

FRENCH NURSE PRAISES U. S. SCREEN ETHICS

League of Nations Expert
Boosts New Film Code of Americans.

BY MARTHA GELLHORN
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 13.—Mlle. Marie Chaplart, French nurse, whose critical report on morals in the United States, to the League of Nations, created wide interest, now admits that, after all, there is something good in America.

Mlle. Chaplart regrets that her report gained the notoriety it did, and she protested that she was misunderstood.

Mlle. Chaplart, as league commissioner for child welfare, now heartily indorses the new Will Hays code of ethics to regulate the morals of American films, a subject of importance since Hollywood supplies movies throughout the world.

"Moral Standards Should Rise"

"If the films hold on the code, the moral standards of the audience should be raised, for by its three principal points the films are not to show crime, wrong doing or sin, neither human nor natural law is to be ridiculed and finally lawbreakers will not be shown sympathetically, including breakers of the prohibition law," she said.

Mlle. Chaplart's recent report on child-welfare conditions in America had seemed to castigate America, which Mlle. Chaplart avers she had no intention of doing.

"Since I had gone to America to see what methods were used to save children from moral and social dangers, I was interested to see what these dangers were. In a great city like New York there, of course, are many."

"Women Police Remarkable"

"But I found the means of combating these evils extremely effective. The system of probation officers in America, well-trained and well-paid professional workers, is finer than any other arrangement of its kind in the world. The visiting teachers, whose splendid work is not even very well known to Americans, also are doing a brilliant piece of prevention."

"And the women police, whose organization—especially in the city of Detroit—is remarkable, add to the effectiveness of the child welfare program in America."

By United Press
GENEVA, May 13.—Report of Mlle. Marie Chaplart, whose investigation of child welfare in America led her to criticize moral conditions in the United States, will be issued as soon as she completes her investigations in six other countries.

Sixty pages of the original report, however, have been suppressed.

STATE IS SAFE FROM LOSS IN CLOSED BANK

Official Funds Protected by Bond of $125,000,
Richards Says.

State funds in the State Savings and Trust bank, now in receivership, are protected by a $125,000 bond, it was stated today by Frank Richards, assistant to Mrs. Grace Banta Reynolds, state treasurer.

There was $58,809.48 in the state account with the bank; $10,106.25 in the special account of Daley McCoy, state purchasing agent, and $899 in other special funds, Richards said.

Eben Wolcott, receiver, has assured depositors that assets of the bank will be liquidated and payments made with the least possible costs.

The State Savings and Trust bank was popular with numerous state-house employees and executives. Governor Harry G. Leslie admitted that he had all but $45 of his current personal funds on deposit there. The $45 was with a small bank at Battleground, he said.

Pinky Wolfard, one-time secretary to former Governor Ed Jackson and now a member of state tax board, formerly was vice-president of the institution, and has "more than forty shares of stock," according to his own statement.

Clarence Wyson, state insurance commissioner, was a director and holder of ten shares of stock. He voted, with others, to close and liquidate.

Alfred E. Hogston, state fire marshal, also was one of the leading statehouse depositors with the institution.

Luther F. Symons, state banking commissioner, declared that he personally had approved the bank's shifting of investments from farm loans to city real estate.

"The institution has large city holdings and may pay out well," Symons asserted.

Mr. Jack Singerman Tells How Cuticura Healed Son's Pimples.

"The trouble began on my boy's head. Pimples broke out all over it and there were a few on his face. The pimples scaled over and itched and burned so that he could not sleep either night or day. His hair was dry and lifeless and fell out some."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I purchased more and in about four weeks he was completely healed." (Signed) Jack Singerman, Jr., Lock Box 21, Midvale, Ohio, Sept. 5, 1929.
