

BAR GROUP TO NAME CHOICES FOR OFFICERS

Result of Association's Poll to Be Given Wide Publicity.

Members of the Indianapolis Bar Association will be polled as to their primary preferences for prosecutor and judicial posts and the results will be given wide publicity.

After two hours of stormy debate the report of the judiciary committee recommending the poll was accepted at the monthly dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Columbia Club.

Charges were made that a poll and endorsement would create political strife in the association, and that the majority of members belonging to one party might vote for the weakest candidates on the opposing party's ballot.

Two Ballots to Be Held

Democratic members declared that as the Republicans have a three-to-one majority in the association, their choice naturally would show more than that of the Democrats.

In order to obviate this discrepancy the names will be balanced upon twice. On the first ballot, each member will vote only on the candidates of his own party. After these results are compiled, a second ballot will be sent out for voting on the two highest choices for each post by each party. On this ballot, attorneys will vote for their one choice on each party's ballot, and the results will be given publicity.

Protest against the system was voiced by Michael Ryan, Fred Barrett, State Senators John L. Niblack and Sumner Clancy, Ira Holmes, Thomas Whalon, Harvey Hartsock, Albert Stump and others.

Voters Elect Choices

William L. Taylor, president of the association, pointed out that if there is but one candidate and no votes are cast for this candidate the public easily could discern that he was not desirable.

Records reveal that, with but two exceptions, recommendations of the association have proved acceptable and the voters have elected the choices, Clancy pointed out. In every instance except one the man on the bench received the association's endorsement.

The first ballots will be mailed immediately after April 10, the final date for withdrawals.

INDIANA 'BLUE LAW' AIDS FILM OPERATOR

Conviction Under City Ordinance Set Aside by Supreme Court.

A 100-year-old Sunday "blue law" was used in supreme court today to keep a Crawfordsville moving picture theater operator from paying a fine for running his show on Sunday, which is just the reverse of the original intent of the law.

Arthur Jackson had been fined in city court at Crawfordsville for operating his show on Sunday, contrary to city ordinance. He appealed to Park circuit court and the city court decision was reversed.

Crawfordsville appealed to the supreme court and today a decision was handed down upholding the Park court reversal.

It points out that there is a 100-year-old Sunday "blue law" which is still good law in Indiana, under which the case should have been prosecuted instead of under city ordinance, which can not supersede the state statute.

Don't fool yourself!

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Halitosis makes you unpopular with children

Some parents blame everything but halitosis (unpleasant breath) when children are not affectionate. As a matter of fact, halitosis is often the cause.

Don't fool yourself that you are free of it, because it is simply impossible to tell when you have it. It doesn't announce itself to the victim.

Eliminate the risk entirely by using full strength Listerine every day, morning and night. And between times, before meeting others.

NEW CARNATION SPECIES, GROWN HERE, WINNER

Result of City Florist's Experiment Is Talk of Entire Nation.

Seven years of experiments brought A. F. J. Bauer, 444 Maple road, honors when his new variety of carnation became the sensation of the Cleveland Flower show this week.

Superior to all other varieties in size, strength of stem, fullness of the bloom and productivity, the new carnation is attracting nation-wide attention. Carnations rank second only to roses, florists point out, in point of usage for all purposes and development of the new carnation was hailed at the Cleveland show as the outstanding floral development of recent years.

Bauer, gray-haired veteran of the floral business in Indianapolis, is a partner in Baur & Steinkamp, florists, 3800 Rockwood avenue.

Seven years ago he began experiments to develop a more attractive and harder carnation. Through cross pollination, he says, he obtained many varieties, but attributes development of the species he is showing to "luck."

GOVERNMENT NO PROSPERITY AID, SAYS JIM REED

People Get Along on Own Industry, Ex-Senator Tells Insurors.

"The people of the United States have prospered not because of government, but in spite of it," former United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri told officers and representatives of the Federal Service Life Insurance Company of Kansas at a banquet in the Claypool Wednesday night.

"The government can take money from some and give it to others, and it can keep others from making some, but it can not give us prosperity," Reed declared. "Any one who waits for the government to legislate prosperity back into existence should have his cranium examined."

"The people make prosperity. It is the industry of one hundred million brains and that many pairs of hands toiling that creates wealth. Sometimes the machinery of production fails and the government interferes, but in the end business moves on, and we press forward to prosperity."

Reed has acted as counsel for the insurance company. He devoted the greater part of his address to business matters.

Other speakers included Alex C. Green, Detroit; E. R. Sloan, Holton, Kan.; J. H. Sandell, and J. H. Brader of Kansas City, Kan.; Herbert W. Jordan, also of Kansas City, and B. Frank Bushman of Detroit, president, Clarence C. Wysong, Indiana state insurance commissioner, acted as toastmaster.
