

HUSK O'HARE PRESENTS HIS BAND AS CIRCLE FEATURE

'Hold Everything' Starts Laugh Week at the Apollo Today
With Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown in the Chief Comedy Roles.

"MURDER WILL OUT," First National and Vitaphone production which is now showing at the Circle, is said to present a new angle on the ever-popular screen mystery story.

Husk O'Hare and his band are appearing on the Circle stage as an added attraction for one week only.

Unlike most mysteries in which the audience suspects one character after another, no hint of the denouement of "Murder Will Out" is given until the last three minutes of the picture.

Jack Mulhall, who has the leading male role, is supported by Lila Lee, who played opposite him in "Dark Streets."

The supporting cast includes Noah Beery, Malcolm MacGregor, Tully Marshall, Claud Allister, Hedda Hopper and Alec B. Francis.

The story is an adaptation of "The Purple Hieroglyph," by Will Jenkins, and was scenarized by J. Grubb Alexander. Clarence Badger directed.

Husk O'Hare and his band come here from the Hotel Stevens, Chicago, the world's largest, and the Flame Room, Chicago's newest and most exclusive night club. They offer several outstanding arrangements of popular tunes and novelty acts.

Lester Huff this week has arranged a medley of gypsy favorites entitled "Gypsy Airs."

The featured short subject is Charlie Murray in "His Honor the Mayor," an all-talking comedy. A Paramount sound news reel completes the bill.

LAUGH WEEK STARTS AT APOLLO

"Laugh week" is very cleverly introduced at the Apollo today, where "Hold Everything," a Vitaphone all-color musical comedy is holding forth as the current attraction.

There is much singing throughout the production and the score includes at least a dozen tuneful melodies. The majority of these are sung by Winnie Lightner, comedienne. Winnie is seen in one of the principal comedy roles. Joe E. Brown also has a comedy role.

Another leading role is played by the winsome Sally O'Neill, who is seen as the sweetheart of Georges Carpentier, who also has a leading role and stages an exciting championship ring battle.

Ray Del Ruth directed, and important players other than those mentioned above are Edmund Breese, Dorothy Reiver, Jack Curtis and Bert Roach.

Short subjects including Vitaphone acts, Screen Oddities and Fox Movietone News are included on the program.

NEW STAGE SHOW NOW AT INDIANA

"Lovin' the Ladies," the all-talking comedy romance adapted from the Broadway stage success, "I Love You," and starring Richard Dix, is now showing at the Indiana theater.

On the stage this week is a new and different type of presentation, "Rivers of the World," which is preceded by a specially arranged prologue conducted by Ed Resener.

Said to be produced with smartness and played with deftness, "Lovin' the Ladies" is said to be the ideal motion picture of entertainment. It is the first time Richard Dix has been given the opportunity to play in a motion picture taken from a stage production which he also starred in.

Melvin Brown directed this production which was produced by William Le Baron. Opposite Richard Dix is Lois Wilson, an old team-mate, who played opposite him in a series of silent pictures. Others in the cast are Rita La Roy, Renee Macready, Allen Kearns and Virginia Sales.

The cast of stage entertainers includes Allen and Canfield, on a night boat; Ben Dova, a few minutes on the Thames; Carlos Peterson, where the Volga flows; Virginia Bacon, on the Danube; Worthy and Thompson, down in Dixie dancers; Louis Deppie, "Ole Man River," and the River Memphes Ensemble presenting the Blue Danube to the Mississippi.

Dessa Byrd this week at the organ is playing a solo consisting of Walter Donaldson melodies. A Paramount sound news reel completes the program.

RICHMAN MOVIE NOW AT PALACE

One of Broadway's most brilliant personalities comes to the screen world for the first time in "Puttin' on the Ritz," the United Artists' all-dialogue musical extravaganza, which opens its local engagement today at the Palace.

That personality is Harry Richman. For three years the star of George White's "Scandals," Richman is celebrated in many ways.

"Puttin' on the Ritz" is an original story by John W. Considine Jr. The dialogue was written by William K. Wells, prominent playwright, who established himself among Hollywood's foremost dialogue writers with his work in "The Cock-Eyed World."

Considine's story, as a matter of fact, closely parallels Richman's own experiences in the world of the theater, although it was not written with the star's background in mind.

The plot traces the career of its principal character from an obscure vaudeville player to a musical comedy and night club favorite.

Into the picture has been woven the authentic atmosphere of small-time vaudeville, night clubs and backstage in the glittering New York musical revue—an atmosphere familiar to both writers of the story and the players in the picture.

James Gleason, noted as both stage star and playwright, plays a role of color and humor as the small-time vaudeville player, partner of the principal character.

Joan Bennett, in the leading feminine role, celebrates her fifth

1—Joe E. Brown as he appears in "Hold Everything" now at the Apollo.
2—Joan Bennett and Kenneth MacKenna as they appear in "Crazy That Way," which is the movie feature at the Lyric.
3—Lois Wilson has many a smile to offer in "Lovin' the Ladies," now at the Indiana.
4—Jean Arthur appears with Buddy Rogers in "Young Eagles," now at the Ohio.
5—Harry Richman has the lead in "Puttin' on the Ritz," which opens today at the Palace.
6—Jack Mulhall appears in "Murder Will Out," which is the feature at the Circle.

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 4.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, envious, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like; of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law" (Gal. 5:19, 21-23).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If man is not victorious over the passions, they crush out happiness, health and manhood. Here Christian Science is the sovereign panacea, giving strength to the weakness of mortal mind—strength from the immortal and omnipotent Mind—and lifting humanity above itself into purer desires, even into spiritual power and good-will to man."

'Dracula' Returns to City

Well-Known Mystery Play Opens at English's Thursday.

HORACE LIVERIGHT'S successful mystery play "Dracula," which was the outstanding dramatic success in New York the past season at the Fulton theater, is to be the attraction at English's, starting Thursday night for three days.

There have been mystery plays before, but never previously has there been such a unique play dealing with the supernatural, which makes "Dracula" a novel dramatic event.

The American dramatization was made by John Balderson from Bram Stoker's famous novel of the same name.

The book has been read by two generations of story readers and thrilled each one with the horror of its narrative, the mystery of its unfolding and the suspense of its climax.

Strange as it may seem those who have never read "Dracula," have never been able to forget it. So powerful is its effect on the emotions that the magic and thrill can never be completely erased from the mind. The play is now in its fourth year in England and playing to capacity houses.

Lonsdale Goes West
