the great playing of Barney Friberg, who threatens to crowd Captain Presco Thompson off his regular place at second base with the Phillies. Friberg, who has played practically every position with the Phils, apparently has found his real position at last and has temporarily been named to start the season at second, in place of Thompson, who was a holdout and late in reporting.

The Chicago Cubs, National League champions, lost three straight games to Pittsburgh before they finally won Sunday, 13-7.

The world champion Philadelphia Athletics have been able to win only six of fifteen exhibition games against the Cardinals, Braves, Reds, Phillies and Robins. The Braves took four out of five from the Athletics.

A number of young players appear to have won regular jobs. Among this group are Allen (Dusty) Cooke and Ben Chapman, both from St. Paul, who have been named by Manager Bob Shawkey to start the season in left field and third base, respectively, for the New York Yankees.

Smead Jolly, San Francisco outfielder, has made good with the Chicago White Sox, and his teammate, Gus Suhr, hard-hitting first baseman, has won a regular place with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Three rookies probably will start the season for the Boston Braves. They are Randolph Moore, who came up from Dallas, an outfielder, but who has been converted into a third baseman, Johnny Neun from Baltimore, who formerly played first base for Detroit, and Wally Berger, from the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League club.

LOCAL SCHOOLS TRIUMPH

Tennis Finalists Refuse to Play

By United Press

CANNES, France, March 31.—Tennis enthusiasts who had been following the play in the Cannes international tournament were indignant today over the action of Sig Bill Tilden and the other finalists in the men's and women's singles in failing to play for the championships Sunday.

Tilden said that he and Wilbur F. Coen Jr. of Kansas City were too intimate to play and that the match would not be worth seeing. Miss Elizabeth Ryan, formerly of California but now living in England, and Baroness Von Reznicek, the women's single finalists, also gave excuses and did not play their match.

Knute Rockne Approves New Time Ruling on Grid Shift

Three Members of Rules Committee Opposed to Notre Dame System Responsible, Says Coach.

BY KNUTE ROCKNE

MIAMI, Fla., March 31.—The football rules committee, at its recent meeting, made a new ruling restricting the shift. The old ruling read that a shifting team must pause for "approximately" one second. The new ruling states that the pause must be for "at least" one second. The new ruling also gives the referee the suggestion of counting six instead of four to denote a second.

I want to go on record as being heartily in favor of this new change. This new ruling should not only eliminate momentum from the shift, but should also eliminate the shift from any further "momentous" discussions.

No member of the rules committee, at the previous meetings, which I attended, brought up the subject of the shift in any way. I presume that we are indebted to the three new coaches on the advisory committee for this most constructive measure.

Jock Sutherland of Pittsburgh, being a Warner product, has never liked the shift and there is no reason to think that he has felt any differently since he took his team out to Los Angeles last New Year's day and saw them run over in the traffic.

While Bob Zuppke, the second member, has always spoken very highly of Notre Dame and myself, yet he does not like the shift.

Pop Warner of Stanford was against the shift even before he began losing games to Notre Dame, Southern California, Santa Clara, St. Marys and other shifting teams.

There is only one detail to which I object and that is having the referee count six to denote the passing of one second. I have played golf with some of our best football officials and I find that several of them count that high only with difficulty.

PROMOTION OPPOSED

Bill Retiring Speed Flier Hit by Navy Chief.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Retirement of Lieutenant Alford J. Williams, navy speed flier, with a captain's rank, as proposed in a bill now before the house, was opposed today in a letter from Acting Secretary of Navy Jahnck to Chairman Britten of the house naval affairs committee.

Williams, who resigned last month rather than comply with a transfer to sea duty, was looked on as the navy's only hope to recover the Schneider cup speed record.
