

The Indianapolis Times

Partly cloudy and colder tonight; Tuesday fair and somewhat colder.

HOME

VOLUME 41—NUMBER 295

INDIANAPOLIS, MONDAY, APRIL 21, 1930

Entered as Second-Class Matter at Postoffice, Indianapolis

TWO CENTS Outside Marion County 3 Cents

MARY DELLA

BY JULIE ANN MOORE

COPYRIGHT 1930 THE INDEPENDENT SYNDICATE

CHAPTER ONE

MARY DELLA CHUBB was hardboiled. That is the right word. That, at any rate, is the right word for what Mary Della herself said she was. Hardboiled.

She admitted it. She boasted of it. She even went so far on one occasion as to offer conclusive proof of it. But we will come to that later.

The point here is that Mary Della chose to play the part and played it rather well until after that memorable night on the Cheshire road. And then it began to dawn on her that a girl could be modern and independent without being masculine.

Of course that experience was enough to change anyone. It might not have had the same effect on some other girl, to be sure. Miriam Bobbin, for example. But then, it wasn't likely that any one would be parked out on a country road with a girl like Miriam. There wasn't the incentive.

To Miriam, "It" was a two letter word meaning something the right name of which you couldn't think of at the moment. And things didn't seem to sink so deeply with Miriam, showing that where there's no sex appeal, there's no sensation.

But Mary Della! There was another matter.

Wife's Love of Finery Reveals $20,000 in Loot

Girl, 17, Sobs Denial of Knowing Mate Stole.

TEARFUL, a girl-wife sorted through the "pretties" which had meant so much to her, at police headquarters today.

Declaring she had been ignorant of her young husband's looting of apartments and residences, Miss Hays said she had more than $20,000 in loot since Jan. 1. Mrs. Tampa Lorraine Nicholas, 17, sobbed as she looked through a great mass of loot to find the few garments and pieces of jewelry she could claim as her own.

Meanwhile, hostile looks came to her from a dozen other women, victims of apartment house burglaries who eagerly searched for their own treasures in the pile of goods police say was stolen by the young woman's husband, William Nicholas, alias William Lorraine, 24, of 3871 Broadway.

The girl wife had been the means of betraying her husband's thefts, police say.

With few pretty garments of her own, she had worn a stolen dress, and fate trapped her.

MISS MARTHA R. HAYS, formerly residing at 4609 East Washington street, recently moved to the home of her brother, E. C. Hays, 3871 Broadway, where Nicholas and his wife were rooming. Miss Hays saw Mrs. Nicholas wearing a dress stolen in burglary of Miss Hays' apartment on Washington street two months ago.

When Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas were away from home, Miss Hays and her sister-in-law investigated their rooms and found masses of clothing, jewelry.

Police, investigating, arrested the Nicholas couple and also arrested Norbert C. Day, 23, of 4609 East Washington street, and his wife, Cora, 20, holding all four on vagrancy charges.

Articles valued at more than $20,000 were recovered from the rooms of the two couples.

NICHOLAS, however, is alleged to have made a statement that Mr. and Mrs. Day knew nothing of this burglaries and did not know articles he gave them were stolen. His statement also absolves his wife of blame, police say, but she will be held for further questioning. Nicholas has sold many articles, police say, and he is alleged to have said he told his wife he had been given the various articles to sell on commission.

THIRTY burglaries since the first of the year will be solved by the arrests, police declared today. Among those identifying articles at police headquarters today were: Miss Irene Schatz, 218 East Fifteenth street, Apartment 7; R. L. Grouch, 122 East St. Joseph street; De Reiss Stewart, 343 West Forty-third street; A. C. Bradford, 850 East Thirty-eighth street; Charles Rawlings, 1451 Central avenue, Apartment 25; Ralph Welland, 318 Col-Ten apartments; Grace Norwood, 307 Manchester apartments; Roxie Lingde and Vella Freed, 962 North Pennsylvania street, Apartment 306; Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Snider, 1015 College avenue; Helen and Emily Boyd, 962 North Pennsylvania street; J. Caylor Carney, 1451 Central avenue, Apartment 20; Mrs. J. D. Conway, 308 East Thirteenth street; Miss Hilie Corbett, 992 North Pennsylvania street, Apt. 103; Mrs. Mary Keeler and Miss Beatrice Vickery, 2615 Broadway; John Stedle, 1408 Broadway; M. E. Beach, 2124 Broadway; H. D. Norvell, 1005 North Pennsylvania street; William Hoehn, 4609 East Washington street; Miss Effie Shaw, 962 North Pennsylvania street; Miss Louise Simmons, 1005 North Pennsylvania street, and the Bradford Company, 650 East Thirty-eighth street.

LINDYS TOPPLE OLD MARK FOR SPANISH U. S.

Hawk's Time Is Bettered by Three Hours; Altitude Real Objective.

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 21.—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh felt "very well" after her cross-country flight, according to her husband. She did not speak with reporters, but he insisted she had suffered no ill effects from the venture. Some who saw her felt, however, that she did not appear so well as Lindbergh's optimistic statement indicated.

A local hospital where it had been rumored reservations were made for Mrs. Lindbergh this spring, denied knowing of any reservation.

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 21.—A new and brilliant air record was shared today by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and the young wife he taught to fly a few months ago.

Together, each helping the other to success, they safely ended the fastest trip ever made across the United States Sunday night when they brought their Lockheed Sirius monoplane down on Roosevelt field and learned they had beaten the existing cross-country record by almost three hours.

The "wheels of their powerful, stream-lined ship touched the ground at 11:11:52 p. m. (E. S. T.), exactly 14 hours 45 minutes 32 seconds after they had left Glendale, Cal., to explore a new transcontinental airway along the upper altitudes which Lindbergh believes will become the path of future, and speedier, transport service.

It was this object, rather than any desire to break the speed record of Captain Frank M. Hawks, that he had in mind from the start, and he was careful to point out that he had not eclipsed his fellow-flier's achievement.

Captain Hawks' mark of 17 hours and 43 minutes was for nonstop flight. The Lindberghs said they might have taken that long, or longer, if they had not stopped once en route at Wichita, Kan., for additional gasoline so that they would not need to throttle their motor.

Mrs. Lindbergh acted as navigator and relief pilot for her

(Turn to Page 2)

MERCURY HITS SLIDE

Near-Freezing Levels to Be Reached in City.

Temperature in Indianapolis early today began a decline that the United States weather bureau predicted would continue tonight and Tuesday until near freezing levels are reached.

In northern Indiana thermometers may read below freezing Tuesday.

Today and tonight will be cloudy, but Tuesday will be generally fair throughout Indiana, the forecast said. Warmer weather is not expected for several days.

Hourly Temperatures

6 a. m. 52 10 a. m. 48

7 a. m. 51 11 a. m. 48

8 a. m. 49 12 (noon) 49

9 a. m. 48

VOTE ON DRY LAW NEARS 5,000 MARK

ANOTHER tidal wave of votes rolled into The Times office today in the city prohibition poll. More than 1,200 new votes had been counted, as registered since Saturday noon. The coupon is printed for the last time Tuesday, so don't forget your final chance.

Total at noon today was 4,556. Here is how the city has voted thus far: Enforcement, 287; modification 599; repeal, 3,769.

The vote results as registered by all Scripps-Howard newspapers in their cities are given on Page 16 of this issue.

Clip the coupon, write your name and address, whether male or female, and check one of the three propositions on the ballot. Names are necessary to prevent repeating, as every care is taken to make the vote a fair one.

The Times is taking this poll at the request of the Literary Digest, the accuracy of whose count had been questioned.

Vote—and Check Digest Poll:

(Vote for One Only)

- (1) Do you favor the continuance and strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead law?
- (2) Do you favor a modification of the Volstead law to permit light wines and beers?
- (3) Do you favor a repeal of the prohibition amendment?

Name
Address
Street City

Male Female

(This coupon will be published Tuesday.)

5-POWER SEA PACT READY FOR SIGNING

Treaty Approved in Final Form; Work to End on Tuesday.

DIVIDED IN FIVE PARTS

Compromise Is Accepted by Delegates to London Parley.

By Webb Miller
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, April 21.—Heads of the five delegations to the naval conference approved the treaty in its final form today and sent it to the printers.

The text probably will be issued to the press at midnight for release Tuesday when the delegates will meet at St. James' palace to sign the five-power agreement achieved in negotiations here since Jan. 21.

A compromise on global and categorical methods of limitation, known as the French transactional plan, was accepted but will not be included in the treaty. It will be sent to the league of nations preparatory disarmament committee.

Divided Into Five Parts

The so-called "safeguarding" clause of the three-power treaty, permitting increase in navies beyond the set limit in case of dangerous building by a rival power not subject to the treaty, was incorporated substantially as reported last week.

The treaty was divided into five parts and a preamble. Part one concerns the modification of the Washington naval treaty, including a battleship holiday until 1936.

Part two concerns all technical points in naval limitation methods in which all five powers have agreed.

Effective Until 1936

Part three, is the three-power limitation treaty among the United States, Britain and Japan, effective until 1936.

Part four, a single article consisting of the accepted rules for "humanization" of submarine warfare.

Part five, is general, including specifications as to when the treaty is effective, duration of effectiveness and ratification.

It was understood Article 24, referring to ratification and the time when the treaty becomes effective, specifies the following:

The entire treaty will be effective so far as the three powers are concerned immediately after ratification by America, Britain and Japan.

The entire treaty, less the three-power agreement, will be effective as it affects France and Italy immediately after those two countries ratify it.

Stimson Admits Failure

NEW YORK, April 21.—The London naval conference was described as a mixture of success and failure by Secretary of State Stimson, chief American delegate, in a NBC radio address from London at the luncheon of the Associated Press today.

Despite the lack of success in some directions, the achievement at London promises to become the basis for final and complete solution of the problems of sea armaments, Stimson said.

Stimson said the relationship of the navies of the United States, Great Britain and Japan was solved in the three-power agreement. The problem involving the relationships between the navies of Great Britain, France and Italy, the conference failed to solve, Stimson admitted.

'LOVELIEST' BEAUTIES NAMED

Flo Ziegfeld Picks Hazel Forbes and Gladys Glad

"A well-molded nose is the most important prerequisite to beautiful features," says Ziegfeld, and he points to Hazel Forbes to illustrate his point.

By United Press
HOLLYWOOD, April 21.—Florenz Ziegfeld, stage impresario and noted connoisseur of feminine beauty, selects the well-molded nose as the most important prerequisite to beautiful features.

"A good nose," he said in an interview here today, "is the most important feature a girl can have. She must also have beautiful eyes, hair, complexion and figure, of course, but the nose comes first."

"The chin is another important factor but it is secondary to the nose. Probably it is because the nose and chin are the first things we look at in judging a person's face."

Ziegfeld declared that no age limit can be placed on beauty.

"Some women remain beautiful longer than others," he explained. "Some grow beautiful in a different way as they become older. Generally for our type of show, a girl is most beautiful under 25."

The American girl glorifier picked Hazel Forbes and Gladys Glad as the loveliest women he has ever seen. Both are blondes.

Reporter, 6, 'Covers' Egg Roll Party

This was children's day at the White House. Thousands of tots gathered to roll eggs on the grassy slopes around the executive mansion. Inasmuch as the youngsters took charge at the White House, the United Press White House correspondent stepped aside and turned over the job of reporting it to one of the young visitors who was at the egg rolling for the first time.

By Janet Ewing, Age 6
As dictated to her mother for the United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—I went down to roll Easter eggs on the White House lawn. I rolled my red egg.

It cracked and cracked. Once it bounced and hit a little boy.

Then I had only four eggs left.

Then we went up to see the White House.

The big policeman said Mrs. Hoover has a bad cold and couldn't come out, but President Hoover waved to the children at noon.

Then we went around bushes. Suddenly some one put their hands over my eyes. I turned around and saw my teacher who had brought her little nephew to roll eggs.

Jeanne got lost, but three Girl Scouts helped to find her. Another Girl Scout held Peter on her shoulder to see the May pole dance.

Oh yes, the band played and a beautiful girl danced in the middle of a ring. Then a lot of people crowded in and I couldn't see the next dance.

The sun was shining. Every child had baskets full of eggs. There was a big fountain.

Lots of children lost their balloons and there were airplanes in the sky, too.

Gee, I had a good time, but there were too many people.

ELECTED HAITI HEAD

Hoover Candidate Is Named Temporary President.

By United Press
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, April 21.—Eugene T. Roy, neutral candidate under the Hoover commission's plan for pacifying Haiti, was elected temporary president of the republic by the council of state today. The election was unanimous.

DREAMS OF AIRPLANE FALL: CANCELS TOUR

American, Slated for Flight Over Europe, Scared Out.

By United Press
MONTE CARLO, Monaco, April 21.—Louis Hess, retired Hollywood business man arrived aboard the Belgianland today but he declined to leave the ship for visit to the famous gambling casino—or for any other purpose.

Hess' reticence, it was explained, resulted from a visit to Naples, where he was scheduled to start an airplane tour of the principal European capitals. Shortly after going ashore at Naples, he fell asleep and dreamed he was falling from an airplane. When he awakened, he immediately canceled the air voyage and returned to the ship, to remain aboard until it reaches New York.

'LEGGERS TO PAY WIFE

Woman Wins $2,000 Judgment for Liquor Sales to Husband.

By United Press
CLEVELAND, April 21.—If the precedent set by a common pleas jury today is allowed to stand, Ohio wives may sue their husbands' bootleggers and collect damages.

The jury decreed that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gyurica, convicted bootleggers, must pay Mrs. Gyurica's $2,000 damages for impairing the usefulness of Mrs. Gyurica's husband by selling him liquor.

Mrs. Gyurica had sued for $25,000.

"A beautiful girl must have a figure, but a nose and chin are the first things we see in judging her face," says Ziegfeld, who says Gladys Glad "has everything."

COURT NAMES RAIL RECEIVER

T. H. I. & E. Official on Stand Favors Act.

Admissions that the T. H. I. & E. Traction Company is insolvent were made on the witness stand in superior court five today by Al T. Hixson, vice-president of the company, who said the company owed debts of taxes, bond interest and other items approximating $250,000.

Following the hearing Elmer W. Stout was appointed receiver for the company by Judge Joseph M. Miller and provided $100,000 bond.

Hixson was placed on the witness stand by the Consolidated Collieries Company, coal operators, plaintiff against the traction company, which alleges debt of $65,000. The traction company vice-president favored appointment of the receiver.

A second witness, John L. Lewer of Chicago, representing creditors of the company, also testified.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

The move to dismiss was taken after much hesitancy by an attorney for the electric company. A check for the $23,775 claim against the traction firm was received from the company by the Westinghouse concern Saturday.

The receivership actions followed public service commission denial of the $70,000,000 Insull merger petition late Friday.

SENATE GROUP VOTES TO BAN JUDGE PARKER

Judiciary Committee Will Report Unfavorably on Hoover Choice.

REJECTION IS INDICATED

Interview With Nominee of Union Labor and Negro Protests Is Denied.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 21.—With a surprising overturn of sentiment at the last moment, the senate judiciary committee voted today to report unfavorably to the senate the nomination of John J. Parker of North Carolina to be associate justice of the United States supreme court.

The vote was 10 to 6 and indicated the senate would reject President Hoover's nominee.

Six of the ten Republicans on the committee refused to endorse the administration nominee on the final roll call which follows:

For Parker (6)

Republicans (4)—Gillette, Massachusetts; Waterman, Colorado; Hastings, Delaware, and Hebert, Rhode Island.

Democrats (2)—Overman, North Carolina, and Stephens, Mississippi.

Against Parker (10)

Republicans (6)—Borah, Idaho; Deneen, Illinois; Robinson, Indiana; Blaine, Wisconsin; Norris, Nebraska, and Steiwer, Oregon.

Democrats (4)—Ashurst, Arizona; Walsh, Montana; Caraway, Arkansas, and Dill, Washington.

Prior to the vote on the nomination itself the committee rejected the idea of Republican leaders to call Parker here for a statement concerning the charges which have been lodged against him by union labor and Negro organizations.

Executive Session Held

A motion made by Senator Overman (Dem., S. C.) to invite the nominee, was rejected, 10 to 4. The votes were taken in executive session after only thirty minutes' discussion.

When the committee entered its rooms for the lineup indicated Parker would be called. It is understood President Hoover favored such a course, which also had been recommended privately to senate Republican leaders by Attorney-General Mitchell.

Backers of Parker believe that if he is invited the nominee could make a statement pacifying the opposition which had arisen among the farm and labor groups over the decision he endorsed as member of the circuit court of appeals of the Fourth circuit in the Red Jacket Coal Company case.

Hoover Firm on Stand

Parker's backers thought he also could dispel the far more alarming opposition from a political standpoint, which arose among Republican senators from border states, who the Negro voters about speeches marked Negro voters about speeches marked Negro voters about speeches marked

It was these Republican senators who have been going to the White House during the past two weeks attempting to persuade the President to withdraw the nomination. This Mr. Hoover steadfastly refused to do, taking the position it was a matter for the senate to fight out.

The leaders of the opposition to the nominee, Chairman Norris of the committee and Senator Borah (Rep., Ida.), opposed the calling of Parker. They said the case already had been heard and believed there was no reason other than one of political expediency for reopening it to hear the nominee.

The sizeable majority against the nominee in the committee virtually makes certain his ultimate rejection in the senate where the opposition controls more votes comparatively than it did in the committee.

Boys, Courteous to Old Lady, Rewarded

High School Youths Each Get $75,000, According to Will.

By United Press
PASADENA, Cal., April 21.—Two high school youths who remembered to be kind to a lonely old lady, were not forgotten when Mrs. Grace V. Harris of Pasadena wrote a will disposing of her $4,000,000 estate.

The boys, Theodore Martin Jr. and his brother, Finia, each were bequeathed $75,000 by Mrs. Harris, to whom they always were courteous. The will was on file today in probate court.

Stage Star Is Wedded

Pauline Frederick Becomes Bride of New Yorker, Fourth Mate.

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 21.—Pauline Frederick, star of the stage and screen world, is a bride for the fourth time today. She was married last night to Hugh Chisholm Leighton of New York at her latest husband's home here.

Miss Frederick's previous husbands were: Frank Andrews, architect; William Mack, playwright; and Dr. Charles A. Rutherford of Seattle.

Princess Elizabeth

lions, tigers, elephants and monkeys, many of which performed tricks when wound.